US Alert For Move By Russia

Soviet Reshuffles Her Key Diplomats To Warn Of Start Of New Cold War

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—A reshuffle of Soviet diplomats involving key world capitals alerted the United States and other Western governments today for a possible major Russian political move in the cold war.

Most authorities centered their attention on the possibility of a supreme new effort by Moscow to split apart Britain and the U. S. and thereby destroy the Western unity which is the basis for defense against expanding Soviet power.

Belief that this may be the Soviet intention was shown in speculation here and abroad on two developments: (A) A kind of neutralism is developing in a powerful faction of the British Labor Party led by Aneurin Bevan, and (B) The most significant change in the new Russian assignments is the naming of Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko as ambassador to London.

Gromyko Ranks Third

Gromyko is described as the No. 3 man in the upper ranks of the Red leaders who control Soviet foreign policy. Above him have been former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, now a member of the Politburo and Deputy Prime Minister, and the present Foreign Minister, Andrei Vishinsky.

Experts on Russian affairs, however, said today that some authorities regard Gromyko as smarter and perhaps more powerful even than Vishinsky. In any case there appeared to be agreement on the conclusion that the men in the Kremlin have picked one of their most trusted and influential career diplomats for the London assignment. And his selection comes at a time when there are a number of apparent strains and stresses developing in the relations of the principal Western powers.

While speculating along this line, U. S. experts said that as usual the Soviets had given no clear indication of what they may be planning. They said any conclusions drawn now on the bais of assignment of new envoys to London, Washington, the German Communist government at Berlin, and the Red China capital of Peiping can at best be only tentative and subject to revision.

Soviet May Shift Policy

As an alternative to the theory of an immediate attack on Western unity, which has long been regarded by Western statesmen as a major aim of Soviet diplomacy, they mentioned the possibility that the Kremlin may be planning to seek a relaxation in world tensions and to that end may desire to put new faces on its diplomacy in each of the capitals concerned.

If a relaxing of current tension is the purpose, authorities said, it will be designed to serve the ultimate objective of dividing the West anyway, because the Soviet must be as aware as Western leaders that the free nations pull together most effectively when the threat of Russian aggression is greatest and the tend to pull apart when they face no common danger.

How the expected new Russian maneuver may affect the most critical areas of world conflict today—Germany and Korea—is a wide open guess.

Korea Is Logical Spot

But obviously if the Kremlin was intent on easing the world situation the Korean truce negotiations would be a logical place to make a move.

Germany, on the other hand, may be considered by the Soviets as the place where their strategy, if it is to work at all, must pay off. Blocking of the rearmament of Western Germany in alliance with the West is assumed here to be the major concern of present Soviet policy—and an objective which could only be achieved by wrecking the determination of the Western powers to go through with the European defense plans..

Contracts Let For 12 King Road Projects

Twelve King Bill Road projects contracts were let by the Pettis County Court the past week totaling an expenditure of county roads of $54,516. J. C. Orender, Sedalia, received the contract for all 12 contracts, being the low bidder.

Marvin Howard of the Howard Construction Co., had bid $58,-632 on the twelve projects. T and O Lime and Rock Co., bid on three projects, No.'s 5, 9 and 12, for $16,780. H. A. Harms bid on projects 11 and 15, a total of $8,-272.

In spite of the individual bids, Orender was low on all projects.

The projects include:

Project No. 2, six miles northwest of Green Ridge, 3.9 miles, $6,552.

Project No. 13, north of Bahner, three miles, $4,800.

Project No. 14, two miles west of La Monte, south of Highway 50, 3.8 miles, $7,9004.

Project No. 15, six miles east of Sedalia, 2.7 miles, $4,320.

Projects No. 3, 4, and 6, because of technicalities, were not advertised.

Truce Teams Return To Hopeless Session

MUNSAN, Sunday, June 15 (AP)—Korean truce teams return today to their unproductive sessions at Panmunjom—only because the Reds want to keep talking. The crisis was unchanged, but it was getting old.

Still tightly deadlocked on the prisoner exchange issue, the delegates meet at 11 a.m., 8 p.m. CST, Saturday.

Saturday's 27-minute meeting was marked only by a toning down of the propaganda remarks being incessantly repeated by North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate.

Local Rodeo Stunt Backfires On Tenderfoot Dunking Priddy

The next time Floyd Priddy picks out fellows to dunk for not getting in the Rodeo spirit and wearing western clothes he's going to pick a couple of dwarfs—not great big guys like Abe Silverman and Leonard Peabody—because the stunt backfired on him.

It was about 10:30 Saturday morning, the tank full of water was all set in front of the courthouse for the dunking. Floyd Priddy, Marvin Howard, George Lockett and Miles Graham stood about waiting for some victims to come along without clothes of the wild west—then came Silverman and Peabody. The two of them expected they would get the works but they didn't care—and they weren't disappointed.

The men in their cowboy suits grabbed Abie and Leonard, one at a time, and soaked them in the tank, as a boy in a cowboy hat and a young girl in western clothes, with their gun holsters strapped on them, gave atmosphere as they shot off their cap pistols, the girl with a pistol in each hand.

Two soaking wet men stood about grining as the crowd roared with laughter. Then the unexpected happened, at least unexpected to Floyd Priddy. The two big dripping men walked over, picked Priddy up and dumped him into the tank—his pretty cowboy outfit, his beautiful cowboy boots, his bright yellow cowboy hat and all.

A very surprised cowboy looked up from the tank—he managed to get up on the side but couldn't get out. "I'll help you out", said Silverman, and he walked over to the tank, picked Priddy up and dumped him back in again.

Priddy finally got out of the tank. The boys had spared him nothing—they didn't give him a chance to take off his wristwatch, but it didn't get too wet. And they didn't give him a chance to take his billfold out of his pocket. He couldn't even use his handkerchief, it was sopping wet, too.

Silverman and Peabody looked around at the other cowboys and they began to move back cautiously—all except Marvin Howard, who evidently felt he was big enough to hold his own—it takes a rugged man to be a real cowboy—and Howard looked the part. What he would have done if they had started toward him would probably have made a better story, but they left him alone.

Priddy managed to get off one boot and poured out the water—then he tried to get the other boot off, but it just wouldn't come. A couple of the fellows helped—they pulled and then some of them saw they weren't going to pull the boot off—they were going to pull Priddy off the car onto which he was trying desperately to hold. So some more of them grabbed Priddy and they pulled two ways—than off came the stubborn boot.

Marvin Howard suggested to Priddy they go somewhere—Priddy started to put on his boots—knew he couldn't and so, down Ohio he went in his bright green socks.

The crowd around thought it was a good show—but one woman was a little disturbed—the idea of dunking men in a tank of water without even letting them take their shoes off—said she—but it was all in fun—nobody got hurt—but three men sure got wet.

President Conserves His Time

Truman Attacks Ike In Dedication Talk Of The Atomic Sub

GROTON, Conn., June 14—(AP)—President Truman coupled the dedication of atomic energy to a golden future today with an attack on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a salesman of "cut-rate, bargain counter" national security.

Speaking at the laying of the keel of the nation's first atomic-powered submarine, Truman declared only Soviet Russia stands in the way of development of atomic energy to provide power for business, farms and homes everywhere.

He disclosed that a full-sized, working atomic engine—a self-contained power plant able to run almost indefinitely without refueling—is nearly complete. He described the development as putting the world on "the threshhold of a new age."

Then, obviously referring to Eisenhower, now an active candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, the President asserted:

Politics Cause Odd Things

"This is a political year and politics do funny things to people who are seeking office. Now the air is filled with promises to strengthen national security and to cut taxes all at the same time.

"I even heard the other day that somebody was talking about a 40 billion dollar tax cut. That would leave us with only about half enough money to support our armed forces even if we didn't spend a penny on anything else."

Although Truman didn't name Eisenhower directly, he clearly referred to a proposal which New York GOP delegates said Eisenhower advanced to them. Some said Eisenhower favored cutting the federal budget by 40 billion within two or three years. Others said he didn't say how long it would take.

Said Truman: "The difficulty is that the American people are getting all kinds of foolish advice from persons who ought to know better."

He said defense costs money and reminded the crowd estimated at 10,000 that he recently asked an additional three billions for expanding atomic energy work.

Arguments Are Dangerous

"I think the efforts that are being made to sell the American people on the idea that there is some cut-rate, bargain-counter route to national security are very dangerous," he said. At another point, he added:

"This passion for economy regardless of the consequences is raging in Congress. That is where the greatest danger lies, because the Congress can wreck our chances for world peace if it takes the wrong kind of action."

Truman spoke from an improvised platform in the south yard of the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corporation just before flashing a signal to crane men who lifted steel plates for the new submarine into place.

The President said an atomic engine of the type which will power the new craft, the Nautilus, has been built on dry land to Arco, Idaho, by the Navy and Atomic Energy Commission.

Car Wreck Bring Marriage

ALBUQUERQUE, June 14—(AP)—Two car accidents are resulting in marriage for Florence Smythe and Robert Calaway.

The couple was involved in a collision with another car on the wrong side of the street. Said Miss Smythe:

"I found out he loved me when he spent half an hour finding out if I were all right instead of jumping out to look at his damaged car."

Asking Bids For SAFB Air Field Work To Cost Millions

Bids Will Be Opened June 26 At District Office Of Corps Of Engineers; Other Bids To Be Asked Soon For Several Buildings

The Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, Kansas City, has issued invitations for bids on the construction of runways, taxiways and aprons at the Sedalia Air Force Base, Knob Noster, expected to amount to several million.

The announcement the invitations would be sent out was made several days ago. Bids are to be opened in the division office at Kansas City on June 26, according to Col. L. J. Lincoln of the Engineers, who is in charge of the Kansas City district.

The principal features of the work to be performed consist of construction of approximately 440,000 square yards of airfield pavement, either rigid or flexible, 266,000 square yards of flexible overlay pavement and 900,000 cubic yards of earth excavation. The work also involves drainage structures and appurtenances.

Tells Here Of Project

Recently Col. Lincoln, in a talk made to the Sedalia Lions Club and Chamber of Commerce, indicated the work on the above proposals would amount to several million dollars, the exact amount not being estimated.

This project alone is one of the largest to be made and is to be followed within a few days by other invitations of bids on housing construction, administration buildings, dormitories, supply buildings, etc.

Already the contract for the large hanger, which is to cost several million dollars, has been let and the steel to be used in this hanger is now being fabricated by a St. Louis firm. It was indicated bids for the concrete work, foundations, floors, etc., are to be let soon.

Equal To 84.5 Miles

It was pointed out that the amount of concrete anticipated in the contracts to be let is astounding. An example, it was said the runways would be 18 inches thick, and the amount of concrete for the runways would amount to enough for a 20-foot Missouri highway, eight inches thick, to be laid for 84.5 miles.

The 440,000 square yards amounts to that many tons of material.

A contractor familiar with this project said to handle such a project a contractor would have to have not less than three-fourths of a million dollars worth of equipment.

Ike Informs Detroit Fans He Won't Deal

DETROIT, June 14—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, scrapping his carefully prepared speech, told a cheering throng here tonight that he has made no deals for the GOP Presidential nomination and I have no political debts."

"I am strictly a no deal man," the general declared before a monster crowd which gave him a thunderous welcome as he entered the Olympia Stadium.

"I have heard of many deals," he said. "All of us have." Then he insisted that in his talks with delegates to the GOP National Convention and to others that he has made no political commitments so that things will be as he might want them to be in case of victory.

He went on to declare his belief that a change in the administration of the federal government "is absolutely mandatory."

Referring to corruption in government, the general told his responsive audience there are many ways to clean up corruption in government "and we can do it."

Then he added: "that applies to primaries . . . and that applies to my native state of Texas."

This was obviously a direct slam at the forces of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio who the Eisenhower supporters have accused of "stealing" GOP delegates in Texas.

McGranery Shakes-Up His Highest Echelons

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—Attorney General James P. McGranery shook up top echelons of the Justice Department today, announcing the resignations of three of his six assistant attorneys general.

All Presidential appointees, they are H. Graham Morison, in charge of the anti-trust division; Harold I. Baynton, head of the alien property office; and William A. Underhill, chief of the lands division.

A Senate committee has announced plans to investigate the alien property division. A House group already has held hearings involving the anti-trust department.

CIO Accuses Coalition Of Giving Labor The Ax

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—The CIO today accused Senate "Dixiegops" — Republicans and Southern Democrats—of kicking labor in the face and said "American labor will not soon forget."

"In passing the Byrd amendment," the CIO News said in an editorial, "The Senate's reactionary Republican-Dixiecrat coalition went out of its way to kick American labor in the face."

The Byrd amendment, offered by Sen. Byrd (D-Va), requested President Truman to end the crippling nationwide steel strike, now in its 13th day, with an 80-day no-strike court order under the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Ike Plans To Fight Own Way

General Ignores Advisor's Texts In Detroit Talks

DETROIT, June 14—(AP)—A general who won't hold still for the accepted routine of political campaigning disarmed Detroit today in the best traditions of Gen. "Mad Anthony" Wayne.

As Wayne threw off the British york on Detroit in 1796, Gen. Dwight D. Eisonhower tossed the professional politicians overboard for two speeches in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Almost casually, the general announced at a breakfast rally that he would speak off the cuff at a city hall appearance at noon and in a major political speech tonight. The reaction seemed highly favorable.

He Serves Sharp Notice

While his aides were confident the Presidential candidate will step back in the politcal harness by preparing advance texts of future pre-convention speeches, they had sharp notice texts of future pre-convention speeches, they had sharp notice that Eisonhower intends to say his say in his own words.

It was an alternately smiling and solemn general turned civilian—perhaps a little bewildered by all the fuss being made over him—who confessed to being only "A simple fellow" who finds it quite a chore to stand up before a microphone and read a speech.

But under a broiling midday sun in Detroit's Cadillac Square the general proved himself no amateur at calling up the words when he is on his own. In the best Flag Day tradition, he preached a sermon to Americans on Americanism.

The crowd possibly was reduced in size by the lure of television. But the police estimated 40,000 stood by . They loved it, especially when the general dramatically asked spectators to join him in repeating the oath to the flag.

Almost prophetically, the big bell in the city hall tolled out the hour of noon, drowning out his words as Eisenhower declared that if Americans avoid dissention at home they need not fear Communism threats.

In a tan summer suit and carrying a straw hat, Eisenhower flashed his famous grin at all comers as he rod from one affair to another. "I Like Ike" buttons and banners greeted him from every side.

Labor's Attitude Frosty

Despite the heat of the day, however, there was a noticeable frostiness on the part of labor leaders who are reportedly angry with the candidate for saying that if he had been President he would have invoked the Taft-Hartley Act in the steel strike.

Automotive chieftains were out in full force. Henry Ford, Harolow Curtice, executive vice president of General Motors and L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler, all were present for one rally.

Republican politicians stumbled over each other's heels to get close to him. A pretty girl told everybody she saw that the general actually had smiled at her and returned her wave.

There was no doubt that the man on the street didn't need to see a uniform to be impressed with what he saw.

Grain Market Shows No Definite Trend; Rye Rallies Slightly

CHICAGO, June 14—(AP)—Except for a slight flash of life in rye, grains slept through a summer Saturday on the Board of Trade today with few price changes.

Rye was bought on disturbing reports concerning crops in the nortwest. Soybeans also firmed a little. Wheat was firm early, but dropped below the previous close later in view of expected favorable week-end weather for harvesting.

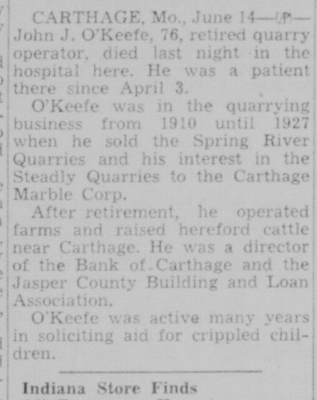

Wheat closed ¼ to ⅝ cent lower, corn ¾ cent lower to ¼ cent higher, oats unchanged to ¼ cent lower, rye 1 to 2 cents higher and soybeans ¼ to 1½ cent higher.

For the week wheat was ⅛ to ⅞ cent lower, corn 2⅜ to 3½ cent higher, oats 2⅞ to 3¾ cent higher, rye 1½ to 3 cents higher and soybeans ¾ cent lower to 2¾ cent higher.

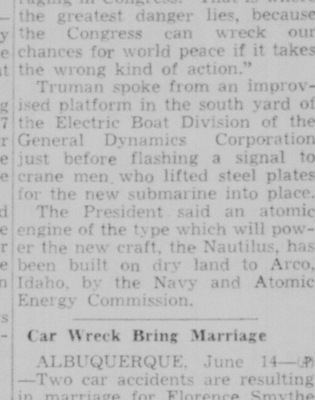

Although wheat sold off during the week, prices remained above the seasonal lows established in the previous week. Harvesting of the very big winter wheat crop proceeded rapidly with about half of the receipts at terminals being offered for sale.

Three Europeans Visit Morgan County To Study Farming

Edouard Gueyrand

Miss Maria Van Parys

Firmin Huysentruit

Since the Second World War there have been numerous exchange plans among the United States and the European powers to promote peace and an understanding both of the cultures and the ways of life.

There have been exchange students at various colleges and universities, exchange economists and exchange farm attendants. Recently three people from Europe, a man and woman from Belgium and a man from France, have arrived in Morgan County where they have been placed on various farms to learn modern farm methods and the American way of life.

From Deerliik, Belgium, Firmin Eugene Huysentruit has arrived at the Leo J. Smith farm in Otterville, where he will study the modern machinery on the farm so as to be able to spread his knowledge in Europe by lecturing.

Firmin, who is 26, speaks and understands a little English, but mainly speaks Flemish, which is similar to Dutch. He is self educated as an assistant accountant and agricultural mechanic; he is a member of the Belgian Farmer's Union, Farmer's Youth Society, Local Group movement, tobacco syndicate and the cattle and poultry society. In Belgium he did general farming and nursery and horticulture work, more particularly the cultivation of tobacco and vegetables and the raising of pigs and poultry.

At the Smith farm, Firmin will be doing general farm work while associating closely with the Smith family. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Smith there is one son, Jack, who also lives on the farm. Since Firmin arrived at the Smith farm Thursday, June 5, he has been very impressed with the methods of farming and the way of life.

From Aarsele, Belgium, Miss Maria Elodie Alice Van Parys, has arrived at the Otto Kraxberger home in Stover, where she will participate actively in home demonstrations and American homemaking so as to relate her knowledge to the Belgium people in the form of documentary releases.

Maria, who is 29, understands English perfectly and speaks it quite fluently. She has a secondary education in agricultural domestic science. Maria is a member of the Young Woman's Farmer Union. She has lived on a farm, where she cooked and washed and ironed for 12 people, cared for the poultry and worked on the land in the busy season.

Maria arrived at the Kraxberger home Thursday, June 5, but as yet she hasn't formed an opinion of America. She will remain at the farm for three months after which she will spend six weeks at the University of Minnesota.

Mrs. Kraxberger said that the girl fit into their homelife fine and that she got along very well with her 16 year old daughter.

On her home in Belgium Maria's parents had general farm crops, hogs, milk cows, beef cattle and horses. She said that the climate was different, it is much cooler, but the crops and the farming are much the same.

Maria will return to Belgium on November 25.

From France, Edouard Gueyrand has arrived at the Roy Gerbers farm, east of Glenstead, where he will study the farming methods in America and more particularly the dairy methods.

Edouard has studied the English language, but he finds that studying it and speaking it are two different matters. However, he is learning fast. He spent last year on a dairy farm in Switzerland where he helped in all the general farm work.

His plans for the future include a year of work as a temporary farm manager of a general farm in France. Later he hopes to go to Africa to act as the manager of a large general type farm with emphasis on horticulture. Finally Edouard hopes to return to France to operate a large dairy farm of his own which he hopes to stock with 100 milk cows.

Edouard arrived at the Gerbers farm on Thursday and he is very pleased with the American people whom he finds are very kind.

On the Gerbers farm besides Mr. and Mrs. Gerbers are their daughters, Barbara, 17 and Janet 12; and a son, Melvin 4. Mrs. Gerbers said that Edourd seemed to fit into the family very well and that already he feels at home.

After leaving the United States he plans to take some more training in Switzerland and then he hopes to head a citrus fruit farm in Africa.

The three traveled together from their homes in Europe to New York, where they spent four days sight - seeing and from there they went for a two day sight - seeing tour of Washington, D. C. After leaving Washington they came to Columbia and stayed four days while they were given instructions at Missouri University about their work this summer.

The group was met at Columbia by Bob Stockton, Morgan County Extension Agent, who took them to the various homes where they were to stay. Before returning home, all three of the farm attendants will take an instructive course at an American university for several weeks.

In exchange for these students several American youths have gone to Europe to learn the European way of farming and to compare the ways of life.

One of these exchange farm attendants is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gerbers, Donald Francis Gerbers, 20 years of age, who is now in Switzerland.

Donald will be there three months where he will study Swiss farming methods.

First Atomic Sub Begins Taking Shape

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—What the United States hopes will be the world's first atomic-engined submarine — The Nautilus — began taking shape today with the ceremonial welding together of some ordinary-looking steel plates.

President Truman journeyed up from the capital for an address to mark the beginning of a new era in the age-old history of warships.

Formerly, this would have been a keel-laying ceremony but shipbuilding technique and designs have changed.

A submarine now has no keel to lay. And a great deal of work already has been done toward designing the hull, gathering together and fabricating material and starting work on a land-based experimental nuclear engine like that which will drive the new submarine Nautilus when she starts her first trial run sometime in 1954.

The Navy assigned the job of building the hull of the radically new boat to a company which has been building submarines for more than half a century. Now called the General Dynamics Corporation, the original company launched the first successful submarine, the Holland (named after John P. Holland, its designer) in 1896.

The Nautilus, when completed, is expected to be the first of its kind in the world. But there has been speculation that Russia, already believed to have the world's largest submarine fleet, may be experimenting along similar lines.

At below-snorkel depth, today's submarine must cut off its powerful diesel engines and rely on electric motors driven from batteries. They can stay down only a matter of hours and their speed is limited.

The solution to the problem has come in atomic energy. So far, science has not discovered a way to apply directly the tremendous energy of nuclear fission. So it is being hooked to one of the oldest forms of motive power, steam.

A nuclear reactor (an atomic furnace) produces heat which generates steam just as does a fuel oil or coal fire. The steam spins a turbine and the turbine, through reduction gears, is linked to the propeller shafts.

Fission of one pound of uranium releases energy equal to the combustion of 2,600,000 tons of coal or the equivalent in fuel oil.

Thus, an atomic-powered submarine will have not only vastly greater power than any present submersible but its cruising range will be virtually unlimited.

Equally important, the atomic-engine can be used while the craft is submerged. It uses no air for combustion. The atomic submarine can take all its huge power below the surface and travel, deep down, at speeds perhaps as great as 35 knots—far faster than the 16 or 18 knots of even the best of today's submersibles.

In addition to its huge advantage in unlimited cruising range and in speed, the atomic submarine will have other military advantageous features:

Its steam turbine will produce noise considerably less detectable than the noise created by diesel engines in the snorkel submarine and will be harder to pick up on the listening gear of anti-submarine craft.

TWO SETS OF TWINS: A three-year-old Hereford cow has given birth to two sets of calves in ten months. The first set was born in July 1951 and in May 1952 the second set was born. The cow was bought in 1949 when she was just a calf by Mrs. M. P. Shy and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Fisher, and is on the farm owned by Mrs. Shy, where the Fishers reside and farm on the shares. It is located six miles northeast of LaMonte.

Defend Steel Industry Stand On Union Shop

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Irving S. Olds, retired board chairman of U. S. Steel Corporation, today defended the stand of the nation's steel industries in opposing compulsory union membership of their employes.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the commencement exercises of Drexel institute of Technology which conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, Olds attacked the CIO United Steelworkers.

The union led by Philip Murray has called 650,000 men out on strike to support its demands for a new contract. The demands insteelworkers would be required to belong to the union. The Wage Stabilization Board made such a recommendation several weeks ago in an effort to settle the dispute which now has resulted in a strike.

Olds declared "the price which the union demands for peace and production in the steel industry is the surrender of freedom—the freedom of our workers to join or not to join a labor organization" he added:

"Already the steel companies have been forced to accept the union shop contract in their coal mines and on many of their railroads; but if they surrender now to the union on this issue, freedom of association will no longer exist anywhere in the steel industry."

Olds declared he believes that among all of our constitutional rights "none is more sacred to Americans generally than the freedom to join with their like-minded fellow citizens for any lawful purpose or their right to abstain from assisting in any organization whose aims and purposes do not command their sympathy."

It is believed that the Eskimos lived north of Lake Superior about 2,000 years ago and moved north from there.

Now He Picks Ten Worst Scenes He Can Remember

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lately we have been kicking around some ideas of the best scenes of movie history. So we might as well do the reverse and pick the 10 worst scenes.

This is the equivalent of an Ike man putting his head in a Taft caucus. It can mean nothing but trouble for me, since I will doubtless pick scenes which many film fans remember fondly. But we must have fearless column-writing.

Here are my selections:

1. The Victor Mature-Hedy Lamarr love scene in "Samson and Delilah," wherein she gave him a clip job. Neither of them semed much interested in each other, much less passionate. The big haircut had little more power than any other barber shop scene.

2. Helen Hayes' breakdown in "My Son John." Her "mad scene" was one of the most uncomfortable I have witnessed. It showed how even one of the great actresses, as she certainly is, can go awry with the wrong material.

3. Jose Ferrer's death scene in "Cyrano de Bergerac." It was but I thought he would never expire. Ferrer seemed to be hopefully eying the academy committee through-out.

4. The trial scene in "Joan of Arc." Maybe I was just getting a little tired by then, but the trial went on so long I was afraid there would be a hung jury.

5. The love sequence between Jim Davis and Bette Davis in "Winter Meeting." It was supposed to be torrid romance. But it came out with all the excitement of a faculty tea at a girls' college.

6. The circus scene in "Quo Vadis." The sight of the lions' lunching on the Christians was neither entertaining nor appetizing.

7. The Gregorys Peck - Jennifer Jones death scene in "Duel in the Sun." Somehow I could never believe that such a handsome pair would take potshots at each other on a mountainside.

8. The scene of Clark Gable and Greer Garson's running through a cornfield in "Adventure." The scene had no particular relation to the picture, which had no particular relation to anything.

9. Claudette Colbert's plunge into the mud for "The Egg and I." Slapstick is okay when it has a reason. But there was no reason there, except to destroy Miss Colbert's dignity.

10. Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn exchanging endearments under the courtroom table in "Adam's Rib." They're too mature for that sort of thing.

Well, there are my selections. How about yours?

Low Rubber Price

SINGAPORE (AP) — The Malayan rubber price is likely to remain at its present low level owing to completion of United States stockpiling, in the opinion of Dr. W. E. Cake, president of Malayan - American Plantations, Ltd. The present price averages 30 cents a pound.

Rubber producers in this part of the world will now have to operate carefully and economically in order to pull through the period of low prices, he said.

Arkansas' Delegates To Demo Unpledged

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas' delegation to the Democratic National Convention will go to Chicago pledged to Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) as a "favorite son" candidate. But the 32 delegates are divided on their second choice for the party's presidential nominee.

The state Democratic committee yesterday elected the delegates, who will have a total voting strength of 22 votes.

An Associated Press poll of the delegation reached 26 of the delegates. Seven said they favored Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, and eight said they liked Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.)

One delegate said he would support W. Averell Harriman and another was for Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okla). The other nine delegates who could be reached refused to give a preference.

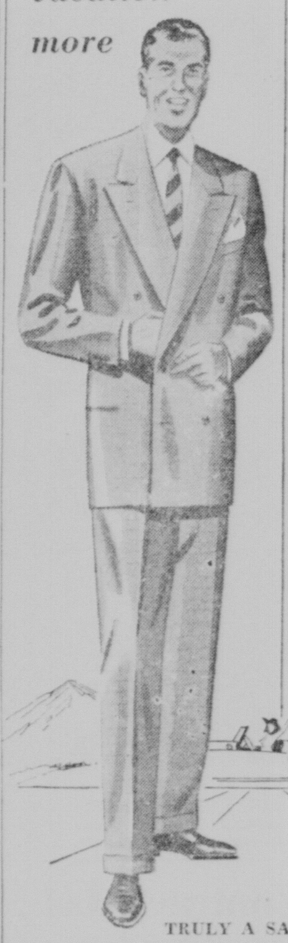

The committee did not bind the delegation to the unit or bloc voting rule, and the result is that it might be split when the delegates drop Fulbright's candidacy.

MORE TRUCK FOR THE MONEY
when you buy on the plain hard facts!

Fact No. 1
Model for model—costs less
Stack up a Chevrolet truck against any other truck with comparable specifications, capable of handling the same payloads. You'll find the Chevrolet truck lists for less and brings you great features.

Fact No. 2
Mile after mile at rock bottom cost
Truck users everywhere have proved to their own satisfaction that Chevrolet costs the least of all to own and maintain. Valve-in-Head economy, in the Loadmaster or Thriftmaster engines, saves on gas.

Fact No. 3
Right truck for the job saves money
Chevrolet trucks are factory-matched to your payload requirements. You don't waste money by buying "too much truck"—you don't risk work interruption or slow-downs by buying "too little truck."

Fact No. 4
Lower, slower depreciation
Records show that Chevrolet trucks traditionally bring more at resale than any other make which costs about the same new. The market value of Chevrolet trucks stays up because the value stays in.

There's a Chevrolet truck that will do just that. It lists for less money than any other truck with comparable specifications. It saves on operation and upkeep. It's factory-matched to your job—frame, tires, axles, springs, engine, transmission, brakes. And traditionally, it keeps its value longer, trades in higher, than many other trucks costing more. These are the plain hard facts of truck buying. They are the down-to-earth reasons why, year after year, more truck users buy Chevrolet trucks than any other make.

More than two and a half million users are proving that it makes sense, and saves dollars, to haul and deliver with Chevrolet trucks. Come in and discuss your truck needs with us.

Telephone man on the way up

THERE'S ALWAYS ROOM AT THE TOP IN THE "UP FROM THE RANKS" TELEPHONE BUSINESS

"CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR PROMOTION"—familiar words in the telephone business. Many times, men and women have started at the bottom and reached important, responsible positions in telephone work. That's the kind of employer the telephone company is—a firm believer in promotions and advancement from within its own ranks.

THIS "UP FROM THE RANKS" PHILOSOPHY is of direct benefit to every telephone user. It helps attract and hold the many capable people we need to furnish good telephone service. It helps create a "spirit of service"—one of the biggest reasons we're able to keep your telephone service expanding and growing in value.

A TELEPHONE CAREER is many things. It's security. It's pleasant, friendly people to work with. It's a chance to get ahead. And while no one has ever made a fortune in the telephone business, it's good pay and interesting work. But above all, telephone people are your friends and neighbors, doing an important job for the community—proud that their efforts provide you with telephone service equal to the world's best.

At Least Two Jap Generations Before Know Full Atom Effect

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two American scientists, arriving here last night from Japan, said "it will be at least two generations before we know the full effects of the Hiroshima atom bomb burst on human beings."

They were Dr. Warmer Wells of Duke University and Dr. Paul Carson of the Brookhaven National Laboratory, returning after two years work with the atomic bomb casualty commission at Hiroshima.

"Some basic changes in tissue structures are evident (in the victims of the Hiroshima blast)", Dr. Wells said. "Some possible bone and bone formation changes also appear, but that's about as far as firm evidence goes."

"Moreover," he added, "so far as genetic and hereditary traits being affected by exposure to radio-active elements are concerned, we'll have to wait for at least 50 years before we can know definitely what the results are."

Forest Laboratory Set Up

FREDERICTON, N. B. (AP) — A new $600,000 forest biology laboratory is being constructed at the University of New Brunswick to help the fight against forest diseases. It is estimated insects and plant disease cost about 500 million cubic feet of timber each year in Canada.

Firetruck Chase Leads Home

SINGAPORE, (AP) — A man passed a fire engine going in the opposite direction while he was driving in downtown Singapore.

Quickly, he made a U-turn and gave chase. For two miles, he grinned at the firemen ahead of him and they cheerfully waved back at him. The fire engine turned into a suburban road and stopped in front of a new bungalow.

The man's grin vanished. The bungalow was his.

When Aztec corn crops were growing, human beings were sacrificed periodically in the belief that the sacrifices stimulated the development of the crop.

British Say Radio Man Gave Secrets

LONDON (AP)—William Martin, a 24-year-old radio operator in t he British Foreign Office, was formally charged today with passing state secrets to the Soviet Union.

After a first hearing in a magistrate's court, Marshall was ordered held in prison without bail. He did not enter a plea at the first hearing. When he was charged earlier at Wandsworth police station, however, he said, "I deny the c h a r g e." Magistrate Clyde T. Wilson ordered Marshall's next hearing in a week, at which time he would be expected to plead.

Scotland Y a r d anti-espionage agents arrested the slight, fresh-faced youth, who looks like a high school senior, in a London park last night.

Marshall, formerly a radio operator in the British embassy in Moscow, specifically was accused of violating Britain's Official Secrets Act by tipping information on "diverse dates and at diverse places" to Pavel Kuznetsov, second secretary of the Soviet Embassy in London. The charge said the information would be useful to the enemy.

Chief Inspector William Hughes told the magistrate Marshall was arrested while strolling in King George's Park with "another person," who was not identifed. The Foreign Office refused to confirm or deny a report that this second man was Kuznetsov and that he had claimed diplomatic immunity. The Soviet Embassy did not comment.

A Foreign Office spokesman declined to say immediately whether Britain would ask Moscow to call Kuznetsov home. He said the government would take no action which would prejudice a jury in Marshall's case.

Asked whether Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin had been informed of the case, the spokesman said: "I don't think so." Zarubin, who was ambassador in Canada when a Soviet spy ring was broken there in 1956, has just been reassigned to Washington. He was absolved of any part n the Canadian ring's activities by a Canadian investigating commission.

Conviction under the Official Secrets Act carried a maximum penalty of 14 years, imprisonment. That is the sentence now being served by Klaus Fuchs, convicted of giving vital atomic secrets to the Russians while working as one of Britain's top atomic specialists.

Marshall's job at $1,120 a year salary—was to send coded or plain messages from the Foreign Office to British embassies around the world. The Foreign Office spokesman said the fact he sent coded messages did not necessarily mean that he had access to official codes, that most messages already were coded when handed to an operator

The Rockport Democrat recently published a letter from Jesse L. Garrett, 49, who now lives at Scott Depot, W. Va., He outlined the qualifications for a woman to mother his two sons. He was divorced recently.

Since publishing the letter the weekly newspaper has received 45 letters, three telephone calls and one telegram for the wife-hunter.

Waiting Room Is Debate Scene Sundays for a Unique Forum

COLOGNE, GERMANY — (AP) — Every Wednesday the third class waiting room of the bustling main rail station here is packed to suffocation with a colorful collection of booklovers, artists, musicians and students.

This unique forum was started 2½ years ago by the owner of the station's bookstalls, Gerhard Ludwig.

Now it is one of the cultural events of this cathedral city. It attracts writers and composers from all over Germany and sometimes visiting foreign celebrities, like Hollywood's Peter Lorre, drop in.

The tiny waiting room, deep under the main departure platform, holds less than a hundred persons. Most weeks there is an overflow of people craning their necks around the door.

Ludwig prefers it that way. "I could fill the biggest halls in Cologne," he says. "But this way we keep up interest and maintain a higher level of debate. I don't want to start mass meetings."

Why did he begin this forum? He's quite frank about it — "to sell more books," he says. "That's my business and I decided that the way to make people buy books was to make them talk about them."

"The results have been very good. I've had over 2,000 press notices and a number of radio broadcasts."

Its something of an ordeal for a visiting speaker. The debate is a free-for-all, mental bout.

Ludwig presents the debate topic —press freedom, opera versus ballet, is author so-and-so right? The visiting speaker makes the opening speech. Then he tries to defend his views against a barrage of counter-argument hurled from all sides.

An astute man will gain breathing — and thinking — space by setting off one section of the audience against the other. Occasionally Ludwig raps the table and intervenes to bring the argument back to the subject in hand. Sometimes the sessions are broadcast.

In July the forum will get in one of the trains that puff and rattle over their heads for a trip to Hamburg. The federal railways have given them a special coach at reduced fares. In Hamburg a debate is to be held on the station there.

Soviet Breaks Relations With Venezuelans

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia announced today that she has broken off diplomatic relations with Venezuela.

A Soviet government statement published in all newspapers here said Russian diplomatic personnel in Caracas have been recalled.

Venezuelan C h a r g e d'Affaires Luis Carrasqueros has been ordered to leave Russia.

The statement said that Venezuelan authorities arrested a Soviet Embassy employe and his wife when they arrived in Caracas recently and expelled them from the country despite the protest of the Soviet charge d'affaires L. V. Krylov.

Caracas officials gave the following version of the incident that led to the rupture.

Two Russians, Nikolai Yagouschev and his wife, Alexandra, arThey claimed to be domestic servants at the Soviet Embassy but their special passports listed them as couriers.

While the two Russians were in the hands of the National Security Police, Krylov and Soviet press attache Mihail Abialiev tried forcibly to get past the guards to reach them.

False Label, Truman Says Of S.S. Plan

The bill was defeated May 19 although it won majority approval. The vote lacked the two-thirds required for passage under the parliamentary situation.

The President's plea for approval of the measure and his condemnation of Republicans was contained in a letter he wrote to Mrs. Elizabeth Cochrane of Rochester, N. Y., which the White House made public yesterday.

The letter was in reply to one by Mrs. Cochrane in which she commented on "the inadequacy of old age and survivors' insurance payments under existing social security statues." Mrs. Cochrane, a registered nurse, said she wrote as a private citizen.

Truman agreed with her that "the present insurance payments of the social security law are just plain inadequate, and in all fairness to the many aged people who depend on these payments for their existence they must be raised as quickly as possible."

The bill before Congress would increase payments about $5 a month for all persons now drawing retirement from the old age and survivors' insurance program. It also would provide $5 more a month for those who retire in the future.

Republicans objected to a provision in the bill which would permit Federal Security administrator Oscar Ewing to specify the rules for examining persons who claim total and permanent disability. The Republicans said this would open the way for socialized medicine, a charge also made by the American Medical Association (AMA).

The administration argued that if family physicians examined persons might be overly lenient, causing a big drain on social security funds.

The disputed provision has been revised since last month's vote and Democratic sponsors say the Republicans should have no further objections.

Mrs. Cochrane said she believes elderly persons should receive more than $40 "in these days when there are strikes for higher wages."

SMU Owns Old Car

It was given to SMU by a whimsical alumnus in 1950 and has been parked on fraternity row ever since. The idea of the donor was that the engine be used in laboratory displays.

"We'll have to get some special equipment before we can tear that engine out," says Prof. Charles A. Besio of the SMU mechanical engineering department. "It's a 6-cylinder, air-cooled engine and still runs fine. But it weighs four times as much as most auto engines today."

Garden Clubs Flower Arrangement Social at First Methodist Church

Mrs. L. H. Hodges, president of the Garden Club Council, and the presidents of the nine Garden Clubs, Mrs. W. B. Rich, Garden Club No. 1, Mrs. C. H. Joy, Garden Club No. 2, Mrs. Thomas W. Croxton, Garden Club No. 3; Mrs. R. C. Smallwood, Garden Club No. 4; Mrs. W. J. Frost, Garden Club No. 5; Mrs. J. W. Atkinson, Garden Club No. 6; Mrs. S. W. James, Garden Club No. 7; Mrs. G. W. Walk, Garden Club No. 8, and Mrs. Kenneth Weinrich, Garden Club No. 9, welcomed the guests in a receiving line which was at the door. Mrs. B. E. Heacock presided at the guest book.

In the front of the room was a tea table covered with a linen and lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of red roses and white flowers in a crystal bowl. Lighted white tapers were in three-branch candelabra on either side.

Mrs. J. W. Boger, chairman of the social committee, and members of her committee served refreshments after which Mrs. Hodges opened the meeting and told of her appreciation for the cooperation of the nine clubs in the success of the plant sale, the flower show and other activities of the combined clubs.

Invocation was given by Mrs. Roy L. Bowers.

The program chairman for the afternoon was Mrs. Roy Gerster, who introduced Mrs. E. F. Yancey. Mrs. Yancey presented Miss Marian Smith and Mrs. Edythe Ross in a musical program carrying out the theme of flowers.

For the first number Miss Smith, violinist, and Mrs. Ross at the piano, played "To a Wild Rose" and Miss Smith told the story of how Mac Dowell, a prolific composer, would write pieces and if they did not suit him he would throw them in the waste basket. His wife had formed a habit of looking over over what he threw away and when she found this piece she told him this was a beautiful piece. "But I don't know what to call it," he said, "unless I call it 'To a Wild Rose'," and so that was what they named it.

For their second number Miss Smith and Mrs. Ross played "An Irish Melody" which had an apple blossom setting.

Mrs. Ross then played two piano selections, "Narcissis" and "Lilac Bush," the latter by McNair Ilgenfritz, former Sedalian who wrote it around the words of a poem found somewhere by Mrs. Alice Crawford.

Mrs. Gerster then introduced Mrs. K. G. Borne', who gave the first demonstration of flower arrangement. Mrs. Börne' used a very shallow container for flower hydrengas, Hills of Snow, because she said it was so hot she believed the thought of snow might have a cooling effect. The arrangement with the hydrenga flowers and leaves was very striking and for a background she used the top from an old oil drum which she had painted green. Mrs. Borne' is also program chairman of her club.

For Club No. 3, of which Mrs. R. L. Wiske is program chairman, Mrs. Wilford Acker gave the demonstration. Mrs. Acker stated there are nine or more principles in flower arrangement, one of which is unity. A way of creating unity, she said, is through dominance, one hue, one hue and she used unity and contrast. She placed in her container canna leaves, flat, smooth and shiny, sumac, feathery and flimsy, and garden peas, flat, smooth but with thickness, the garden peas were in a cluster. The unity was in the hue, green, and the contrast in the variety of materials used.

From Club No. 9, of which Mrs. T. F. Gray is chairman, was the girl who stole the show, Mrs. J. W. Maunders. Garden Club 9, the last to be organized and with members all young in years, Mrs. Maunders announced that it was her first time at flower arrangement demonstration and as she worked she talked in such a humorous way for simple facts about what she was doing that she kept her audience laughing the entire time. When she was finished she had a lovely arrangement of pink lythrum and purple petunias in crescent design which she declared she made the way the book said.

Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, of Club No. 2, of which Mrs. Ray Lippard is program chairman, gave the demonstration for her club and is skilled in her work. She had already started the arrangement of roses, daisies and corn flowers and asked if anyone could tell her what was wrong with it. An arrangement, she said, should be heads, spikes and sprays but this was all heads. Then she added tall slim iris leaves and buds at the back of it to show the difference of the effect.

Club No. 7, of which Mrs. Fred Brummet is program chairman, had Mrs. Linden L. Jones to make the arrangement. Mrs. Jones had a white container and she likes her container off-white so she puts a bit a color on it with cake coloring or crayon. She put gypsolia or baby breath in first for this gives unity but by putting it in first it does not dominate the arrangement, Mrs. Jones said. Then she put in iris leaves at the back, then madonna lilies and at the lower part in front the ismene lilies. For her touch of color she added dahlias of American Beauty shade.

Mrs. E. W. Rucker and Mrs. J. W. Atkinson from Club No. 6, of which Mrs. Joe Williams is chairman, brought a very attractive arrangement already made of larkspur but when they tried to make the arrangement of lilies for the demonstration they found that neither the suction holder they were trying to use nor the lilies wanted to cooperate and in desperation they gave up their time for the demonstration and worked on the lilies in another room, coming back later with a very artistic arrangement.

Mrs. Ida Harriman, who demonstrated for Club No. 4, of which Mrs. H. J. Holst is program chairman, displayed several lovely miniature bouquets and then fixed a tiny arrangement three inches high of a little china watering can and wee pink rosebuds. These, Mrs. Harriman said, make nice favors for parties at very small cost.

Mrs. F. I. Lawrence, demonstrated for Club No. 5, of which Mrs. J. H. Brunkhorst is program chairman. Mrs. Lawrence, dressed in a green dress, matching hat with a container of the same shade began to make her arrangement of green leaves and day lilies. "Did you," asked someone, "get the bowl to match your dress or the dress to match the bowl?" to which Mrs. Lawrence replied that she didn't do either, it just happened that way. Mrs. Lawrence said she liked to use a bowl of copper, brass or pottery with lilies. The arrangement, which she described as a right angle, was very unusual and pretty—but the day lilies that go to sleep early had already started to get sleepy and she had to hunt around for those still wide awake. To the arrangement she added a green and gold Texas colt.

Club No. 8, of which Mrs. James Ryan is program chairman, was represented by Mrs. John Loague and Mrs. Lawrence Dailey, who had their arrangement already made because they were last on the program and felt people were getting hot and tired. We found, said Mrs Loague, we do not need a lot of flowers for an arrangement, and so they chose canna leaves, begonia leaves and lilies, all with a touch of the same bronze color and made a beautiful triangle arrangement.

Mrs. P. L. Strole made an announcement of a rummage sale and plant sale to be held later by the Past Presidents Club to provide money for the beautification of State Fair Boulevard.

Golden Rule Class Entertains at Party

Members of the Golden Rule Sunday school class of the First Methodist Church entertained members of the Philathea Class at the meeting Thursday afternoon at the church.

The dining room was attractively decorated with garden flowers. The Rev. Roy Bower led in prayer and Mrs. C. W. Chappell gave the welcoming address. The devotional was given by Mrs. Guy Berry, followed by a reading by Mrs. Chappell.

Mrs. A. L. Walter showed colored pictures of her recent trip to Central America and explained them in a very interesting manner.

Refreshments were served by the committee.

Miss Hurlbut Flying Back To Africa

Miss Mary Willard Hurlbut of Sedalia, Congregational Christian educator among the Ovimbundu or West Africa, under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, is flying back to her work Monday, June 16, by Pan American airlines from New York.

Miss Hurlbut has charge of the educational work in the whole American Board mission area which includes some 237 village schools, nine regional schools and the Pierce Memorial School at Elende. On her last furlough, people in the Congregational Christian churches of America gave her a jeep which has been a great help in covering the wide area under her care.

Since Miss Hurlbut has to teach in Portuguese, the official tongue in Africa, converse informally in Umbundu, the native tongue, and is an American and well equipped in her own mother tongue, she is really "tri-lingual."

"The school work is growing and in many villages, the people are building adobe schools and dormitories as well as houses for the teachers. There are always more children wanting an education than can be taken in," says Miss Hurlbut.

There is such a great demand for books, especially the Bible, that it is difficult to keep enough on hand. At regional church meetings held from 50 to 100 miles from the American Board mission headquarters, boxes of books are sent but there are never enough to meet the demand. Some of the people come from 3 to 5 days journey on foot to buy the book for which they have been saving up their money.

Born in Omaha, Neb., Miss Hurlbut was educated at Knox College and has her M.A. from Teachers College, Columbia niversity. She taught in the USA before going to Africa and was in government work in Washington for four years.

Refreshments were served.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William L. Reed, Sedalia; Mrs. C. A. Larsen, South San Gavriel, Calif.; Mrs. E. C. Wright, La Monte, and Mrs. Mary Lyle of Warrensburg.

Royal Neighbors District Meeting Held at LaMonte

The Royal Neighbors of LaMonte entertained the convention for the county district at the LoMonte High School May 29.

The county officers and the state supervisor, Lucy M. Dray, Chillicothe, were introduced by the acting marshal.

The address of welcome was given by Ruth Burke. Camps participating in the school of instruction were from Holden, Knob Noster, Warrensburg. The explification of the graces, ballet box drill and presentation of the flag were exemplified.

The evening session started at 8 o'clock and the county officers were introduced and welcomed by the state supervisor. The Girl Scouts gave a puppet show entitled "The Frog and the Prince." Jane Kay Burke of Springfield did a ballet dance.

"Most-Wanted" of Them All!

It will probably occasion no surprise on your part to be told that the Cadillac car is the most wanted and sought-after automobile on the American highways.

But you might be surprised to learn how widespread the desire to own this great motor car has become during recent years.

Statistics indicate, for instance, that there are more than twenty million motorists in America who would like to call a Cadillac their own. And were the whole of the world's motorists to be considered, this number would grow well-nigh beyond comprehension.

There is reason to believe, in fact, that Cadillac may be wanted by more people than any other product manufactured in America today. It might well be called the great desideratum of the American people.

Naturally, a motor car has to offer many wonderful things in order to occupy such a unique position in the hopes and aspirations of so many persons.

It has to offer great and distinguishing beauty . . . luxurious comfort . . . brilliant, masterful performance . . . and wonderful prestige.

And, of course, in order to have become the logical ambition of so many millions, it would have to be practical to own, as well as wonderful to drive. And so, it would also have to offer—extraordinary economy!

If this sounds like the description of the car that you, yourself, would like to own and drive, then come in and see us—soon.

Perhaps the time has come for you to join the hundreds of thousands of motorists who have stopped wanting a Cadillac—and started enjoying one!

We'd be happy to see you any time.

GOP Farm Leaders Support Actual Parity Price Program

DES MOINES June 14—(AP)—Midwestern Republican farm leaders from ten states today adopted a program calling for "actual parity prices for all farm products," and favoring "more storage of grain on farms rather than central storage facilities."

The program is to be presented to the National GOP Convention in Chicago as a possible farm plank for the party.

The program was adopted after the group had rejected an earlier sub-committee proposal recommending support of agricultural prices at 75 per cent of parity.

The group said it proposed the program as "a means of putting agricultural programs go their rightful purposes."

It called for:

A "constructive and extensive soil conservation program," but added that in the interests of economy "payments should be made only for practices of a permanent nature."

Local Level To Have Authority

Keeping administrative authority of farm programs "at state and local levels, administered by non-partisan farmer-elected committees."

Putting any congressionally delegated policy making powers over agriculture in the hands of a bi-partisan board rather than the Secretary of Agriculture.

Creation of new domestic and foreign markets for agricultural surpluses by "trading them for foreign raw materials and products needed in our economy."

An expanded coordinated research and educational program on all crops, livestock, their diseases and agricultural marketing.

Reorganization of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to promote efficiency and "eliminate duplication of expenditures and personnel."

Economy in government, including administration of farm programs.

Farm Credit To Be Assured

Action to assure adequate farm credit at all times, "preferably from private sources, but from government sponsored sources when necessary."

No Break Seen In Heat Wave

(By The Associated Press)

A steamy June heat wave kept a tight grip on the south and much of the midwest Saturday with no break in sight for the week-end.

The mercury climbed into the 90s for the 10th straight day in St. Louis where the worst June heat wave in more than 38 years has caused three heat exhaustion deaths. Thirty-seven others have been overcome.

The temperature passed the 100 mark early in the afternoon at Roswell, N. M., in the 12th day of a heat wave. It hit 101 at Selma and Dothan, Ala., and 100 at Tuscaloosa and Mobile, Ala.

In mid-afternoon, the mercury hit 100 in Grand Island, Neb., and 101 in Lexington, Neb. Many Nebraska cities have asked large users to conserve water.

The highest temperature reported in the country Saturday was 106 at Phoenix, Ariz. It was 104 in La Junta, Colo., and Yuma and Tucson, Ariz., and 101 in Pueblo, N. Mex. and Amrillo, Tex. Three Arkansas cities, Paragould, Flippin and Walnut Ridge, had 100-degree weather. Little Rock, Ark. had a new high for 1952 of 97.

Thunderstorms brought temporary relief in some sections. The heavy rains, however, have caused heavy damage to some northern Illinois cities and farms. Rockford, Ill., was drenched with 4.40 inches of rainfall in two days.

Some 300 persons were driven from their homes temporarily at Lockport, Ill., where a dam on Big Run creek washed out.

Thundershowers were general over most of Iowa eastward across southern Wisconsin, Northern Illinois and all of Indiana and Ohio. Light showers also sprinkled the north Pacific coast.

Slightly cooler weather moved eastward into the northern plains, but the U. S. Weather Bureau said it would not provide any widespread relief from the heat.

Sedalia Child Unhurt In A Fall Of 20-Feet

Little Michael Townsend, 15½-month-old son of M/Sgt. and Mrs. C. G. Townsend, 901½ South Moniteau, took a tumble from the second-story window of the home and emerged with nothing more than several bruises and shock. It was a 20-foot tumble.

The child was playing in the kitchen of the home and fell against the screen, and in a split second later went through it. The fall was broken by foliage and loose earth.

He was taken to the office of Dr. Carl Siegel where he was examined. Dr. Siegel said the child's injuries were apparently bruises, but suggested close observation for the next few days in case of other injuries might become apparent.

Guards Crack New Outbreak By Koje PWs

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, Sunday, June 15—(AP)—American guards hurled tear gas grenades into three new prison stockades yesterday when fanatical Communists defied orders.

The clouds of choking gas quickly broke up the demonstrations and there was no violence, camp officials said.

What may prove to be the first murder in the new and smaller compounds came to light Sunday, the body of a North Korean prisoner was brought out of a new compound holding former inmates of notorious Compound 76.

A POW doctor said the man died of bayonet wounds in last Tuesday's bloody battle between American paratroopers and die-hard Reds. However, the body showed signs of beating as well as bayonet wounds, and camp authorities ordered an autopsy.

At Compound 66, army engineers began digging for two more bodies after a North Korean captain, who fell out with the Reds, said they had buried there.

In another Sunday development, three more North Korean prisoners in Compound 606 declared themselves anti-Communist and asked to join the 282 former Reds from 606 who sought asylum Saturday.

After tear gas brought order to Compound 606 Saturday, troops moved in and herded 900 defiant North Korean Reds into a narrow corridor beside the compound. They seized 15 Red leaders and liberated 273 prisoners who said they were anti-Communist.

Earlier in the day 500 North Koreans recently moved to a new compound from notorious compound 76 refused to break up a mass exercise demonstration which began before the legal hour of 6 a.m. A dozen tear gas grenades brought the demonstration to a sudden halt.

About three hours later, North Koreans in another of the new 500-man compounds refused to obey orders to file into an exercise area for fingerprinting and identification checks. They submitted meekly, however, after a dozen tear gas grenades were lobbed over the fence.

Allies Slay 800 Chinese In New Scrap

SEOUL, Korea, Sunday, June 15—(AP)—Allied troops have killed or wounded at least 800 Chinese Reds in the four-day-old battle for a cluster of hills on Korea's western front, the U. S. Eighth Army said today.

A staff officer said the figures are incomplete. They include 477 counted and estimated killed and 338 estimated wounded.

The staff officer said the Reds hurled 11,736 rounds of artillery and mortar fire along the 155-mile front in the 24-hour period ending at 6 p. m. Saturday.

"This is probably the highest of the war for the Communists," he said, "and certainly the highest" since the twilight war began last November.

Air War Steps-Up

The tempo stepped-up in the air war, too. Waves of Allied fighter bombers pounded on a hidden Red airfield late Saturday and left the runway pocked with bomb craters. The field is less than 100 miles north of the front lines, and close enough to threaten Allied infantrymen.

Maj. James Crutchfield of Graceville, Fla., described the airbase he helped destroy as "the hottest target in North Korea."

"We clobbered them good," he added.

More than 150 jets and propeller-driven fighter bombers swarmed over the camoulflaged field, which could serve as a base for Communist fighters in an all-out Red offensive.

The field is not a new one. It has been wrecked several times. But the air force said Communist repair crews have been working desperately to put it back in shape.

45th Stops Chinese

Earlier Saturday two regiments of the 45th (Oklahoma) Division hurled back a Chinese battalion trying to cut off newly won hill positions near Chorwon on the western front, some 50 miles north of Seoul.

The Eighth Army described the three-day battle for hill "T" as one of the bloodiest since the little Gibraltar action on the western front last November.

The bloody battle for the western hills has been raging intermittently for nine days. And the Eighth Army said ground action all across the 155-mile front last week was the heaviest of 1952.

Antique Bathtub Causes Tale Of City's Past to Be Recalled

If anybody would like an antique copper bathtub, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hasfurther, 1102 East Third, have one out in their backyard which they just had taken out of the house they bought five years ago.

It is long and narrow and encased in wood. Mrs. Hasfurther had at one time thought she would shine up the tub, but she found the job too big so she painted it white. How many years ago the bathtub was put in the house we can't seem to find out or who put it in — but — it was back in the days when a bathroom was a thing of elegance. Someone told us that the house was mortgaged for $200 to put in the bathtub — but that we couldn't verify, either, so it is probably just a story.

The bath room was complete with an old fashioned lavatory which is a bit twisted and bent. However, at its age, it should be twisted and bent, and the toilet with the big flush box above that flushes by pulling a chain. They still work, too.

The land on which the house stands was purchased from the United States government on September 14, 1853, by Absalom McVey, and consisted of 80 acres. Absalom McVey was quite a figure in early Sedalia, owning a great part of the land in East Sedalia. It was the age of big families and Mr. McVey was the father of 24 children, eight by each of his three wives, and throughout Sedalia in the years that followed were many decendants, all doing well in whatever vocation they chose and one, a granddaughter, Lucille McVey, even reaching fame as an actress on the screen.

The land where the old house stands was called the E. T. Brown addition and was sold to Kate and William Phillips. In 1885 the property was purchased by Samuel C. Parish and later by Marian P. Parish and J. L. Parish. The Parish family lived in the house for years and later it was sold to M. F. McDonald.

On the east side of the house was built a little store building. McDonald ran a spotless little confectionary about the turn of the century where the young people of East Sedalia used to congregate as young people always do. McDonald, who was called "Bud" by everybody was as nice to a small child who took about a half hour to buy a penny's worth of candy as he was to the customer who bought ten dollars worth in five minutes. He was always ready to agree on anything at any time. If somebody said vanilla milk shake was their favorite he would say it was his favorite, too, and if the next person said they liked chocolate milk shake best he said he liked chocolate milk shake best, too. He thought it was a nice day no matter how cold, how hot, how wet or how dry — but on this policy he built a tremendous trade that brought him many dollars and then when he died there was almost a small fortune in pennies from the sticky hands of little children who had taken hours of his time to pick out their candy.

The house changed hands again and again — the Patricks renting it and having a little store, then Ellsworth Parker bought the place. He had a store and a large family, then C. F. Reynard came to Sedalia and bought the place but the store after that was torn down. George Kirkpatrick bought it and five years ago it was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Hasfurther and Mr. Hasfurther has a blacksmith shop in his backyard. Things in the winter are not so good in the blacksmith business, so the Hasfurthers have started a small laundry and in order to put in the big tank for the laundry they had to take out the bathtub — the old copper bathtub which, regardless of whether they had to mortgage the house or not to put it in — was put in with real pride — for a bathtub in those days was not considered a necessity as it is today —it was a luxury—a very special luxury.

Broad Plan To Restore Farm Lands

A broad program of land restoration and rehabilitation will go into effect immediately in Missouri and other Midwestern and Western flood areas, E. R. Caldwell, chairman of the Missouri State Production and Marketing Administration, announced today.

The emergency program provisions to help farmers are made possible by a special Congressional appropriation approved last week by the President.

New legislation provides 20 million dollars to the Department of Agriculture for special measures which will emphasize restoring the productivity of farm land in areas affected by recent floods. It should not be confused with the Farm Land Restoration Program which was formulated for land damaged in the 1951 flood.

On the total funds available to the Department, $14,500,000 is for work on agricultural land. Of that, $13,850,000 has been allocated to PMA for on-farm measures to be carried out by farmers under the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Missouri has been allocated $1,500,000 under the program, with the understanding that an additional allocation will be granted if need for it is shown.

Approximately 3689 farms, encompassing thousands of acres of the nation's most productive cropland, were directly damaged in Missouri. These are located in 25 counties adjacent to the Missouri River and include Andrew, Atchison, Boone, Buchanan, Callaway, Carroll, Chariton, Clay, Cole, Cooper, Franklin, Gasconade, Holt, Howard, Jackson, Lafayette, Moniteau, Montgomery, Osage, Platte, Ray, St. Charles, St. Louis, Saline and Warren.

In view of the need for maximum production of corn and other feed grains and forage crops grown in the affected areas, it is essential that the land be brought into production as rapidly as possible, Caldwell emphasized. Program effects will be directed toward that end. To be eligible for program assistance, farms must be located in counties listed above and declared a disaster area by the Secretary of Agriculture.

State and county agricultural mobilization committees have surveyed the stricken areas to determine the extent of damage and loss, the probably effect on agricultural production, and the assistance to restore normal production.

This survey revealed that farmers require assistance in the restoration and rehabilitation of land and improvement on individual farms, as well as for community or group enterprises affecting more than individual farms.

In developing the current program, the Department has drawn heavily on the valuable experience gained in meeting the problems of the Midwest floods of last July and August.

2 Girl Scout Day Camps Open Monday

Monday, June 16, with the flag ceremony, two Girl Scout Day Camps will open.

The plans for the camps have been worked out carefully by the directors and their committees, the girls have sent their registration blanks to the office, good weather has been ordered, the camps are ready to go. But in case the weather isn't good, the camps go on just the same.

A very important part of the camp at Sakajewea is the junior camp council. They have been meeting all spring with Mr. Lambirth learning how to do help. They know how to build a fire, tie a knot, lash a table—in other words they have learned their camp skills and are able to teach them to the younger girls.

Every effort has been made to have the camps safe. Trained first aid people will be at the camps all the time and a registered nurse will be at Sakajewea the entire time the girls are there. The water from the well has been tested by the Sedalia Water Co.

At the Trading Post, milk, fruit juice, soda pop, candy and snacks may be purchased at certain times during the day.

The bus for Sakajewea leaves the Smith-Cotton High School at 8:30 a.m. and returns from the camp at 3:30 p.m. No halter tops will be allowed, as no one wants to give treatment for sun burn.

Farmers Face Grain Storage Difficulties

Grain storage and the difficulties that go with it are becoming increasingly the problems of the farmers of this country, says James A. Harvey, chairman of the Pettis County Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

Off-the-farm storage, including country elevators, subterminal and terminal warehouses, have not increased in capacity enough to take care of the increased production of the last few years. That was partly because materials were not available during the war and partly because production increased so rapidly that even had materials been available, great difficulty would have been experienced in building needed storage capacity fast enough.

But farm storage has increased tremendously. Since farm storage facility loans have been available, 118,926,827 bushels of capacity have been added to that in existence in 1949 available on the farm. Loans for this additional storage capacity were made to 29,574 farmers for a total of $33,565,403. Because of the difficulty in getting grain into off-the-farm storage facilities as fast as it comes from the harvest, many PMA committeemen are of the opinion that farm storage will expand still further.

Some farmers who have good crops of wheat coming this year, as a part of the expected large harvest, may need to increase their storage space. Others, who have enough storage space, will have to use the same methods that have been followed by elevator operators in preventing loss of grain from insects, rats, or spoilage.

Entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture who have watched grain crops in all parts of the country say that the only way to prevent loss in small grains from insect damage is to observe several precautions. The first is to clean up all bins and spray them thoroughly with one of the newer residual sprays. The second is to fumigate all grain within 30 days of the time it is put in storage.

Damage by rats can best be avoided by building the rats out of the stored grain, say experts of the Fish and Wildlife Service. Present infestations of rats can be reduced by the skillful use of poisons.

Directions for the use of the materials used in controlling insects and rodents can be obtained from any county agent.

The prevention of spoilage of grain is concerned almost entirely in reducing the moisture content of the crop as it comes from the field after harvesting. This is particularly true of the corn crop. Farmers like to harvest corn early for several reasons. One of them is that there is less chance that storms will come and delay or prevent harvest. Then, too, less of the corn drops off the stalks to the ground. Finally, mechanical pickers will do a cleaner job, leaving fewer ribbons on the ears.

But when farmers harvest early, they run a chance of having wet corn. Part of such wet corn can be fed before warm weather of spring brings danger of spoilage. But for year round livestock operations, some corn is needed as a reserve. And the only way to get that from wet corn is to use artificial drying. Comparatively few CCC loans have been made to farmers for the purchase of mobile drying equipment. From 1949 to the present, 277 loans have been made for a total of $401,853.

Says "Snowman" Exists

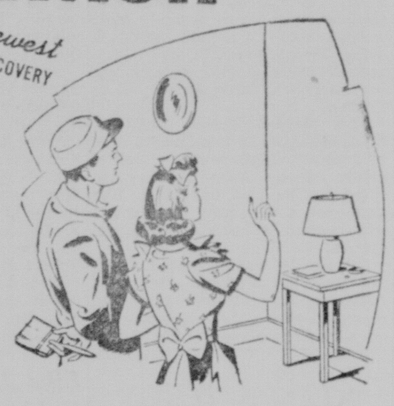

SINGAPORE (AP) — A Calcutta-born naturopathetic physician now in Singapore believes in the existence of the "Abominable Snowman" — a monster said to inhabit the Himalayas.

E. P. McCarthy-Heyzer, who did research work in Calcutta before coming here, claims to have seen, in company of other witnesses, the "tremendous" footprints of the Snowman.

Clothing moths are believed to have been taken to the United States by early settlers from Europe.

Your Wardrobe

By Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

SUMMER VACATIONS ARE beginning and a well-planned wardrobe can make your vacation a huge success or ruin it. First decide where you are going—how long you will be staying and what you will probably be doing. Make a list of these things and the type clothes you will need. Select as many crease resistant garments as possible. Have as many nylon undies as possible, you can get by with less and they require no ironing. Try to have several outfits with which you can use the same accessories—it saves luggage space. Take proper creams and deodorants. It is wise to take a scarf for your hair, and an extra blouse or two and if you are going to a lake resort an extra tee shirt and shorts in terry cloth are wonderful—no ironing but quick to dry. A last thought—take a lightweight wrap regardless of where you are going, even just over night.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Elmer Koch before an altar setting of huckleberry foliage centered with a fan-shaped bouquet of white gladioli and burning tapers.

Preceding the ceremony Franklin Sullivan, of Jamestown, played a prelude of organ music and accompanied Mrs. John Inglish, who sang "Because," "One Alone" and, at the conclusion of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white chantilly lace and nylon over taffeta. The pointed basque bodice was buttoned down the back with tiny satin covered buttons and the wide yoke was of nylon tulle. The long fitted sleeves were pointed over the hands. The very full skirt was trimmed with a deep paneled yoke of chantilly lace which came to points in the nylon net over taffeta. The fingertip bridal illusion veil fell from a close fitting cap of chantilly lace and net trimmed with side clusters of bugle beads. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid and handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Cassie Butler.

She was preceded down the aisle by little Susan Howard, who wore a pink frock and scattered blue and pink daisies from a gold colored wire basket.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The bridal table was covered with a white crocheted cloth made by the bridegroom's mother and was centered with a four-tier square wedding cake surrounded by an artistic arrangement of pink and blue daisies flanked with lighted tapers. Miss Courtney's Nuptials Sunday At Mexico, Mo.

A glow of soft candlelight framed the setting for the marriage of Miss Marjorie Ellen Courtney and Mr. Ralph A. Gongwer, which was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Christian Church, Mexico, Mo.

Miss Courtney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Courtney, former Sedalians, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Longan, 214 West Sixth. Mr. Gongwer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Gongwer, Wabash, Ind.

The single ring ceremony was read by Dr. Carl Agee of Columbia, who was assisted by the Rev. Phillip Byron Carlisle before an altar setting of two seven-branched candelabra of wrought iron, holding white burning tapers, and floor baskets filled with white gladioli, carnations and larkspur.

The candles were lighted by Misses Elizabeth and Caroline Courtney, younger sisters of the bride. They wore similar dresses of light blue organdy, trimmed with white embroidery and each wore a wrist corsage of Better Times roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. She wore a gown of white nylon and chantilly lace designed with a sheer yoke with the off-the-shoulder effect outlined with lace. The molded bodice had puff sleeves with matching lace mitts that came to a point over the hands. The bouffant tulle skirt with double tiers extended into points edged in chantilly lace and fell into a cathedral train. Her two-tiered fingertip veil showered from a half hat of tulle. The bride's bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Mount, Ft. Knox, Ky., cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Carol Browne, Arlington, Va., also a cousin of the bride, and Miss Martha Staley, Mexico, Mo., were bridesmaids.

They were all attired in gowns of light blue net over satin, fashioned with low round neckline edged with satin and tiny satin buttons down the front. The cap sleeves had matching mitts and the full floor length skirts were highlighted with satin bands. Each attendant carried a colonial bouquet of Better Times roses with the honor attendant's slightly larger than those carried by the bridesmaids.

With this she wore shell pink accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Gongwer, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue shantung suit dress with navy and white accessories. She, too, had a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's table, lace covered, held a tiered wedding cake and punch bowl at either end. Small white blossoms nestled in the ropes of smilax that surrounded the cake and punch bowl extending to the center of the table to form a figure eight.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Allen Browne of Arlington, Va., the bride's aunt; Miss Claire Morley and Miss Joan Broadley, St. Louis; Mrs. H. C. Brashear, Mrs. Fred Peck Sr., Miss Bette Garner, Mrs. Dale Gillman, Mrs. Howard Copeland and Misses Elizabeth and Caroline Courtney.

Stockcar Races To Be Run At Fair Grounds July 4th

The Second Annual 100-Mile Event To Attract Nation's Best Speed Demons

State Fair officials announced today the second annual Fourth of July 100-mile auto race for new model cars will again be raced on the one-mile fair grounds track and be worth more than $3,000 to the winners.

Secretary Rollo E. Singleton said the holiday motor marathon will also carry the sanction of the International Motor Contest Association, an assurance that all top contenders for national distance stock car honors will be on hand for the event.

Herschell Buchanan Entered

Entry and other details of the competition will be under the direction of National Speedways, Inc., the same organization that handles this phase of the annual State Fair motor speed contests.

Singleton added that several leading rivals for the IMCA national title now held by Herschell Buchanan, ex-traveling salesman from Shreveport, have already enrolled for the 1952 edition of the holiday speed event.

Entry Blanks Available

Entry blanks for any local aspirants are available in his office in the State Fair Administraton Building, Singleton said. He pointed out that the race is wide open except to those under 21.

Qualifying time trials to determine the 20 cars eligible to start in the 100-lap competition are scheduled for 1 p.m. The big race is slated to begin at 2:30 o'clock.

LANDS A BIG ONE — Mrs. A. L. Henderson, 65, 315 West 19th landed her biggest large mouth bass last Sunday at Jackson's Beach. Mrs. Henderson is displaying her catch was proud as proud as could be and let it be known it was "the one" she had been looking for. A week before Mrs. Henderson had hooked "that big one that got away" and all week she worried fearing someone else would catch it. Bright and early Sunday morning, just a week ago she insisted on going back to the Lake of the Ozarks and within 30-minutes after tossing in he hook she had a strike. Working hard to keep it on the hook Mrs. Henderson finally pulled in her catch—yes it had signs of having been hooked before in fact three times before and each time it got away, but the fourth, Mrs. Henderson met success. Now she is after it's mate. "I'm sure the mate would weight more than the seven pounds this bass weighs," Mrs. Henderson explains.

But the Kiwanis came back in the fifth to put the game on ice with nine runs.

Drew was the winning pitcher, and Ditton was the loser.

In the second the Rotary beat the Elks 17-10. The Elks had a bad night behind 10-year-old Anderson, who started on the mound for the first time. All 15 boys on the Elks Club saw action in the losely-played contest.

Manager Mines stated he hoped to play all his boys in as often as possible.

Sports Scraps

(By D. "Kelly" Scruton)

SEDALIA may be conspicious by its absence in the Missouri State Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament the latter part of July. The question has arisen whether a semi-pro team will be organized here, one strong enough for the tournament competition—at present, Sedalia doesn't have such a ball club.

As a matter-of-fact, the lack of interest in the tournament is such Commissioner H. L. "Hank" Williams has been approached by a representative of the Kansas City Jaycees to see if they could sponsor it there. Not only has Kansas City an eye on the tournament, but so has Holden, which sponsored it in 1951, and St. Joseph, now going in for sponsoring athletic tournaments.

Mendon, the 1951 state champion, had requested the tournament, but it is doubtful at the present time if it will be interested. However, if St. Joseph could get it, there is no doubt that it would be a successful undertaking.

It is rather interesting how Sedalia can scream when something is lost, how little it can do, when they feel they have it in a bag. Because Commissioner Williams lives in Sedalia there are those who think, "Oh well, it will be here anyway." I know how much work, time and trouble there is to making a tournament successful, as well as Williams does, who has been through it several times.

It wouldn't surprise me if Williams, at the last minute, accepts one of the better invitations. If he does, there is no one to blame but ourselves—I personally wouldn't blame him.

THE Summer Recreation Program is off to a good start and in spite of those who thought it couldn't be carried out—it is—and George Thompson has worked it out to a well rounded program. Only one little difficulty has arisen, that of Housel Park project. But the little matter is being well taken care of by consolidation with Washington Park.

Before the decision was made, Thompson gave the problem much study. The lack of attendance at Housel was making it rather difficult to arrange a rounded program, but by putting that project together with Washington, moving the leader from Housel to Washington giving the project two leaders, there isn't a doubt it will develop.

Parents of Sedalia's children should have confidence in the program, send their children to the parks. If possible it wouldn't hurt if the parents took a look at the program, to see for themselves that it is being properly handled. I am sure one look would convince them it is a welcome program for Sedalia's children.

A few helpful remarks in behalf of the Little League baseball players—and managers too—regarding the conduct of the adults watching the games. May I make this suggestion to the proud parents that while the youngsters are under fire during the game they refrain from conversation with the players in the outfield, and calling to them while they are in the field.

It was very evident that a couple of good ball players were made to look rather bad the other night because they were involved in conversation from the other side of the fence instead of having their minds on balls which were hit to their position.

Another suggestion. It is tough enough for a manager to have to elect to send some youngster down to the minors—they don't like to do it any more than a proud mama or pappa wants to see the boy sent down. But it is one of the rules of the game—they'll have another chance to be called back, it helps the boys spirit to make it on his own.

We all feel that mother or dad doesn't like it, yet on the other hand, it takes their cooperation in telling their son to get in there, work hard, make them call you back to the majors.

Stop and think of the managers with 15 or twenty boys they have to work with, they love those kids almost as much as the parents. But they have their job to do—and its all donation time, they don't draw a dime for those worries.

So lets try and cooperate, be a booster and not a criticizer of these men.

Marion Draws A $100 Fine Fof Fracas

CHICAGO, June 14—(AP)—Marty Marion escaped today with comparatively light punishment for his run-in with umpire Bill Mc Gowan during his first day as St. Louis Browns manager.

Will Harridge, American League presilent, lifted Marion's suspension and fined the lanky shortstop-manager $100.

Maion had been suspended since Thursday morning. The fracas with Mc Gowan took place Wednesday night in a game between the Browns and the Red Sox at Boston.

Marion, who had just succeeded the fired Rogers Hornsby as Browns pilot, protested a Mc Gowan decision at third base. The umpire reported to Harridge that Marion had bumped him. Marion denied this and said McGowan "tried to walk through me."

While Harridge's punishment was relatively light, his rebuke to Marion was stern.

"After hearing both sides of this controversy," he said, "the evidence is incontrovertible that Marion far exceeded his rights in his protest to umpire Mc Gowan on his decision . . .

"Marion's actions in jostling and bumping umpire Mc Gowan not once, but several times, were entirely uncalled for and was the type of action which will not be condoned in the American League."

The American League president's decision followed conferences with Brownie president Bill Veeck and Marion yesterday and with umpires Mc Gowan and Bill Mc Kinley today.

Wren Hurls MU To NCAA Final

OMAHA, June 14 — (AP) — Missouri nipped Penn State 3-2 for its third straight victory and the commanding role in the NCAA Baseball Tournament as Junior Wren, normally an outfielder, hurled a two-hit game for the Tigers.

The victory left Missouri the only undefeated team in the meet. The Tigers get a rest tomorrow while Penn State, Holy Cross and Western Michigan play to see which will oppose Missouri in what may be the title-deciding contest Monday night in the double elimination tournament.

Coach John Simmons took a long gamble in starting Wren who had pitched only one inning this season. He had done his playing in center field where he covered vast areas and also led the team with a .359 batting average.

But Simmons decided to go with Wren and save his aces Don Boenker and Dick Atkinson for later action.

The strategy was perfect. Wren was the master except for the third inning when Penn State scored two runs one one hit, two errors and a stolen base.

Missouri scored all of its runs in the sixth on four successive singles after a walk and a force-out.

Jansen Paces 4-3 NY Win Over Cards

NEW YORK, June 14 — (AP) — Lary Jansen, champion papa of the major leagues, celebrated Father's Day several hours early today as he pitched and batted the New York Giants to a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Jansen, father of seven, not only scattered 10 hits effectively, but scattered 10 hits effectively, but helped win his sixth game of the year with a timely single in the fourth inning that drove in two runs.

Those two tallies plus home runs by Bob Elliott and Wes Westrum enabled the Giants to snap the Cards' winning streak at three straight and give righthander Cloyd Boyer his third loss against two wins. Jansen has lost twice.

Giants Close-In On Bums

The victory moved the runner-up Giants to within three games of the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers, who were to engage the Cincinnati Reds in a twi-night doubleheader at Ebbets' Field.

Elliott's homer, his sixth of the season, came in the second and Westrum's homer, his ninth, came in the seventh to snap a 3-3 tie.

The Cards drew first blood, scoring a run in the second after the first two batters had been retired. Del Rice walked, stopped at second when Boyer singled to right and crossed the plate on a Texas league single by Solly Hemus.

The Giants moved ahead, 3-1, in the fourth when Jansen's two-run single with the bases loaded chased in Don Bueller and Al Dark, who had singled back to back after two were gone. St. Louis evened the count in the sixth on Tommy Glaviano's first homer of the year, which followed the second of three singles by Dick Sisler.

Great Catch Stops Cards

Sensational fielding by Hank Thompson, Willie Mays' replacement in centerfield, cut off at least two Cardinal runs. Thompson took a run-scoring hit away from Peanuts Lorey by dashing in swiftly to nab a low line drive in the first inning and then deprived Boyer of a possible inside-the-park homer with a sensational back-handed catch of a smash into the deep left-center field slot.

Recreation Catching On In Sedalia

The Summer Recreation program for Sedalia was started last Monday and is operating successfully at two locations — Liberty and Washington Parks. The Housel Park project has been consolidated with the Washington Park porject.

George Thompson, director in charge of the recreation program stated Saturday that because of the small attendance, he found it necessary to consolidate Housel with Washington Park and believes the latter program will benefit from the move.

Projects Well Attended

Thompson explained the first day was fairly well attended at Housel but had dropped off so that there were not enough children to carry on the program. However, at Washington Park the largest day attendance was 65 while at Liberty Park it was 87. Consolidating the Washington-Housel project will possibly bring the attendance up there and at the same time give the project the benefit of two leaders.

At Liberty Park, Thompson will spend more time, give this project two leaders.

He also called attention to Boy Scouts desiring to pass their Athletic Merit Badge test can do so this Tuesday morning.

Boys who desire to participate in golf must take their own clubs to the parks and from their they will be driven to the Elm Hills Golf Course to play until noon when they will be returned to Sedalia.

Brownie Fold Before Slants Of Bob Shantz

ST. LOUIS, June 14—(AP)—Little Bobby Shantz marked up his 10th straight victory and his 11th of the season today as the Philadelphia Athletics tagged the St. Louis Browns for a pair of four-run innings in a 9-2 triumph.

By winning the decision, Shantz kept his spot as the No. 1 pitcher in the majors. The spunky left hander has lost but one game thus far.

The Browns outhit the A's, nine to eight, but pitching wildness kept them in trouble. Starter and loser Tommy Byrne walked six, and three relief hurlers added three more passes. Byrne, who hasn't won a decision since May 10, gave up five of the Philadelphia runs.

Philadelphia's victory was tarnished somewhat in the sixth when third baseman Hal Bevin left the game with a broken leg. He suffered the fracture, just above the right ankle, as he slid home after racing in from second on a single by Eddie Joost.

The big four-run innings for the A's came in the sixth and the seventh. The first outbreak came on just two hits as the Browns added a walk and an error and Shantz was hit by one of Byrne's pitches with the bases loaded.

That was the last Philadelphia saw of Byrne, but they stayed in the grove against Bob Mahoney, who started the seventh, a leadoff double by Keith Thomas got things underway and three more hits and three walks wrapped it up.

Mahoney faced just two men, allowing two runs and retiring none, before Gene Bearden relieved.

Both Brownie runs came in the sixth when Bobby Young's leadoff triple was followed by Jim Dyck's double and Bob Nieman's single.

Former S-C Tigers Will Work In Pea Harvest This Summer

Five members of the Smith-Cotton Tiger's football squad of 1951 will leave next week for Rochelle, Ill., where they will work in the pea harvest. The boys will follow the harvest into Wisconsin, if the state does not enforce an age requirement, and they plan to return around August 1.

The boys who will join the harvest are: "Skip" Schultz, Richard Landon, Floyd Burton, Don Delph, Crosby Brown and Stan Walch.

The boys will be making the trip in Walch's car, a 1937 Chevrolet called Methuselah.

The work the boys will be doing will consist of loading the peas from the pea picker to the viner.

Lady Levi's Defeat Sacred Heart Girls

Beatrice Combs and Doris Ward hurled for the Levi's as Dorothy Stockstill did the receiving. The losers' battery was Eckhoff on the hill and Schmidt behind the plate.

Chiefs Blank Mexico; Grab League Lead

Bill Arnold shut out the Mexico Ramblers Saturday night at Mexico by a score of 12-0 to push the Sedalia Chiefs up into the first berth in the Central Missouri Ban Johnson League.

Arnold, who pitched all nine innings, gave up eight hits to the Ramblers, but none of the players were able to complete the circuit for a tally. The Chiefs got 12 hits off of Hill, the losing pitcher, two of them homers. This was Hill's first loss against four wins.

The Chief's hitting attack was led by Don Broaddus who got three with one a homer. The other homer of the game was by John Weist, who connected with his four sacker with one man on.

The first inning was scoreless for both teams after the Chiefs got men on base several times, but the second frame brought in three runs for the Sedalians. In the second inning Holst reached first on an error and was advanced on a sacrifice by Weist. Lane walked and was followed by Cochran, who singled filling the bases. With the bases loaded Broaddus the leading hitter stepped up to the plate and promptly snapped a single driving in Holst and Lane. Arnold followed Broaddus and got to first on an error to load the bases again. The last run of the second frame was given to the Chiefs when Thomas reached base on an error to score Cochran.

There was no score in the third inning and one in the fourth when Broaddus homered with no one on.

In the fifth inning Weist, Lane, and Cochran walked as the first three men up, to fill the bases and Weist and Lane scored when Broaddus followed with a single. Arnold batted in the last run of this inning when he singled to score Cochran.

No tallies were registered by the Chiefs in th sixth and seventh inning but they came back strong in the eighth with five runs. In the eighth Broaddus walked as first man up and was followed by Arnold, who was out on a forced out. Thomas, next hitter walked and was followed by Higgins, who doubled to score Broaddus, and Thomas and Holst who singled to score Higgins. Then came Weist's homer which scored Holst and himself and the final runs for the Chiefs.

hTe next game for the Chiefs will be with Moberly Miners at Moberly Tuesday night.

Fine Puts Life Into Vic Wertz: Hits Big Homer

DETROIT, June 14—(AP)—Vic Wertz, fighting mad at his manager because of a $25 fine for indifferent play, stepped in as an eighth inning pinch hitter today and blasted a two-run homer to give the last place Detroit Tigers a 7 to 6 victory over the Washington Senators and end their seven-game losing streak.

A surprising crowd of 9,997 saw Wertz slam loser Tom Ferrick's pitch into the upper right field stand after Joe Ginsberg had singled home Jerry Priddy to leave the Tigers behind 6-5. It was Wertz' 10th home run.

The battle of homers saw Walt Dropo slam his fifth homer since coming to the Tigers from Boston for one run in the first inning. Steve Souchock blast his third home run for two Tiger runs in the sixth and Ken Wood hit a two-run Senator homer in the fourth.

Manager Red Rolfe fined Wertz yesterday, along with Cliff Mapes, for letting a lazy fly drop between them in the 3-0 defeat by the New York Yankees Thursda. Wertz was benched today and was obviously irritated before the game.

Holmes To Sign With Dodgers

BROOKLYN, June 14 — (AP) — Tommy Holmes, deposed manager of the Boston Braves, agreed to terms with the Brooklyn Dodgers today and is expected to sign with the National League leaders within 24 hours.

Tommy is expected to be employed mainly as a pinch hitter and part time outfielder.

Number Of Teams Grows To 12

Little League Reorganizes Minor Loop

The Little League minor league program has been reorganized to form 12 teams instead of the former eight teams.

The real purpose behind this reorganization is to cut down the number of players on each team and make it possible for all the little fellows to play. Under the former plan the minor league managers had so many youngsters on each club that it has been impossible to see that all have a chance to participate.

Each minor league team will play one game a week and will practice once a week. Only two games will be scheduled each night.

Program Involves 180 Boys

Under the new plan each club is composed of 13 or so youngsters. Handling 180 names is a difficult job. Undoubtedly some boys name has been over looked and any boy who wants to play should contact Bert Hathaway, telephone 305 or 2565-W, and he will be assigned to a team.

A complete schedule of games and a full list of players names, showing the team to which each has been assigned will be found on page 15 of today's Democrat-Capital.

Minor league teams will be divided into three leagues and the winners of each league will participate in a play-off to determine the minor league champion.

More Adult Help Needed

This expanded program will require more supervision, and any adult interested in helping this program as a coach, umpire or score keeper he should get in touch with Bert Hathaway.

All boys, who were issued ball caps should turn them in to their old manager. New colors will be assigned. Each boy will keep his T-shirt. New shirts will be given to newcomers.

The Little Warrior Slips To Third

Julius Boros Ends Ben Hogan's Hold On National Open

DALLAS, June 14—(AP)Ben Hogan's golf dynasty crumbled today and a 200-pound North Carolina apprentice professional, Julius Boros, came scrambing out of nowhere to win the 52nd National Open Championship with a 72-hole score of 281.

The unheralded 32-year-old from Southern Pines, N. C., won with a four-stroke margin over chubby Ed Oliver of Lemont, Ill., who sank a 30-foot birdie putt on the final green to beat out Hogan for second place by a stroke.

Oliver had a tournament total of 285 while Hogan finished with 286.

Playing like a man of destiny, Boros collared the great three-time champion Hogan with a blazing two-under par 68 in the morning and then hung on firmly by shooting a scattered-shot 71 in he final round.

Hogan the Hawk, as his fellow professionals call him, weakened under the blistering Texas sun and soared to rounds of 74 and 74 after wrenching the midway controls of this 52no tournament with a pair of sparkling 69s.

Hogan Irons Fail Him

He was a tired old man of 39 when he trudged to the 72nd green —his hopes of a record four championships in as many successive attempts shattered when kinks developed in his once peerless iron game.

Oliver, the little round man who was disqualified for a late start after he finished in a tie for the title in 1940, played wth Hogan as a partner on the final day and blasted out rounds of 70 and 72.

Other ambitions were wrecked and strewn over orthwood's tight, 6,782-yard course in one of the most dramatic climaxes of the 53-year-old links classic.

Tall John Bulla of Verona, Pa., was a contender right up to the last. Then he missed a six-foot eagle putt on the 14th hole of his final rounds, went over par on the 16th and 18th and finished with a 287 for fourth place.

Balding George Fazio of Clementon, N. J., second behind Hogan going into the showdown final 36, blew himself to a pair of heartbreaking 75s which gave him fifth at 290.

Snead Blows Sky High

And there was Sam Snead, a strong favorite finally to come through to the Open crown he has never won. Snead went 40 straight holes without a birdie and made only three birdies in the entire 72 holes as he blew sky high to 283, a dozen strokes off the pace. He had final rounds of 76 and 72.

This was the first important tournament victory for Boros, a bronzed, bull-shouldered son of Hungarian parents who was born in Fairfield, Conn., and was an all-around athlete at Bridgeport University.

He is just three years out of amateur ranks, having led the nation's qualifying for the U. S. Amateur in 1948 and gained the quarterfinals in the event in 1949.

But on the pro circuit he had never won a first prize. His only triumph of any sort was in the Massachusetts Open last year.

He had made bold stabs in his previous two Open appearances, however, finishing in a tie for ninth in 1950 and for fourth last year at Detroit.

Leaders To Play Jeff City Stags At 8 P. M. Tonight

The Schlitz Leaders will cross bats with the Jefferson City Stags, one of the best softball teams in that area, at the Center Park, 8 p.m. tonight. The visiting team formerly was under the name of the Larry Tavern.

The team under its former name won the Missouri State Championship in softball at Springfield in 1950.

It is a "brother team" to the Leaders being sponsored by Ben Fetchel, distributor of Stag and Schlitz beer in the Jefferson City area. Mr. Fetchel is the father of Steve Fetchel sponsor of the Leaders, who is distributor for the two beers in Sedalia.

The visitors will probably use Dave Fischer or Bud Vanloo on the mound while the Leaders will send Chuck Bronson or Tommy Sanders in to hurl with "Skeeter Elwell in reserve.

Friday night Sanders pitched the Leaders to a 21-0 shutout over the Alma Merchants in a Central Missouri Softball League game. It was Sanders first appearance in several weeks, being out because of an injury and he looked exceptionally good. In this game he gave up four scattered hits and the farthest an Alma player made it around the diamond was to second base.

Batteries for that game were: Rolfe and Fiene for Alma and for the Leaders Sanders and Swisher.

Olympic Prospects Grow Brighter

Trackmen Smash Eight Marks In All-Important NCAA Meet

BERKELEY, Calif., June 14—(AP)—John Barnes of Occidental capped a series of record breaking performances in the National Collegiate A. A. track championships today with a spectacular 1:49.6 in the 800 meters.

Barnes shattered the meet record of 1:51.1 held by Mal Whitfield of Ohio State, set in 1948, and his time compares favorably with the Olympic Games record of 1:49.2, also held by Whitfield.

His performance was one of many brilliant efforts by the cream of American collegians, all pointing to a powerful American team for the games in Helsinki July 19-Aug. 3.

Record after record was shattered. Gilbert Borpeson of Brown started things off on Monday when he won the hammer throw at Boston with 176-feet 4 3/8, and then when the main competition started here these new meet marks were established:

Paddy O'Brien, Southern California, 57-feet-9/8 in the shot; George Roseme, California, 228-feet-8 3/4 in the javelin; George Shaw, Columbia, 49-feet-1 3/8 in the hop, step and jump; Bob McMillen, Occidental, 3:50.7 in the 1,500 meters, McMillen mark broke the record of 3:53 set by Archie San Romani, Kansas State Teachers, in 1936.

Other record breaking performances were those of Wes Santee of Kansas, winner of the 5,000 meters in 14:36.3, and Bob De Vinney, a team-mate, winner of the 400 meter hurdles :51.7 with Barnes' spectacular 800, this made a total of eight records broken.

Southern California, as expected, easily won the team title for the 16th time in 31 years, with 66 7-12 points, ext came San Jose State 24 1/3, UCLA 24 1/4, Stanford 24, Occidental 24, Morgan State 23, Illinois 22, and Michigan 21 1/3.

The first six American in each NCAA event were qualified to enter the final Olympic tryouts in Los Angeles, June 2728, along with a similar number from the National A. A. U. meet next week, and the winner and a few seconds in the all-service meet.

Bright as American prospect looked, however, there were foreigners here who showed they must be reckoned with at Helsinki. George Rhoden of Morgan State, a Jamaican, won the 400 meters in the extremely fast time of :46.3, two yards ahead of Ollie Matson of San Francisco University, the only American who seems able to challenge him. J. W. Mashburn, Oklahoma, placed sixth. Fritz Millsson of Michigan, who will compete for Sweden in the games, was third in the shot put with 53-3 3/4.

The performances of Americans in the distance races were highly encouraging. McMillen's time of 3:50.7 in the 1,500 meters, while not quite up to European standards, is good. And Barnes was a superb champion in winning the 800.

The high-jump ended in a tie at the excellent height of 6-feet-8, between Emery Barnes of Oregon and Walter Davis of Texas A & M.

Sim Iness of Southern California won the discus with 173-feet-2 3/8. Jim Golliday, the stury Negro from Northwestern, was easily the class of the field in the 100 meters ,winning by two yards from Arthur Bragg of Morgan State. The defending champion, in :10.4.

George Brown of UCLA defended his broad-jump title with a leap of 25-11 1/8. Neville Price, Oklahoma, placed fourth with 24- 8 1/8

Jack Davis of Southern California repeated in the 110 meter hurdles with :14.0, tying the NCAA record set by Clyde Scott, Arkansas, 1948, the big surprise here was the showing of Bob Mathias, the enormous Olympic decathlon champion, Stanford football star, and weight man. In an event that usually is only for the skinny and lanky, big Bob charged into second place with an excellent time of :14.2.

Cards Tryout At Jeff City On June 25-26

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.,—Jefferson City this year will be one of the first sites of the St. Louis Cardinals' nation - wide tryout camps when veteran scouts will look for diamond talent at Washington Park on June 25 and 26, George Silvey, Cardinal minor league secretary and tryout camp director, announced today.

Product of Farm System

Stressing the importance of summer tryout camps, Eddie Stanky, hustling Red Bird manager, related that, "The Cardinals since 1926, when they won their first pennant and World Series, have been a first division ball club in 22 out of 26 years due primarily to the fact that the Red Birds operate the finest farm system ever seen in Organized Baseball. Why, right now, 18 of the 24 players on the Cardinal roster are products of the Cardinal farm system!"

Each summer the St. Louis National Leaguers hold tryout camps throughout the country in search of ball players who can be developed into big leaguers.

Some of the Stars

"I think the fact that Stan Musial, 'Red' Schoendienst, Solly Hemus, Gerry Staley and 'Vinegar Bend' Mizell, to name just five, are products of the Red Bird farms, proves the worth of operating tryout camps," Stanky said.

The Cardinal baseball empire, which includes 15 farm teams in 11 states and Canada in every classification from AAA to Class D baseball, is today the largest in the world. "Major league talent," emphasized Stanky, "must be developed in the minors. And today, the Cardinals have the best system for the development and advancement of new talent."

Workouts for all players between 17 and 23 who would like a professional baseball career begin each day at 11 a.m. Players are to bring their own shoes and gloves, and a uniform if they have one, as the Red Birds do not furnish these items. 'Expenses incident to attending the Jefferson City tryout camp will be refunded by the Cardinals to players who are signed to a contract.

Pseudo-Tortoise

The tortoise-shell of commerce is furnished by the hawksbill turtle, not the tortoise. The hawksbill is found in the West Indies and the Gulf of Mexico, and has an average weight of 30 to 40 pounds, although 200-pound specimens have been taken.

Cities Compete For Trophies At K. C. Blues Game

Blues Fans Club presidents and mayors of 53 cities will participate in the program Sunday in Blues stadium when the Blues accept a trophy for having the largest opening game attendance. The ceremony is scheduled between games the Blues-Toledo doubleheader, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

Bruce Dudley, president of the American Association, has delegated Cliff J. Kaney, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to act for the league office in making the award. A baseball fan will be selected from the audience to accept the trophy on behalf of the Blues.

Leo Barry, president of the Blues Fans Club, will present a scroll to Fans Club chairmen and mayors who represent 53 cities. The scroll reads ". . . in deep appreciation of the encouraging support that made possible the largest opening day attendance in the American Association."

Wide Interest Makes It Necessary To Form 12 Teams From The Former 8 Minor Teams

When Little League Baseball was organized in April and May there were dozens and dozens of hustling baseball aspirants between the ages of 8 and 12 who reported for tryouts. It was seen immediately that four Major League teams could not possibly absorb all of the youngsters who wanted an opportunity to play ball, so eight minor league teams were formed, which still would not take care of all the young ball players. On Thursday night the officers of Little League baseball met with team managers and formed twelve teams from the eight minor league teams and the schedule below was formed.

Minor league officials who serve under the Little League officials are: Bert Hathaway, co-ordinator; Nathan Jones, official score-keeper, and Dick Dillon, in charge of umpires.

Iowa U. Shows Religion Can Be Taught In Public School

IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP)—The University of Iowa is observing this year the silver anniversary of the birth of a novel idea that religion can be taught successfully and without controversy in a tax-supported institution.

Twenty-five years ago the university established a school of religion which has since acquired a high academic standing.

The men who founded it and those who carry on their work say the school has been successful because it teaches students only what religion is about. It infuses no doctrines, expounds no creeds. It has the backing of all religious faiths.

The school has four faculty members—two Protestants, a Hebrew and a Catholic priest. Their salaries are paid by contributions from church groups and individuals but administrative expenses, including the salary of Director M. Willard Lampe, are met from university funds.

The major purpose of the school is to present religion as a fact of history and human culture. Its of general significance and courses which take advantage of the special education and interest of its faculty.

For example, a student in the school of religion can learn all he needs to know to understand the basis of the Protestant faith, the Catholic faith and the religion of the Jews.

He is taught about the Old and the New Testaments, the details of Catholic life and worship, the living religions of mankind. Jewish history and readings in modern Hebrew and the facts about church and state in America.

The school of religion is a popular source of university credits. During Iowa's peak enrollment in 1947-48 when war veterans registered 2,400 students. In the school year just ended it had more than 700 enrolled.

O. D. Foster, who in 1922 was secretary of the Council of Church Boards of Education, a Protestant group, was directly responsible for the founding of the school. He made a speech in Chicago outlining how such an institution should be organized and conducted.

R. H. Fitzgerald, then director of the campus YMCA at Iowa, now chancellor of the University interested Walter A. Jessup, who was university president, when the project was ready to go John D. Rockefeller Jr. gave $35,000 to put it on its feet.

Last month the school of religion had a quiet campus ceremony to mark the observance of the silver anniversary year. Speakers representing Protestants, Catholics and Jews praised its worth.

Gromyko Shift Climaxes Big Red Shakeup

His appointment, announced last night by the Moscow government, climaxed a big shakeup of top level posts in the Russian diplomatic service.

(In London, a British Foreign Office source suggested the surprise move may mean a new Soviet peace offensive is on the way.)

The Kremlin announcement also confirmed earlier unofficial reports that Georgi Zarubin, Russian envoy to London for more than five years, would become Soviet Ambassador to the United States.

He will succeed Alexander Panyushkin, who has been transferred to head the big Russian mission in Red China.

The appointment of the poker-faced Gromyko to the London post is not necessarily a step down for the one-time boy wonder of Soviet diplomacy.

By assigning Foreign Minister man to London, the Russians apparently are attempting to spotlight to the world the importance they place on relations with Britain.

Gromyko, who is 43, was appointed second-in-command to Vishinsky in 1949. Top kremlin leaders are believed to have the greatest confidence in him.

A British Foreign Office source said Gromyko may lead a new super-diplomatic mission to London.

"It rather looks as if a new approach may be on the way," he commented, but declined further speculation.

He has been pretty much out of the news since he led the Russian delegation from Moscow to the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco last September.

Zarubin had been Soviet ambassador to Britain since September, 1946, until his recall to Moscow last month. Before that he had been minister to Canada.

During his two-year stay in Ottawa, the Canadian government cracked a big Communist spy ring but an official investigation cleared Zarubin of charges that he led it.

The new Soviet envoy to China is considered one of Russia's most able diplomats. Panyushkin spent five years in China before 1944 and takes to Peiping a broad knowledge of Western ways gained grom his U. S. appointment.

Gunman In Daylight Fur Robbery Get $315,000 In Value

CHICAGO (AP)—Four gunmen invaded a west side fur storage warehouse yesterday and in a daring daylight robbery drove off with a truck load of fur coats and pelts valued at $315,000.

Fourteen employes were forced to lie face down on the floor for 30 minutes while the gunmen, three of them masked, loaded 350 coats and 30 bundles of persian lamb skins onto a truck.

The loss was estimated by Ralph Krause, 39, manager of the fur cleaning and storage shop. The U.S. Fur Cleaners at 643 n. Kedzie Ave. He said it was covered by insurance.

Of every 100 hen eggs placed in incubators, it estimated that about two dozen fail to hatch.

Twins Have Identical Thyroid Operations

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Twins Reba and Ruby Krummel are so alike they had to have identical thyroid operations at the same time.

The 14-year-old Decatur County sisters were recovering today at Methodist Hospital. Doctors said it was very unusual that they should develop the same glandular disturbance at the same time, but they weren't surprised.

They were born 10 minutes apart but have been doing thins identically and simultaneously ever since. However, they're wearing different colored pajames in the hospital—the nurses insisted on that.

Air Force Sending Bombers to England On Training Flight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is sending 20 Convair B36 bombers on a round-trip training flight to England next week.

An announcement yesterday said the planes, flying a few minutes apart, will leave Carswell Air Force Base at Fort Worth, Tex., about Wednesday and return some 10 days later. One stop is scheduled, at Limestone Air Force Base in Northern Maine.

Six B36 bombers made a similar round trip to England in February.

Fuel Oil Price Up .8 of Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fuel oil price increase of eight-tenths of a cent per gallon has been ordered on the East Coast next winter in a government effort to head off predicted shortages.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense, which forecast an acute scarcity, had recommended a 1.2-cents-a-gallon boost. The office of Price Stabilization opposed this, saying no more than a half-cent hike, if any, should be allowed.

Gamber Twins Cause Confusion But Win Honorman Ratings

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — The illusive Gamber twins, Harold G. and Howard D. of Sedalia, graduated from recruit training as honor men here at Marine Corps Recruit Depot after a hestic eight-weeks instruction that kept drill instructors, officers and persons who came in contact with them confused.

The honorman distinction, usually awarded to the most outstanding man in a recruit platoon upon graduation, for the first time went to two men. The Gamber twins excelled to such an outstanding degree in their training that it was near to impossible to choose between the two.

Both men received a 95.4 percent grade on their final recruit examination. The twins fired the M1 rifle for record and had near identical scores, which classified them as "sharpshooters." An oral test, given by the battalion training officer, could not determine the better twin, so the problem of awarding the honorman certificate was put in the hands of the battalion commander.

The battalion commander requested the Recruit Depot chief of staff to review the case. His decision was to give the honorman certificate to both Marines.

The twins, Harold the older by five minutes, and Howard, graduated from Smith-Cotton High School where they caused as much confusion as they did at the Recruit Depot.

The Gamber twins enlisted in the Marine Corps for three years at Kansas City, Mo., on March 31, 1952.

The ward of honorman was made here June 7 as the proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin W. Gamber, 1901 South Moniteau, watched the ceremony. Howard and Harold are driving to Sedalia with their parents for ten days leave.

Figures for heat, lights, power, gas and coal costs in the Sedalia public schools for the last two years were presented at a recent meeting of the Board of Education by Supt. Heber Hunt.

Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.—Copyright by Western Family

THE STORY: Rosemary Curtis, on a vacation in the Sierras, finds herself involved in a murder. Mrs. Ordell, wife of a college professor, has been stabbed. Rosemary herself is in danger and then the body of Mrs. Ordell disappears.

* * *

VI

PROFESSOR ORDELL was on the verge of collapse. An agonizing moan shook his spare, tall body and in a frantic whisper he said, "Where is she? Oh, my wife! Where?"

"Come with me," said Dr. David Roberts.

Led by Dr. Roberts, we walked around and around the tent in a widening circle while the Doctor played his light upon the earth and brush searching for some clue to this newest mystery.

"What are you looking for?" I whispered to the Doctor.

His lips close to my ear, he said. "I've known bears to drag a dead steer 15 feet or more. It's not a nice thought, but . . ."

"Bears could not untie those tent flaps!"

"True," he said. "Too true."

When finally we had found nothing, we began to retrace the wet dim trail to the lodge.

Professor Ordell sobbed audibly as we walked along. The Doctor said, "Please, Professor, remember this. The murderer returned to your wife for some reason. He cannot escape as quickly with her body."

But despite his kindly-meant words, my mind went to the black, unsounded depths of Gold Lake. How easy to dispose of what was left of poor Mrs. Ordell. Surely he realized that!

At that moment, Susie with a quick jerk pulled away from me and went back sniffing at the lonely tent.

We followed as fast as the path would permit. We saw her enter the tent and come out and, with muzzle to earth, she trotted again toward the stream.

She stood whimpering and whining by the deep, quiet pool just below the waterfall. Dr. Roberts played the light over the dim, rocky bank and across the dark water. The pool was perhaps 10 feet wide and appeared very deep. The men apparently saw nothing. But I saw a fern frond mashed against the rock by which it grew. No other clue to the disappearing corpse.

As we walked along toward the dimly-lighted lodge I slipped a little on wet pine needles. Dr. Roberts, just behind me, caught me in a strong embrace. It was the second time he had saved me from a fall. His lips were very near my ear as he whispered, "You shouldn't try to stay here!"

Like a fool I stood still in his arms until he released me slowly while he again whispered, "Get away because, my dear, there are those who believed that you are the reason for this tragedy! There are those who still believe you are Elsie Martinson."

"I am not," I protested. "I am Rosemary Curtis. Here is my wrist watch and the monogram is R. C." and I held my small watch in the glare of the torch. "I can show you my driver's license, too. I don't know this Elsie Martinson and I hope that I never meet her."

* * *

PROFESSOR ORDELL took the torch from Dr. Roberts and turned it into my face and said very solemnly, "Are you speaking the truth?"

"I am," I said.

"Then do leave at once. You have the misfortune — yes, tragic misfortune—to look like Elsie Martinson. There is no reason why you should be deprived of knowing that it is she who is taking a lease on this property from the bank in Sacramento. The bank is foreclosing on James. We who are here at the lodge don't want Elsie Martinson to come here. You look like her, very much. There is plenty of reason why no one wants her here."

His voice was stern but gentle. I realized how serious he was, yet I felt it was a simple case of mistaken identity that should be easily cleared up, so I pretended a bravado that I did not feel.

"But why should I go when I am not she?"

"Because," he said slowly in a voice little better than a whisper, "on the ridge just above us somewhere near Gold Lake lies money buried by the emigrants. The old trail followed by the covered wagons traverses this hogback of the range. There are iron-rust stains on the granite boulders to mark the way it takes. The iron tires of the old wagons scraped against those boulders and their stains of rust are clearly visible today. There are relics to mark the trails, too—iron, leather, a wagon wheel or broken axle. My wife—" and he choked on his words and was silent for a moment, "my wife—found a child's shoe there," and here he lowered his voice even more. "But no one, that we know of, has ever found the gold that the emigrants buried."

THE whole affair seemed a horrid dream. Yet as the Professor continued his stranger-than-fiction story, I remembered the reality of the bullet-hole in my fender, of the death of Mrs. Ordell, and the awful fact that her body had been stolen.

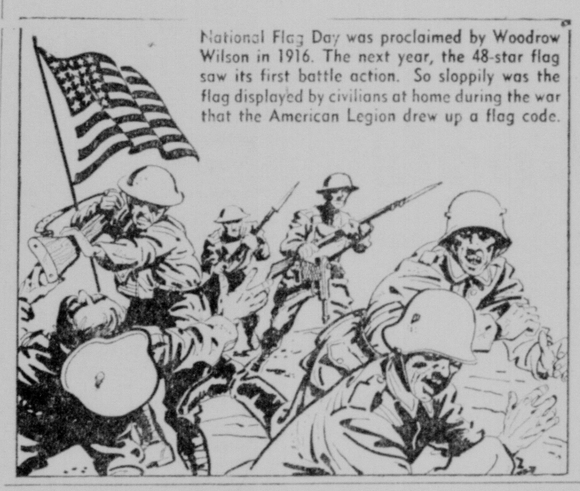

"There is a legend," the Professor continued, "that many thousands of dollars in gold are buried near the trail on this property. Through separate stories handed down to us from our pioneering ancestors, we all claim a part of that treasure and we don't propose to let Elsie Martinson have it. It is obvious that she has leased the land to procure it. The grandmothers and grandfathers of our group at the Lodge rode in the wagon-train that carried that gold. It was supposedly buried in a cache to be claimed later. To our knowledge it has never been unearthed."

Throughout this long speech Dr. Roberts had been quiet. "We'd better go," he said at last.

THE STORY OF OLD GLORY

By JAY HEAVILIN and ED KUDLATY

National Flag Day was proclaimed by Woodrow Wilson in 1916. The next year, the 48-star flag saw its first battle action. So sloppily was the flag displayed by civilians at home during the war that the American Legion drew up a flag code.

Not until the second World War, however, did the code become congressional law. As in World War I, Old Glory played a heroic role, perhaps best symbolized by her triumphant appearance atop Iwo Jima's Mount Suribachi even as the battle raged.

Today---Flag Day, 1952---our sacred symbol of freedom stands ready to welcome two more white stars to her proud blue canton, the stars of Hawaii and Alaska. Should the two territories succeed in winning statehood, the Star-Spangled Banner above will carry the faith of almost 152,000,000 people into the days of grim decision ahead.

"According to the "Quickies", cartoon on the classified page of your paper," said a young woman quite seriously to an advertising man on the Sedalia Democrat-Capital, "The classified ads can do anything."

The advertising man smiled. Personally, that is just the way he feels about any kind of an ad in the Democrat-Capital — and he likes for other people to feel that way, too.

"Yes they can", he said proudly and very sure of himself.

"Well", continued the woman, "We have just built a wren house, and we would like to have some wren tenants. Do you think an ad in the paper could get us some?"

"We had bean soup today", said a woman one day last week, "And I guess the ham must have been awful salty — because the bean soup was sure salty."

"I didn't know what to do with it", she continued. "I tried and tried to think what to put in it to take out the salt but I didn't know what to add. So I put in some soda. That didn't help. I looked for a book I had that told what to do in all kinds of cases like that — but I couldn't find the book."

Then she went on to say that her husband decided the bean soup needed more ham, so he added ham and it got even worse.

"You should have added a potato", someone told her — but with potatoes as hard to get as they have been lately, who would want to waste a potatoe on bean soup.

The sudden downpour of rain one evening at about 5 o'clock caught a good many people unprepared and, much as they wanted to go home, they hated to get out in such a rain.

However, some of them braved the rain and went forth in all kinds of regalia. Among them was a girl who works at the courthouse.

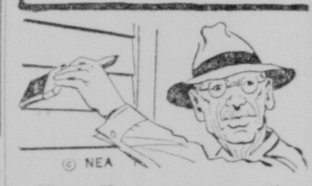

Her summer dress was thin and she began to look around for something to put on to wear home — there was not an umbrella, a raincoat or even just a coat in sight, so she made a skirt out of some newspapers. She clamped four of them together with paper clips and found a Boy Scout shirt which she put around her shoulders. then she looked about for something for her head. The only thing she could find was a typewriter cover, which she put on and tied in the back with a string. If she had been going to a masquerade she would certainly have won the prize for orginality — but she was all ready for the rain — at least she wasn't going to get wet — o she thought.

She went out into the rain and ran for her car — then she remembered a part of her anatomy she had completely forgotten — her feet — and by the time she got home they were soaked.

Next time she is either going to keep spare outfit at the office or stay in until the torrents of water become a drizzle.

Those Korean truce negotiations remind Joe Parks of the old-fashioned Quaker meetings he had to attend as a boy. Everybody just sat silent for hours, waiting for the Spirit to move them. You were in good company, though, which is more than the United Nations people enjoy with the Chinamen and Koreans, who wait for the propaganda spirit to move them, for the job, which also includes some work on the roof and guttering of the parochial school.

US Foreign Policy Being Formed by the Lobbyists

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — There are increasing signs that U. S. foreign policy, supposed to be formulated by the State Department with the advice and consent of the Senate, actually is being molded by Washington lobbyists.

One skillful lobbyist in particular, Charles Patrick Clark, has helped wangle money for Spain at a faster rate than France has been able to spend it. In the past two years, Congress has authorized or appropriated $187,500,000 for Franco, despite the fact that the White House and State Department have maintained these sums were not necessary.

So far, only about $59,800,000 of the total appropriated has been obligated, yet Congress, while preaching economy, has continued to appropriate money for Franco.

Some of the possible reasons for this unusual situation were disclosed in an earlier column which told how one Congressman, Eugene Keough of Brooklyn, Democrat, suddenly became the great champion of dictator Franco in 1949, after 11 years of congressional silence not only about Franco but about foreign affairs generally.

Congressman Keough's sudden championship of Franco came after he visited Madrid in October, 1949, where his pants, containing an amount reported in the press as $5,000, were stolen from a sleeping car; and also after Keough formed a close friendship with Charles Patrick Clark, the astute $100,000 lobbyist for Franco in Washington. Clark admits paying Keough $4,500 in 1950, the same year that the first big $62,500,000 loan was rammed through Congress, though Clark explains that this was for advice on a federal tax case.

This, however, is only one chapter showing how U. S. Foreign Policy has been formulated, not through normal State Department channels, but by a shrewd $100,000-a-year lobbyist. Here is a second installment in the amazing story.

Another Franco Friend

On the trip to Madrid in September, 1949, when Congressman Keough lost his pants, was none other than Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine. Brewster is a Republican, Keough a Democrat. But the two seem to have a strange fondness for turning up in foreign countries together in the company of Franco's lobbyist.

Not only did they turn up in Spain with Clark just before the big drive for a loan to Franco, but they later turned up in Venezuela together — another dictator country — with Clark.

On July 25 and Aug. 22, 1951, Lobbyist Clark was paid two checks by the Venezuelan government totaling $10,000.

And at exactly the same time, August, 1951, Brewster and Keough, who have nothing in common except Lobbyist Clark and an admiration for Franco, took a mysterious trip to Venezuela.

There are other strange coincidences about the operations of Messrs. Clark, Keough, and Brewster and the manner in which they have sometimes shaped the foreign policy of the United States.

It was in April, 1950, that the Spanish lobby staged its first big drive to include Spain in the Marshall Plan. It was in March and April, 1950, likewise that Franco-Lobbyist Clark began paying Congressman Keough checks averaging about $1,000 a month, allegedly for advice on a federal tax case—though it is against the law for a congressman to get paid for advice on federal tax cases.

Gin Rummy Game

On April 25, 1950, the Spanish Embassy sent Clark Check No. 4417 for $5,000 to cover "expenses." On the same day, April 25, Clark wrote out Check No. 3393 for $1,000, made out to cash, and asked his secretary to cash it at the Mayflower Hotel in $100 bills.

Clark told his secretary that he had a date to play gin rummy with Senator Brewster that evening. He also remarked: "Hurry up and get that check cashed or Brewster will be hopping mad." He did not state that he was paying Brewster the $1,000. Presumably he meant he would arouse Brewster's ire if he were late to the gin rummy game.

Clark had instructed his secretary to cash the check in $100 bills. She could not get that denomination at the hotel and had to take $10's and $20's.

Two days later, April 27, Senator Brewster introduced an amendment to the Marshall Plan appropriation to include Spain. He made the motion on the Senate Floor, delivered a speech supporting it, and then entered into the debate which followed. Near the conclusion of the debate, Brewster asked permission for an additional two minutes to speak in support of his Spanish amendment, and was given the time.

The Senate, however, voted him down, 42-35.

Four months later, after continued efforts by Brewster, Keough Senator McCarran of Nevada — who also had visited Franco—and an assist by another lobbyist, Max Truitt, son-in-law of Vice President Barkley, the Senate tacked a rider on an appropriations bill ok'ing $62,500,000 for Spain through the Export-Import Bank.

Senator Brewster, when queried onthe above matters, stated: "I don't know much about Clark's personal financial affairs. I have been a longtime advocate of aid to Spain, as you know; also an advocate of aid to Isreal, China and Indonesia. I have seen Clark from time to time, but as for the $1,000 episode, it had nothing to do with me."

Lobbyist Clark was queried as to whether he had made any financial or political contribution to Senator Brewster, directly or indirectly, prior to the Brewster Amendment for aid to Spain.

"Oh, there's nothing to that," he replied. "I've known Brewster a long time. I don't operate that way."

"What was the reason for your getting a thousand dollars in cash on April 25" Clark was asked.

"Oh, I cash checks all the time that way, and for even bigger amounts. I've had furniture to pay for and a lot of other things."

"But you saw Brewster later that day?" Clark was asked.

"I saw Brewster a lot of times," Clark replied. "One of my secretaries talked to the Justice Department about that incident, and they came around to see me, but there's nothing to it."

Clark did not deny that he had talked many times to both Brewster and Keough about Spain. He also admitted that he is the registered lobbyist for Franco, receiving $50,000 at the time the first Spanish loan was ok'd and getting $100,000 a year since that loan.

NOTE—While opinions differ regarding the importance of supporting Franco, and while in the opinion of this writer if we support Yugoslavia we should also support Spain, there can be no difference of opinion regarding the fact that foreign policy should not be decided by paid lobbyists but by the established channels of government.

The World Today—

HST--Only Happy Politician

By JAMES MARLOW

Since he says he wants to vacate his present premises and has nothing to lose personally, he can sit back and enjoy the show.

The Republicans, especially the Taft and eisenhower fans, are beating one another over the head with sticks that get harder every day.

Since that is an occupation which, if pursued with enough gusto, might wreck the Republican party, it can hardly displease Truman.

He wants his own Democrats to win, of course, but at the moment the democratic would-be presidents—at least those out in the open—are busy beating their gums.

Truman is letting them beat and hasn't named a favorite. He can afford to wait because his Democrats have at least one advantage over the Republicans in this campaign.

They hold their Chicago convention to pick a candidate almost two weeks after the Republicans have chosen theirs in the same place, a bit of political luxury enjoyed by the Democrats every four years.

This year, with their own race wide open, it may be quite a help to them—depending whatt he Republicans do—to be ablet omake a choice to fit the situation.

In fact some Democrats still hiding in the bushes with their suppressed desires fort he White House may come charging out if theyt hink the man the Republicans pick is one they can beat.

Once the conventions are over, Truman promises to taket o the road for his party's candidate. He knows the road pretty well, having been over it in 1948 with much success.

And if there's a gleam in Truman's eyes when he wakes up these days it may come from having dreams the Republicans, by their pre-convention and conventiont actics, may split themselves beyond repair.

A Tribute To Fathers!

There's an old saying that "Mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And this is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will . . . as all good fathers do!

Agency Tries To Forestall World Hunger

WASHINGTON (AP)—For nearly 10 years an international agency has been beating the drums for a broad attack on hunger, but so far with little success.

The agency, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, met in Rome again this week to renew its appeal for world co-operation.

The idea of a join-hands attack on hunger and malnutrition, and of the AO, was born at a historic conference held at Hot Springs, Va., in the early '40s. The prime mover was the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Broad, precedent-setting plans were outlined for teaching backward areas how to produce more food. Plans were made to build and maintain huge international reserves of food against emergencies and famines. Likewise, olans were sketched for stabilizing ever-fluctuating farm prices.

FAO appeared destined to become a powerful agency for world betterment. But then came the cleavage between Russia and its satellite countries on the one hand and Western Europe and the United States on the other.

The United States, which was footing most of the bill for the FAO, decided that for the sake of self-preservation it should concentrate on giving its help to countries which would stand by it in an international emergency.

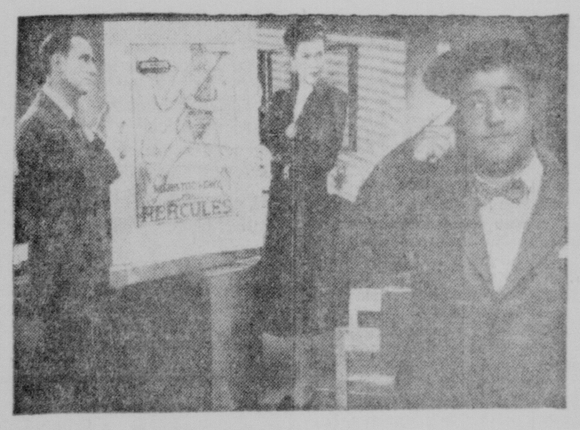

While maintaining membership in the FAO and contributing heavily to its operating expenses, the United States started going largely its own way in helping backward areas. The well-known Point Four program is an expression of this. Scores of U. S. technicians have been sent to backward areas chosen by the U. S. under Point Four to show farmers how to produce more food.

The same thing has happened with regard to the early FAO proposals for international food reserves. The United States itself is maintaining large reserves of food raw materials for use abroad.

Government farm production goals of recent years have stressed producing enough to help America's friends abroad in event of emergency. In the case of wheat, this country is attempting to maintain reserves nearly three times as large as those before World War II.

THESE SUPER-SALESMEN OF FUN, Abbott and Costello, are back on the 50 Hiway Drive-In theatre screen tonight for a three day engagement in "Little Giant." The cast also includes Brenda Joyce and Jacqueline de Wit.

QUO VADIS—The long-awaited "Quo Vadis" opens Wednesday for a four-day engagement at the Fox Theatre, with continuous performances throughout the run. Russians Going to Olympics And World Wonders About It

And the entire sports world is buzzing with gossip about what will happen to the Russian teams

The decision to let Soviet ath-

And the entir sports world is beuzzing with gossip about what will happn to the Russian teams at Helsinki next month.

Th decision to let Sovit athletes compete in the international games puts the Politburo to its Supreme test. The Communist leaders have held that their ideology has given Russia the world's greatest science, art and literature. Now they are going to show that ideology also builds better bodies.

Is a Communist muscle necessarily better than a liberty-loving muscle? The Soviet athletes are being sent to prove this. And it's not a pleasant spot to be in. They must feel like old Roman gladiators, told to win or face the consequences — a down-turned thumb.

Soviet athletes take their training seriously. One report is that they keep in shape by reading Karl Marx all morning and then taper off in the afternoon by wrestling live bears. Before going to bed they relax by doing full knee bends with a copy of the life of Stalin on each shoulder.

They will be alerted to any possible Western trickery. In this respect they can get a few tips from comrade Mikhail Botvinnik, the world chess champion.

Botvinnik ordinarily gets ready for a big match in Russia by walking, running and cycling. But he takes extraordinary measures to prepare himself for competition outside his own country.

"Before Botvinnik plays a match in a Western country, he spends three weeks with a companion, working out problems while a radio blares in the background and his companion blows smoke in his face."

Soviet leaders must be already a bit worried about the possible effect contact with the Western world will have on their athletes. And not without reason.

Let us imagine, for example, what happens when Ivan Ivanovich, a Russian weight lifter, meets up with Jim Biceps, an American contender. The first thing they do, of course, is feel each others muscles gingerly. All weight lifters do that. It is their way of saying "hello."

"Well, what will happen if you win the championship?" says Jim.

"I will get a foreman's job in my factory — perhaps also a Stalin medal," replies Ivan. "What will be your reward if you win" — and adds hastily — "not that it is possible."

"Oh, I'll turn pro," says Jim.

"What does that mean?" asks Ivan.

"Oh," says Biceps, "it means I'll probably get a job playing Tarzan in the movies. I'll also start manufacturing bar bells under my own name and a correspondence course in muscle building. Then there are the breakfast food endorsements, television appearances and a book on weight lifting.

"All in all, I suppose I will clear $100,000 the first year."

"That ain't rubles," sighs Ivan, enviously. But he will wander off, a Communist tainted for life, wondering why he can't get a chance to play Tarzan, too.

Once a horse sees hay it is hard to get him to eat sawdust — and like it.

To Girdle or Not To Girdle Seems To Be Question

By DOROTHY ROE

To girdle or not to girdle?

That is the question at present arousing heated controversy in the salons of fashion.

It started when designer Charles James announced the other day that the female form looks better uncorseted.

That depends, say a number of equally famous designers, on what shape the female form is in. Says Frances Sider, who designs both inner and outer fashions:

"What about the girl with the rubber tire middle? What about the lady with middle-aged spread? What about the one with the drooping bustline and the flopping hips? If you want to see the female form in its natural state, just take a look at Coney Island on a hot Sunday afternoon. You'll have to admit it usually looks far from divine, without a little restraint."

Says Lilly Dache, who has added bras to her growing list of hats, dresses, gloves and hosiery:

"You have to wear a foundation to achieve the uncorseted look. That's just another of those little deceptions which all smart women practice.

"Nobody wants to look stiff and girded, like the matrons of a generation or so ago. The natural look is what we are striving for—but it can't be too natural or it looks awful."

"I can't agree with Mr. James. Every model in my showroom wears a foundation, even if she's a size ten. I feel it is of the utmost importance, for the sake of posture as well as the figure. A judicious amount of restraint is a good thing, whether it applies to the figure, the diet or the conversation."

Then there is the final question which the girls are firing at James:

"If you don't wear a girdle, how are you going to keep your stockings up?"

Boz Thomas In Hollywood—

Betty Grable Going Back To Work After Year Off Lot

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The box office queen is working again after a year-long squabble with her studio, so it's time to pay a call and survey how things are shaping up with her.

The gal, of course, is Betty Grable, still rated the No. 1 female attraction by the nation's theater owners. When I found her, I discovered things are shaping up as admirably as usual.

In "The Farmer Takes a Wife," she plays a maid in the early days of the Erie Canal and thus wears long skirts. However, the script writers know better than to keep such obvious assets hidden. They have arranged for scenes in which Miss Grable gets in and out of bed, bathtubs, etc.

"I wasn't bitter about it," she remarked, "just a little hurt. I didn't like the way it was done. I had been working for 18 months steadily and I was mentally and physically exhausted. They wanted me to start work again right away, and I said I had to have two months to rest up in. So they put me on suspension. I didn't expect to get paid, but I didn't expect them to do it in such an impersonal way.

"Pretty soon the months went by, and I didn't miss working at all. I didn't take any trips or anything. I just spent the time with my family and my horses. I was never stage-struck, so I didn't miss picture work. I'm like that—happy with what I'm doing. When I'm in a picture, I'm happy because it's usually fun. But I can be just as happy at home doing nothing."

Betty also seemed hurt because the studio didn't urge her to come back. When she returned, it was on her own free will.

"I talked it over with Harry (James, her husband)," she said, "and we decided I might as well come back. The layoff was just extending the time I would be at the studio, since I have seven more pictures to do in any case. So I sent them a very formal telegram telling them I was ready, willing and Grable."

She added that the studio didn't have a script ready for her and didn't return her to the payroll until the last minute of a six-weeks' waiting period.

I mentioned that the Internal Revenue Department will no doubt be mad at the Jameses, since both were largely idle last year.

"They are," she said. "But not too mad. Harry and I expected to be paying hardly any income tax. So what happens? One of our horses, Big Noise, ended up earning $100,000 last year."

Capsule Review: "Lydia Bailey" is colorful adventure stuff that will please the less discerning film fans. If not taken too seriously, it can be enjoyable, since there is an abundance of action and color. Derived from the Kenneth Roberts novel, it is a rambling tale of revolution, war and passion in the Caribbean. On the debit side is the acting, which is never very convincing. Sole exception: William Marshall's robust portrait of King Dick.

Button Business Is Good

CHICAGO — (NEA) — No matter who wins, Chicago's button makers can't lose in 1952.

Early returns from the big political emblem manufacturers here, who make the bulk of the nation's campaign buttons, show they're already in their biggest season in history.

So far, as convention time approaches, they've made six million Eisenhower buttons, with Taft has ordered a million, and backers of Illinois Governor Adlai Stevenson, who said he wasn't running, are ordering buttons just the same.

Some idea of the size of the button business in a presidential year is indicated by the leading manufacturer in Chicago, who expects to turn out 100 million buttons in his shop. And that's just a share of the business.

The emblems are stamped out of lithographed sheets that bear as many as 400 impressions. At the Green Duck Metal Stamping Co., which claims about 80 per cent of the nation's button business, 2000 sheets an hour emerge from automatic ovens; that's 800,000 buttons.

Earl Butler, vice president of Green Duck, which has been in the business since 1906, explains all we care about is making buttons. We're not backing any candidate. We make buttons for both Republicans and Democrats"

The size of the order governs the cost of buttons. The one inch red, white and blue pin-on button costs from 10 to 15 cents on order of 100 or less. In lots of one million the price is about half a cent. Lapel tabs cost much less.

Two things are watched carefully by producers of political campaign buttons. None are made unless paid for in advance. All buttons bear the union made label.

"We insist on cash because we can never tell when a candidate might suddenly withdraw from the race leaving us with thousands of dollars worth of meaningless buttons on our hands," Butler says.

"And as for the union label: We print it on both the front and the back. Not even a candidate for dog catcher would dare to distribute a button without it."

A Kefauver bend-over lapel tab shaped like a coonskin cap is the most unusual design so far. Red, white and blue are standard colors, although some Taft emblems in black and orange are the next most popular color combination.

Expect Retail Buying Boom Will Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top government official expects retail buying to pick up and move along at a fast clip for quite a while and the government itself appears in no hurry to rem oevc otnrlorfsom no hurry to remove controls from prices of basic foods.

This outlook on business was revealed by two developments yesterday:

1. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said a year-long slump in sales has ended because the buyer's pocketbook has recovered from the emptying boom that followed the outbreak of the Korean War.

2. Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) officials indicated they would go slow on removing ceilings on food items in general consumption. This was their reaction to a letter by four retail food distribution trade groups—claiming to represent about 125,000 stores—who asked OPS to suspend controls on 233 food products.

Snyder, in addressing the Tennessee State Exchange Clubs in Memphis, said the slump in retail sales resulted from consumers rushing to buy after the Korean War started and having to use their income to pay off installment debts for those goods.

These debts have been paid off, the secretary said, and the public has built up tremendous savings. The budding boom, Snyder added, will be aided by the fact that many itms bought in th last rush ne to be replaced and manufacturers are putting new models on the market this year in competitive sales programs.

Snyder said the upward trend in buying has started, evidenced by three billion dollars more personal consumption expenditures in the first quarter of this year than during the previous quarter.

The four groups that petitioned Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall to suspend price controls on foods were the National Association of Retail Grocers, the Super Market Institute, the National Association of Food Chains and Cooperative Food Distributors of America.

They asked for removal of ceilings on most major food items now controlled. Excepted were fresh red meats, butter, fluid milk and baked goods including bread.

The group broke the list into two categories—64 food items in luxury foods.

OPS officials said "food prices still are sky high" and it would be a mistake to abandon ceilings on the 64 important items named by the petition.

One barometer to prices moved over potato prices was held largely responsible for shoving the government's wholesale prices up two-tenths of 1 per cent during the week ended June 10.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics index reported yesterday moved up to 111.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average—2.9 per cent below the average for January, 1951, when wage-price controls started.

Business Good

NEW YORK (AP) — Business was at a relatively high level throughout New York State in May, except for "depressed" industries such as apparel, shoes and small metal trades which continue to be soft.

A survey by the State Employment Service of 5,100 firms employing 250,000 workers indicates they foresee a 3 per cent increase in jobs by August. More than 700 of the business firms with defense contracts predict a 6 per cent expansion in employment.

The construction industry, also considered a soft area, may improve because of eased material curbs resulting from the defense stretch-out. Construction jobs rose in March for the first time in eight months to 94,800, or 4 per cent above totals of the previous month.

Appearance Doesn't Count

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia's Court of Appeals recently held a Moultrie, Ga. man could recover $1,000 from an automobile dealer because a car the latter sold as a 1949 model actually was a 1948 model.

The dealer's defense: the physical appearance of the 1948 and 1949 models of the car (Hudson) varied so little that he was unable to tell them apart and honestly believed he was selling a 1948 model.

Convicts Plant Trees

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Honor inmates from San Quentin and Soledad State Prisons are playing a big role in replanting California forest land charred by fires last year.

Honor inmates have been moved to camps in the forest areas in the Plumas, Modoc, Stanisluas and Sierra National Forests.

Maple Syrup Production Drops

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The 1952 maple syrup production in Michigan has been estimated at 92,000 gallons, 5 per cent less than last year, the federal-state crop reporting service said recently.

Producers made only 6,000 pounds of sugar this year compared to 16,000 pounds a year ago.

Harry Kolker Heads Tipton Lions Club

Mrs. T. R. Miller

TIPTON — New officers of the Lions Club were elected at the supper meeting Monday evening at Charlie's Crystal Cafe. Harry Kolker was named president, the outgoing head of the order being C. M. White.

Other officials include Claud Howard, Nelson Stonner and Nelson Norman, vice president; Lee Darby, treasurer; C. F. Wingate, tail twister; J. A. Conn, secretary; John Latham, lion tamer; Richard Conn, Dr. C. F. Luebbert, D. C. Bixler and Bill Jordan, directors.

The club voted to again sponsor the pet parade at the Tipton Fair, July 23, 24, 25, 26. The sum of $27 was paid out in premiums for this event last year.

St. Andrew's Catholic Church is to have a new rectory to be built on the site of the sisters' home, which is being razed.

Rev. H. J. Breit, pastor, states that the rectory will contain 12 rooms. It will be 36x61½ feet. It will consist of two floors with a full basement.

After completion of the rectory the former priests' home will be used as a convent and it will also undergo a series of alterations and improvements.

Rev. Breit announces two new entrances will be erected on the rear east and west sides of the church building and among other improvements the tower clock will be repaired.

Labor on this extensive building program of the parish is being donated by the parishioners.

Next Tuesday afternoon, June 17, a three-room summer house on the grounds will be auctioned off.

Frank Long was re-elected grand knight of Tipton Council No. 1360, Knights of Columbus at the annual election of officers in the council's chambers at St. Andrew's Catholic Church Wednesday evening.

Other reelectees were Bob Mussing, advocate and Elmer Miller, recorder.

Newly elected officers include Frank Miller, deputy grand knight Leonard Gerke, treasurer; Tony Koechner, chancellor; Bill Jordan, warden; James Thiel, inside guard Tom Knipp, outside guard; Paul Orscheln, trustee.

Installation ceremonies will be held during July.

The council voted to continue its series of newspaper advertisements prepared by the national council on Catholicism.

A freak tornado one day last week destroyed several outbuildings, tore down a chimney and uprooted several trees on the farm of Leo and Ed Miller, brothers, northwest of town.

Al Martin, factory executive and realtor, will leave July 12, for Europe where he will visit two months with his father, Joseph Martin at North Lille, France.

Mr. Martin will make the trip by plane and this will be his third air voyage to Europe.

Leaving La Guardia airfield at six in the evening he will be at his destination at one o'clock the following afternoon.

Mr. Martin's father, although 94 years of age, is exceptionally well considering his years and this visit between father and son is of great pleasure to both.

Construction of Tipton"s new city hall building is progressing and the contractor, Ewald Fischer states that the steel has arrived for the placing of the roof.

Mr. Fischer, owner of a sales and manufacturing company here, recently shipped a coin machine to Venezuela, the machine first going to Miami, Fla., being sent on from there by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Ferguson attended the golden wedding celebration of John and Lucy Friday at Clifton Hill Sunday. Mr. Friday, an uncle of Mrs. Ferguson, is the only living member of a family of four brothers.

Ted Bagwell and Bud Paillou, both of Licking, Mo., have completed the painting of the Standard oil bulk plants in Tipton. The tanks were painted white and the buildings gray.

Albert Faulwell is on a visit in Tipton the first time in 12 years. Accompanying him is his wife, the former Miss Helen Thiel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thiel of California and their four children, Wanda, 14; Dean, 12; Gerald, 10 and Sandra, 8.

Albert formerly worked in Tipton as a bookkeeper. He is now accountant with Federal Refrigerated Transportation, Inc., of Los Angeles.

Besides visiting Mrs. Thiel's parents the family will visit Albert's sister, Mrs. H. H. Hampton in Peoria, Ill., and his brothers, Marvin R. Faulwell in Warrensburg and Leslie R. Faulwell, Chilhowee.

They arrived Monday and plan on being back in Los Angeles, July 3.

Mrs. Harry Collins and Companion Visit In Panama

Couple Stays At Fashionable Hotel El Panama On Trip

Vacations sometimes come at the most unexpected times. For instance Mrs. Harry Collins, 629 East 11th, was very surprised when she found out that she had won a trip, expenses paid, to Panma the latter part of March.

For several years Mrs. Collins had been entering radio contests and she won this trip for completing an advertising slogan.

She was entitled to choose a traveling companion and both would spend a seven day vacation at the beautiful, modern El Panama Hotel.

Mrs. Collins chose Mrs. Doretta Waite, English teacher at Smith-Cotton High School, as her companion and the two left on their vacation April 1.

They went to Kansas City where they boarded a Braniff Airway luxury liner, the DC-6 El Conquistador. From Kansas City they flew to Dallas, Tex., where they visited Mrs. Waite's sons, Jerry and Dale, and their families. With four other contest winners they then left for Panama.

While in Panama the couple took a trip into the tropical mountain interior. While going through the jungle, Mrs. Collins said she was admiring the flowers when she ran across a corral snake, one of the most deadly of the reptiles. She said she was not scared, and later on she found out that the snake was dead.

Mrs. Collins said that both she and Mrs. Waite were impressed with the beautiful flowers which were growing in the jungle. She described the ferns, which were taller than humans, and the begonias as some of the most beautiful she had ever seen. Mrs. Collins added that some of these flowers were being sent back to America to be domesticated.

One of the most unusual sights on the trip, according to Mrs. Collins, were the square trees in the forests. She said that some of the trees were perfectly square for as high up as 30 feet. Another oddity, which both of the women found equally interesting, were the golden frogs, which were sparkling in the sun.

From the jungle out of Panama City they went to the El Valle De Anton where many varieties of citrus fruits are grown. Here they saw, besides the fruits, cocoa beans growing on the trees and many thousands of cashew nuts. Everywhere groups of natives would run out to visit with the travelers and try to sell them tropical fruits, nuts, baskets and even live parokets in bamboo cages. The thing about these people which impressed Mrs. Collins was that they always seemed happy. She said, "they always go around with a smile on their faces."

Later the couple made a visit to Panama La Vieja, which is an old part of Panama, where they visited the historic Morgans Bridge, which was the bridge from where all trails crossing the isthmus led.

Back in Panama City they made a trip to the National Museum. This, to Mrs. Collins, was the most interesting part of the trip for she is very interested in archaeology. While at the museum she met the director, Dr. Alejandro Mendez, who invited her to go on an archaeological expedition which he was getting ready to make for the Smithsonian Institute and the National Geographic Magazine. Mrs. Collins was very disappointed that she could not go on the expedition, but she was only in Panama for seven days.

In the museum she saw many pottery relics and stones. One of the most interesting things was a necklace made of human teeth, made years ago by the natives.

While in Panama the couple also visited the Canal Zone and crossed the isthmus to the Atlantic side, where they saw the Caribbean Sea.

Though they would like to have stayed a while longer, the couple was glad to return home. Mrs. Collins said this was the nicest surprise vacation she had ever received.

Mrs. Harry Collins, 629 East 11th and Mrs. Doretta Waite, 216 East Broadway, are shown above standing in the patio of the El Panama Hotel in Panama City, Panama, where they spent a seven-day vacation, which Mrs. Collins won on a contest the latter part of March.

Rail Fares Could Now Be Lowered

Action Depends On The Success Of Experiment

By T. E. APPLEGATE
(For SAM DAWSON)

NEW YORK (AP)—Basic charges for rail travel could be lowered if an experiment with reduced coach fares on Eastern railroads is successful this summer.

Any such move would reverse the higher trend that followed rising costs of operation after World War II.

Fifteen rail systems in the East plan to offer reductions of 25 per cent or more to small groups and families traveling between June 25 and Oct. 22.

It's a bid to fill up vacant space on train coaches.

If this happens, one rail executive said today, "it could prove a real turning point in fares."

Facts gained from actual experience are needed before any general move for fare reduction can come.

The cost of running a train is about the same whether it carries a full load of paying customers or empty seats.

So if you can be induced to leave the family auto at home and ride the coaches at reduced rates, the railroads can cut down or eliminate huge losses they now suffer from operating passenger trains. These losses last year totaled some 681 million dollars on Class I railroads (those doing gross business of a million or more annually).

Should the attraction of reduced fares put passenger service on a paying basis, as Eastern rail officials hope, it will be good news not only for all who travel but also for shippers whose freight payments have to cover present passenger losses.

These freight charges enter into the cost of nearly everything you buy.

So possibilities of the fare experiment are pretty broad.

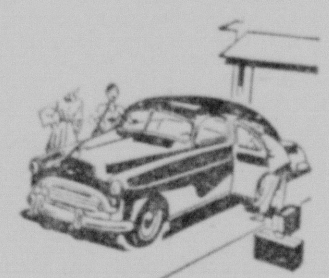

They extend far beyond the Eastern territory. Although the Union Pacific has a similar plan in effect in Idaho only, Western roads generally have not adopted the experiment. But they will be watching its outcome closely.

Condors are not only the largest birds of prey, but also the largest land birds of flight.

SpaBro Miniature Golf Course Opens on South Limit

For the first time in several years, miniature golf is available to the citizens of Sedalia.

Recently opened is the SpaBro Miniature Golf Course, 1119 South Limit. The course is open from 10 a.m. to midnight, Monday through Saturday, and from noon to midnight on Sundays.

The management of the course spent much time before it was constructed in visiting other miniature courses throughout the state to get ideas for the plans, which they completed themselves. To draw up the plans they chose the best holes from some of these courses and now have an 18 hole course which is one of the best in the Midwest.

To keep the course modern, arrangements hav been made to visit other miniature courses at various times to look for various plans and then changes will be made as they are needed.

Since the course opened on Sunday, June 1, several hundred people from the ages of eight to 80 have played the course. On Saturday, May 31, the course was open for free play so that the people of the Sedalia community could familiarize themselves with the game and how it is played.

The course will be open until the first of October, or as long as the weather will permit.

The management furnishes the balls, clubs and scorecards for the players which are marked with the par for each hole.

The idea behind the course is told in the motto of the management, which is, "A Nice Place for Nice People."

In establishing a policy to govern the course, so that all types of people will feel welcome, the management does not allow any profanity or rowdiness at the course. Also, for the safety of the players, no driving is allowed.

Soon the management hopes to have the course beautified with flowers so that it will be a place of relaxation, fun and beauty.

To provide an incentive for the people of Sedalia to play minature golf a free game is given to the low scorer in each foursome that visits the course.

Here are the rules which govern the course: for the safety of others do not hit the balls hard; no more than four to the group; you must keep up with the group ahead; after a hole is played do not replay or practice; after all members of the party have teed off, the one fartherest from the hole will putt first and continue to putt until the ball is in the cup; when ball rolls against form, it may be set in six inches to make the play; when the ball goes out of bounds, set on course six inches from curb at point where ball went out, and count one additional stroke.

The score card also has a place where the player may fill in his previous score to determine his progress.

Bomb Clouds Daily In West To Make Rain

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—Cloud formations moving toward Central Washington's Yakima and Wenatchee Valleys are being bombarded daily in secret, opposing experiments financed by wheat growers who want rain and fruit farmers who don't.

One set of attacks is designed to punch holes in the clouds to bring rain. The other seeks to disperse the clouds without rainfall.

Both sides are secretive about the operations, but Yakima and Wenatchee newspapers reported the "wet" and "dry" campaigns were under way, with the dry forces claiming a preliminary victory.

It's a critical time for both, with rain needed in the wheat fields and the cherry harvest starting. Rain causes ripening cherries to split and damages other "soft fruits" at harvest time.

Farmers in Central Washington's big wheat producing district hired the Water Resources Corporation of Denver as a rain-maker the past two years.

The firm uses ground generators principally to bombard clouds with silver iodide, but cherry growers here said they heard rain-makers also were operating from planes this week.

Soft fruit growers, blaming rain-makers for damage to their crops last year, hired an anti-rain-maker this year. Growers voted to assess themselves $1 a ton of cherries, and Jack M. Hubbard, Olympia, Wash., meteorologist, was hired to ward off the rain.

Hubbard has been mysterious about his operations, methods and equipment, but the Yakima Republic reported he was "dashing from point to point in the valley to aid his ground forces as black clouds threaten."

(Dr. Phil E. Church, University of Washington meteorologist, said the anti-rain-makers probably would use the same method as the rainmakers, only stronger. He said the likely method would be to over-seed. Successful seeding depends on bombarding clouds with silver iodide which collects moisture particles until their weight causes it to fall.

(Over-seeding would result in wider distribution of the limited moisture particles on the silver iodide, preventing it from forming large and heavy enough drops to fall.)

The rain-stoppers claimed success as the cherry harvest got under way with only occasional showers this week.

Two Sedalia Men Will Take Trip Around The World

The Rev. David M. Bryan, With Dr. O. J. Durnell, Local Dentist, Will Leave Sedalia On June 21st

No matter where you are going, preparing for a vacation is always a busy and sometimes difficult job. There are clothes to be pressed, packing to be done and seemingly a million other little things to do. Most people go through this pre-vacation frustration even if they are just visiting the next town. Imagine the turmoil that would result from planning a trip around the world. This is just what two Sedalians are doing.

THE REV. DAVID M. BRYAN, who will conduct a 'round the world flight for the Kansas City Agents of TWA and other large air lines. The tour will start June 25th when the group leaves from San Francisco. They will spend three months touring foreign lands and meeting government officials of those countries.

On July 25, the Rev. Mr. David M. Bryan, pastor of the First Christian Church, and Dr. O. J. Durnell, local dentist, will leave on the first leg of their 'round the world voyage which Mr. Bryan is conducting for the Protestant Travel Service of Kansas City by arrangements with agents for TWA and other large air lines.

Dr. O. J. Durnell

To Portugal First

Mr. Bryan, who will have charge of a group of 20 ministers, churchmen and a few businessmen, is not new at the task, however, for he just returned in February of 1951 from a trip which covered Europe and the Middle East.

On his last trip Mr. Bryan, after the usual difficulties of preparing for his journey, which included obtaining passports, visas and a birth certificate, left New York by TWA for Lisbon, Portugal. While on his trip the Democrat - Capital ran a series of articles written by Mr. Bryan which told of the various places he visited and the many points of interest.

From Lisbon he went to Barcelona and traveled by rail through Spain and across southern France. He told of his traveling companions on this trip who were an Argentine chemist, a French school teacher and an engineer from Geneva, Switzerland, at whose home he next stopped.

Stops In Switzerland

He went from Geneva to Lucerne and Milan, Italy. At Milan he stopped long enough to see da Vinci's famous painting of "The Last Supper" and visited in the Cathedral of Milan. He visited the famous buildings of culture and art in Florence from where he went to Rome.

In Rome Mr. Bryan and several other ministers were given an audience with Pope Pius XII and visited the Basilica of St. Peter in the Vatican City. While in Rome he also made a visit into the underground caverns where the early Christians buried their dead and held worship services.

Climbs Acropolis

From Rome he flew to Athens, where he climbed the famous Acropolis hill to visit the ruins of the Parthenon. While in Athens the Rev. Mr. Bryan visited with Marshall Leolucedas, the chamberlain to the king and marshal of the court. At Athens he boarded an airliner which flew him to Cairo, Egypt, whre he visitd the pyramids and the sphinx of the long dead Egyptian kings. Here he told of the misery and poverty in which he found the common Egyptian people.

Goes To Holy Land

The most intresting places, and one of the most important reasons why he took the journey were the Biblical settings of the Nile River, the Negeb, the Red Sea and the lands around Palestine which Rev. Mr. Bryan visited after leaving Cairo.

He flew across the Steppes of Moab, the Jordan River and Jericho to Jerusalem. From here he visited Jericho and Bethlehem and drank from the Well of Jacob, where Jesus often stopped. After visiting in Samaria, the homeland of the Good Samaritan of the Bible, Mr. Bryan crossed the military lines and entered Israel, then a new state. While in Israel he visited in Tel Aviv, one of its largest cities. From here he retraced a portion of his journey and then flew to Paris, where he arrived in time to witness the arrival of General Eisenhower.

Sees Napoleon's Tomb

In Paris he visited Napoleon's tomb and other points of interest and then left for Amsterdan in northern Holland. From here he flew to London and then to the United States by way of Ireland and the Azores Islands.

The Rev. Mr. Bryan described his trip as an experience which he will never forget and he is looking forward to a return visit to some of these places on the new vacation which he is planning for this summer.

In preparing for the round the world flight, which he will begin by leaving Sedalia on July 21, Mr. Bryan has compiled a notebook of great length on the history, culture and other items of interest on the people and the places he will visit. This, he said, increases the interest and enjoyment of his travels greatly as he found on the trip to Europe in 1951.

Starts With Hawaii

The notebook starts with the Hawaiian Islands which he will visit first and continues with every country he will visit until he reaches the United States on October 5.

Local Men Will Take Trip 'Round The World

After leaving San Francisco on July 25, the first stop on the voyage will be in Honolulu, where Rev. Mr. Bryan will visit a former schoolmate and tour several of the islands. From Hawaii he will go to the Canton Islands from where he will fly to the primitive Fiji Islands. This is one of the places to which Mr. Bryan says he is looking with special interest.

To Land Down Under

In August the group will arrive in Australia where on August 3 and August 10 Rev. Mr. Bryan will preach in Sydney and Melbourne respectively. While in Australia he will also attend a World Convention of the Churches of Christ.

From Australia the group will fly to Singapore, the City of Lions, which is located on the Malayan Peninsula. Rev. Bryan explained the name "the City of Lions" as a reference to the hundreds of people which were eaten by lions which entered the suburbs of this jungle-edge city. Mr. Bryan said that there was a slight possibility that he would be able to meet J. W. Fullerton, formerly of Sedalia, in Singapore, who is attached with the consullary service in Medan, Sumatra. However, he said the connections might be difficult to make.

To Meet Siam Officials

The next stop will be in the extremely oriental city of Bangkok, the capital city of Thailand, formerly called Siam. Here the group will receive an appointment to talk to various government officials. They also will visit a mission station 100 miles from Bangkok. From here the party will go to Rangoon, Burma, and then to Calcutta, India, and Nagpur, located in the Central Provinces, where they will be met by several missionaries and will visit a mission station close by. From Nagpur, Mr. Bryan said, he would either go back to Calcutta or to Karachi, Pakistan, which is in the western sector of Pakistan.

Spends Time In Bagdad

The group will then fly over Pakistan and Iran, directly across the Abadan oil fields, to Basra, which is located in the extreme southeast corner of Iraq and then up over the Tigris - Euphrates Valley to Bagdad, where they will spend a considerable amount of time. Here also they will interview leaders in the government, arranged for them by the Society of American Friends of the Middle East. While in the Tigris - Euphrates Valley the group will visit what is accepted to be the site of the Garden of Eden and will visit the ruins of ancient Babylon from where they will go to Beirut (pronounced Beyroot) the capital city of Lebanon, where they will tour three different countries in Chrysler automobiles from America. While in Lebanon they will also tour the ruins of Baalbek.

From Beirut the group will cross over to Damascus and tour a great portion of Syria and then swing around to the Trans - Jordan area where they will visit Amman, the capital city of the Hashimite Kingdom of Jordan.

Visit To Jerico

Next he will go down the Jordan Valley to Jericho, where he will visit the Arab Development Society, which is headed by Moussa Bey Alami. From here the group will go to Jerusalem, where they will spend considerable time in visiting the surrounding country including Bethlehem, Samaria, Hebron and Sheckem.

From here the churchmen will go to Israel and will visit the land of Nazerath and Capernaum. They plan to spend one night on the Sea of Galilee. Rev. Mr. Bryan said that he visited the sea on his last trip, but this time he was looking forward to spending a night in a little seaside hotel on its shores.

Plan Stop In Turkey

The group will also stop in Tel Aviv, one of the largest cities of Israel, from where they will fly to Istanbul, Turkey. Here the group will spend many days and will visit several government officials.

After leaving Turkey the group will go to Athens, Greece, from where they will make an overland trip to Corinth, the famous city from where Paul wrote his letters to the Romans. They will then return to Athens and from there they will fly to Rome. After visiting several places of interest in Rome they will visit Naples and Pompey and will view Mt. Vesuveus. From Pompey they will return to Rome and then travel to Florence and Naples.

Hopes To Visit Trieste

Mr. Bryan said that he hopes to be able to visit Trieste after leaving Naples, where he will visit a mail acquaintance with whom he has been corresponding.

If he is able to get to Trieste, he will fly to Geneva, Switzerland, and then to London via Paris.

At London Mr. Bryan will establish headquarters from which he will visit: Cologne and Berlin, Germany; Copenhagen, Denmark; Oslo, Norway; Madrid, Spain; Lisbon, Portugal, and then Shannon, Ireland. From Shannon he said, at last, he would board a TWA airliner and his destination is home.

Then his vacation of three months and a trip around the world will be over. It will be over only in travel, however, for Mr. Bryan and the other men who are making the trip will have for many years the memories and photographic recollections of one of the most extensive, if not, interesting vacations.

The readers of the Democrat-Capital will be able to share in this vacation with Rev. Bryan and Dr. Durnell as arrangements have been made whereby Mr. Bryan will again write a series of articles on his experiences abroad which will be printed as they are received.

New 'Resident On Park Avenue

NEW YORK, (AP)—Park Avenue has a new "resident"—a 29-story glass and stainless steel office building on "stilts".

It's the six million dollar "Lever House", headquarters of Lever Brothers. The building appears to rise on stainless steel columns. There are 1,404 green and blue-tinted windows.

A POPULAR SPOT at the teacher's resort near Mountain View, Mo., is this shelter house where the teachers dance to old-time tunes, played in the typical Ozark fashion, or meet to enjoy themselves in other recreation. The house was contributed to the teachers by the Green County teachers.

Missouri Teacher's Resort Is Open

Land For The Bunker Hill Ranch Resort Was Donated By a Former Sedalian

The teachers of Missouri have one of the longest vacation periods of any professional group in the state. Some of them use that period to catch up on work around their homes and others fill in their summer with part time jobs, but many of them spend the vacation of three months in traveling, sightseeing and relaxing.

For those, however, who do not wish to leave Missouri, there is a special resort in the Ozarks which has been constructed for the benefit of Missouri teachers.

The resort is the Bunker Hill Resort Ranch, located on the Jack's Fork River of the Ozarks in Shannon County. At this resort, which was left to the teachers in Missouri by E. T. Behrens, a former Sedalian, modern improvements have been made and several cabins have been erected.

Vast 2,800-Acre Layout

Mr. Behrens, who lived in Sedalia his entire life, except for the last few years when he went to live on this 2,080-acre site, deeded the resort to Missouri teachers in his will.

Mr. Behrens, who was an uncle of Charley Behrens, 601 West Fifth, was the editor and publisher of three different papers in Sedalia. He formerly published the Sedalia Independent, a daily, a Sedalia weekly and a labor paper.

Copies of these papers and other personal effects of Mr. Behrens will be placed in the E. T. Behrens Memorial Hall at the camp site as soon as plans for the building have been completed and it is constructed.

This camp is an ideal spot for a vacation. It offers facilities for fishing, swimming, hiking, mountain climbing, outdoor games, including shuffleboard, badminton, horseshoe pitching, volleyball and croquet, boating, float trips, horseback riding, square and round dancing, steak fries, or just plain relaxation.

Add Shelter House

Recently a shelter house was added to the ranch by the Green County Teachers Association. Other teachers' asociations, such as the one in Sedalia, have sent contributions for further improvements.

The beautiful Jack's Fork of the Current River, fed by innumerable springs and noted for its many varieties of game fish, including small-mouth bass, goggle-eye, perch, crappie, channel cat and jack salmon, flows directly through the ranch resort. Within its boundaries there is over a mile of river containing numerous enticing "fishing holes."

Swim Pool, Too

The camp site iself consists of a natural terrace one-four mile in length and which has an elevation of 20 to 24 feet above the river bank.

The bathing pool, just a few steps from cottages and cabins, is one-fourth mile in length, has a sandy bottom from very shallow to six feet deep at natural stage and is over 100 feet wide. Owing to the width of the river, the swift current is arrested at this point and the water drifts lazily through, making it safe for the tiniest tot and the most inexperienced swimmer.

Rates Quite Reasonable

The camp is run for the use of teachers, their families and friends and is a non-profit organization. The nominal fee which is charged for cabins and meals is put back into the camp in the form of improvements.

The rates for the camp are: for meals and lodging, one person daily, $4.50; one person weekly, $26; light housekeeping cottages for two, $20 per week. Special rates are given on meals for small children.

To obtain a reservation for the ranch on Current River, write: Bunker Hill Ranch Resort, Mountain View, or call 9-7-21, Mountain View, Mo.

Mark Twain Caves

A mile or two below Hannibal in the bluffs along the Mississippi River are the famous Mark Twain caves, where Tom and Becky Thatcher were lost, Injun Joe died and Huck Finn and Tom discovered a treasure.

The Henry Heitmans Have Hand Built Cabin at Lake

For several years Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heitman, 1400 West Fourth, have spent their vacation at their cabin, which is located on Heits Point on Cole Camp Creek near the Lakeside Estates.

The cabin, which actually is a modern five room house which includes a sleeping porch and full basement with garage, is situated on a 37 acre waterfront tract.

The cabin was built by Mr. Heitman, who is a druggist at Yunker and Lierman Drug Company, and his brother-in-law, Henry Cordes, who started the work in 1933. From that time on they worked on the construction of the cabin on week-ends and vacations until Mr. Cordes' death, when Mr. Heitman completed the building.

On the side of the cabin, which is located on the top of a steep hill that leads down to the water front, isa tall chimney which Mr. Heitman built by hand. In constructing this fireplace he hauled water from Sedalia to mix the cement rather than carry it up the steep incline.

The site offers facilities for boating, which the Heitmans have just recently taken up, swimming, fishing and hiking. Mr. Heitman said also that there are tremendous facilities for work.

The Heitmans spend their vacation, and every possible week-end, at the cabin where Mrs. Heitman has many Iris beds and other flowers.

The rocks which were used in building the fireplace came from the lake site as did many of the other materials which were used in building the house.

The Heitmans used to have several varieties of fruit trees on their lake site, but they were killed by a severe drought several years ago.

The cabin site is secluded, but near other cabins, most of which are owned by fellow Sedalians. The Heitmans and these other Sedalians all agree that the Cole Camp Creek is one of the most desirable places to spend a vacation or any leisure time available.

Doctor Active At 88

GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP) — A country doctor here thinks retirement is for sissies.

Dr. C. C. Violett, 88, still makes his round of house calls as briskly as a man half his age. Practicing for 50 years, the doctor says he has ushered about 5,000 infants into the world—a sizeable amount for a general practitioner.

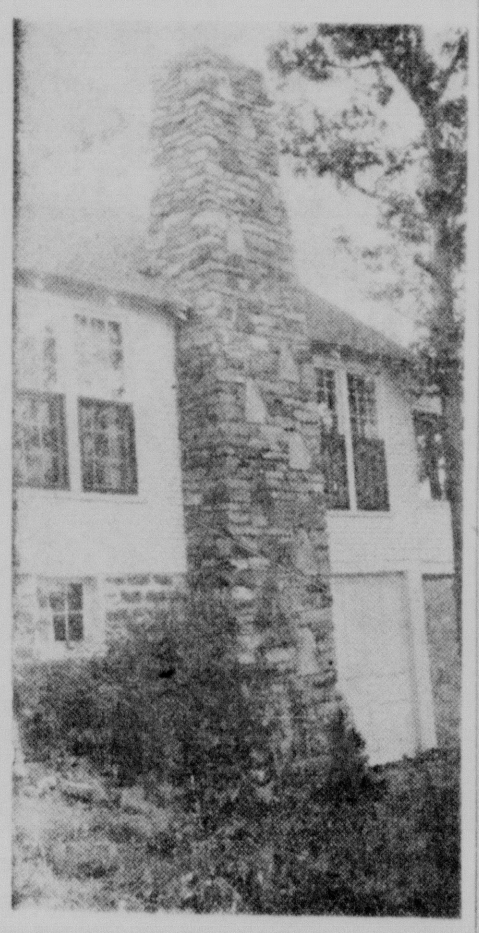

When patients ask how he keeps so active, Dr. Violett tells them:

1. Eat and drink well but refrain from all types of stiumlants.
2. Keep active mentally and physically.
3. Take a cold shower every morning.
4. Don't sleep too much (the doctor sleeps six hours a night).

Ancient Tombs Found

ROME (AP) — A large number of ancient tombs have been found during excavations near Naples, and in Northeastern Sicily.

The first group was uncovered near Caivano, in the province of Naples, where some 70 bronze vases were found scattered in 16 tombs. A second group of tombs nearby led to the finding of 51 bronze vases and several bronze coins belonging to the Fourth and Third centuries B.C.

School's Out; Sun Is Shining, Vacation Time Is Here

Summer Wardrobe Case And The Swimming Pool Open In Proof

Vacation time is here again! Swimming trunks, riding breeches, tennis racquets, golf clubs and fishing poles of all shapes, varieties and colors are being dragged out of inactivity and many families are "off on their vacations." Some will go to Europe, some to California, others to New York and still others will stay right in their own back yard or in the house under the sun lamp.

Vacationers are out in forces this year that are stronger than ever before. Mrs. Ida J. Longan, secretary at the AAA office here, said that in May of this year she planned over 103 vacation trips for people who were traveling to Europe, Mexico, and all over the Ozark region.

The vacation planning business is much heavier than ever before and records have been set in the number who have applied for vacation plans.

To those, however, who are waiting for their ship to come in or who are not certain that the world conditions call for a trip abroad, there is one consolation and one thing to do. That is to "see Missouri first."

Here in our own state there are "worlds" of sport, entertainment or just plain relaxation. We have in the boundaries of Missouri a virtual gold mine of pleasures, ripe for the picking.

Whether you like to hike, fish, swim, play golf, hunt fossils, dance, eat, sleep or just plain do nothing, Missouri offers the best in that line. It could be too that you are the spectator type. Well, Missouri has opera, baseball, golf matches by pros and amateurs, theatres and many scenic wonders.

Even in our own area there are many opportunities for an enjoyable vacation. In Sedalia itself we have the State Fair, which serves as a vacation spot for outstaters and Missourians as well as being available for local people. Sedalia has public and private golf courses, a new swimming pool, many colorful rivers and creeks for fishing and swimming, and easily within our reach are hundreds of other entertainments. Elsewhere in this issue there will be articles on many of these local facilities.

But now for other vacation spots in Missouri.

Excelsor Springs, which is just a little over 100 miles northwest of Sedalia, offers a variety of relaxations and pleasures. Here we find the nationally famous Elms resort hotel with its own bridle paths, tennis courts, swimming pool and tourist service. Also there is fishing available at Maurer Lake at the Excelsior Springs park. And not to be overlooked is the famous Hall of Waters where one can find many different types of mineral water and rest facilities.

Nearly 50 miles northeast of Sedalia is the Arrow Rock State Park, which is the home of scenic picnic grounds and playgrounds. There also are historic landmarks such as the old Arrow Rock tavern and jail, built in 1871.

Most Sedalians are familiar with the beautiful Montserat State Parfk which is located just outside Knob Noster, Mo. At this park there are numerous cabins and streams for fishing and many trails through thick woods for hiking.

Van Meter State Park, located 14 miles northwest of Marshall, has excellent picnicking facilities in its 546 acres of shaded land and has benches and open air stoves for use by campers.

Pertle Springs, south of Warrensburg, is an 80-acre park which is privately owned, but available to the public at a nominal charge. Here cabins, outdoor ovens, picnicking facilities and boats are provided.

Familiar to many Sedalians, especially the youth, is the old rock quarry at Warrensburg, which is well marked and serves as a secluded and colorful swimming hole.

At Lexington and several other towns in Missouri, there are museums and relics of the Civil War which afford a great interest for those who are history minded.

And not to be forgotten is the Missouri River which stretches out the width of the whole state and offers an unlimited supply of fishing, boating and swimming.

Elsewhere in the state there are streams, brooks, rivers and lakes teeming with fish and available for water sports. There is major league baseball, both National and American Leagues. There are forests and woods to be explored and numerous resort camps on the Lake of the Ozarks.

Truly, for those who plan a vacation that they will long remember, they should "see Missouri first."

German Scouts

KITCHENER, Canada (AP) — First meeting of a Boy Scout troop composed entirely of German-speaking boys was held here recently. The six who attended, all members of families recently arrived from Europe, will form the nucleus of what may be a much larger troop. They now are in various stages of learning English.

Old Chiefs Never Die

CALGARY, Candda (AP) — There are enough retired police chiefs and fire chiefs here to form a baseball team now. Five fire chiefs and four police chiefs have retired on reaching pensionable age since 1943.

Bolivar Statue

Standing just south of Bolivar, Mo., is the statue of Simon Bolivar which was dedicated at a special service in which President Romulo Gallegos of Venezuela and President Harry S. Truman took part.

It was placed in honor of the famous South American hero for which the town was named.

White House Shows Off Its Brand New Dress

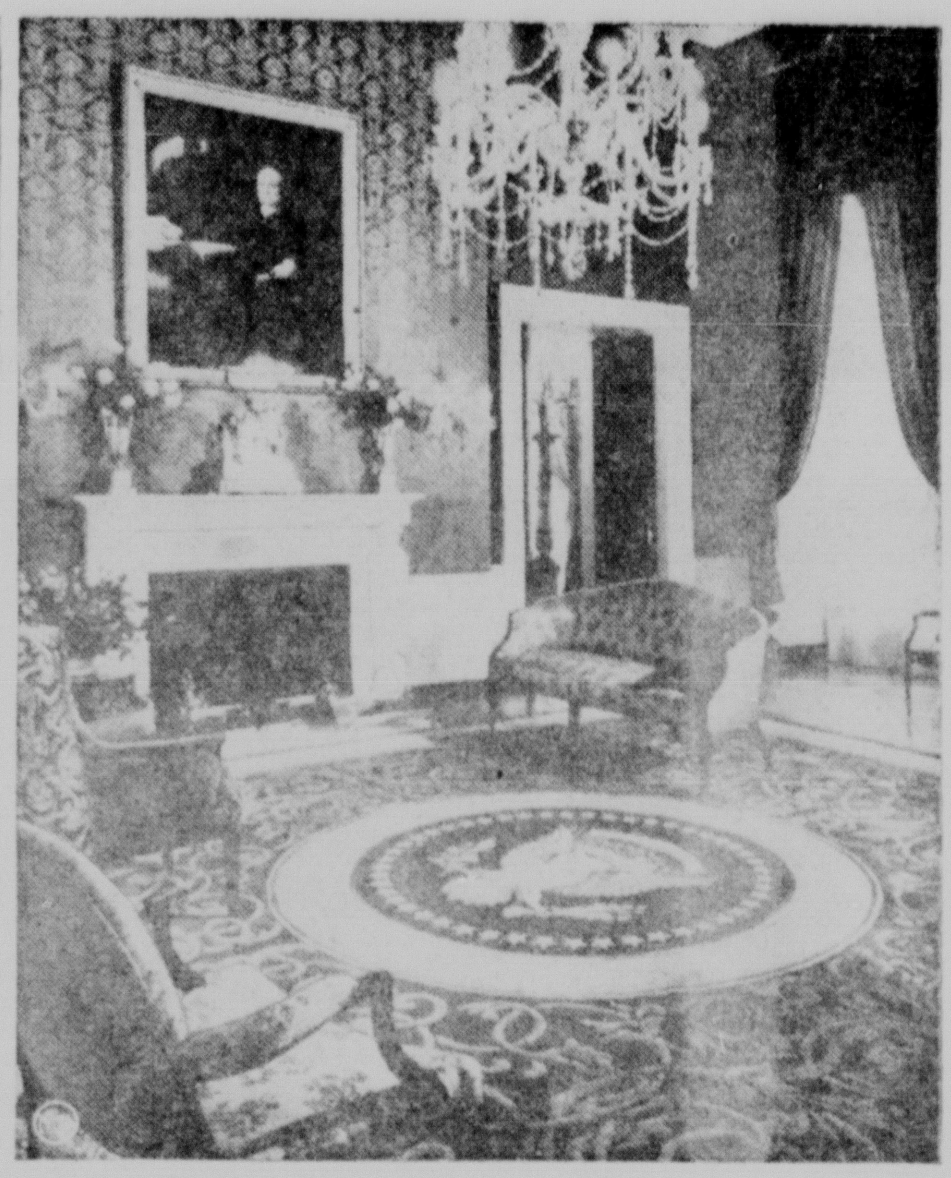

Here are some of the first pictures released of the interior of the now completely renovated White House, made since President Truman and his family moved back in from their temporary quarters in Blair House. Right is the "new look" of the famous Green Room, so called from its green and gold decorative scheme. Dominating the new furnishings is the great seal of the President of the United States in the specially woven rug. At left, top, is the "something new" that has been added to the White House. It is the spacious, window-walled solarium installed on the top floor. At left, below, is the President's second floor study. The portrait of his mother, on the far wall, and the piano, at the near side of the fireplace, give it a personal touch.

Poorer Grades For Younger Children

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Children who enroll in school at too early an age earn the poorest grades, says H.M. Davis, supervising principal at River Edge.

Writing in the New Jersey Educational Review, he reports studies of first grade pupils under 6 show a higher percentage of low marks than those over that age.

"A child of 5 is 25 per cent older than one who is 4," he writes. "To insist that a 4-year-old enter school and compete with 5-year-olds, is the same as to insist that a 16-year-old boy fight with 20-year-old men not once or twice, but day after day."

Whoopers Off To The Unknown

NEW YORK (AP) — America's most publicized bird, the whooping crane, has started its annual flight north, to possible extinction.

At a new low ebb of 23 wild birds (plus two in captivity), the species has a fighting chance to survive. It depends on the hazards of migration, on conditions at their unknown nesting ground in the far North, and on whether two dozen birds are too small a number to provide the spirit or whatever it is that makes a species live on.

Two Schools Closed

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The Thailand government has closed two Chinese schools in the kingdom, one for propagating aCommunism, the other for violating teaching reglations.

Blaze Gets Personal Attention

DILLON, Mont. (AP) — Firemen who were summoned to a motel to fight a blaze made the run for nothing.

Off duty, assistant fire chief Ken Kenison had controlled the flames. He owned the motel.

Within the park system in Sedalia here are facilities for all ages of people and most of these facilities are in the best of condition. The local parks offer a vacation site here in Sedalia itself. They afford opportunities for swimming, fishing, baseball, picnicing, roller skating, game playing and a variety of other vacation pleasures.

The largest, and the most extensively equipped, is Liberty Park which is located in the central west portion of the city.

This park is comprised of over 6 acres with modern equipment being added all the time. At Liberty Park you will find fishing in the park lagoon which is famous all over the state, ovens which have been built just recently for picnicers, tables and benches on the picnic grounds, and a modern shelter house which was erected for local citizens by the Sedalia Rotary club. Also for recreation there are slides, swings, roller skating, jungle jims, teeter totters, and even a miniature train for the children.

There are concession stands both at the picnic grounds and by the new, modern $125,000 swimming pool. The Liberty Park ball diamond is located just east of the new swimming pool and is used all summer by local baseball clubs for the finest ball games in the midwest. Also just north of the swimming pool there is a practice diamond which is also used for softball by some youngsters.

Recently the Sedalia park board spent around $1,500 in repairing the walks around the swimming pool and making several improvements on the pool itself, which handles around 300 people a day during the summer.

Also for the comfort and for the beautification of the park the board has purchased a new lighting system of about $7,000 which will be similar to the new street lighting in Sedalia. These lights are supposed to be set up by August 3.

The parking areas of the park have been improved and the location of the train has been moved to the old tennis courts so as to provide more picnic space in the park.

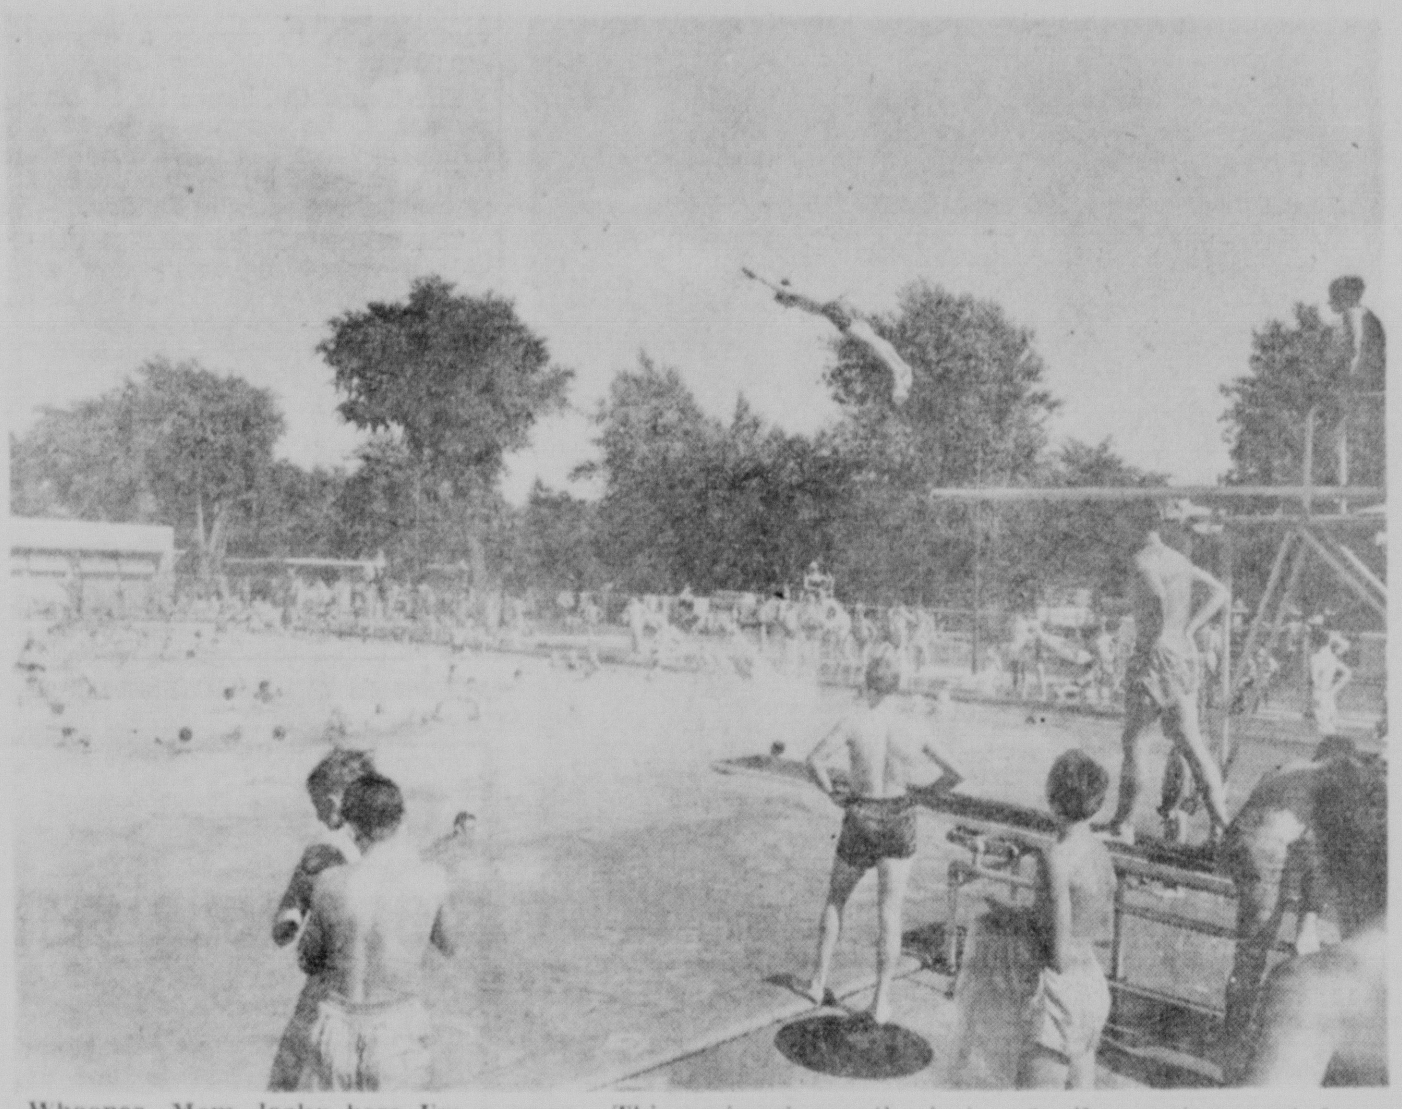

As for recreational programs in the park there are band concerts which are given on Thursday nights in the summer by the Kroencke Concert Band. Also there is a recreational program for the youth this summer which is being headed by George Thompson. The park is used from 9 to 12 a.m. five days a week for this program which is sponsored by the local merchants.

Not to be overlooked in the improvements which are being added to the park is the Jenny Jaynes Lewis Memorial Foundation building project which is expected to be completed later this summer. By this fund a new football stadium and recreational center with croquet, tennis, shuffleboard and other game area is to be established. Already grading and clearing for several of the projects has been completed and construction itself will begin soon.

Already Liberty Park is one of the most outstanding in the midwest and with its new improvements and additions it should become one of the most popular vacation spots for the local citizen.

Located in the northwest section of Sedalia is the Hubbard Park for the negros of this community. Hubbard Park is equipped with a new swimming pool which was built at the same time the one in Liberty Park was constructed. Recently the park board expended $500 on repairing the sidewalks around the pool and on improvement of the pool itself. This park which is comprised of about 15 acres, offers facilities for croquet; picnicing, with new stoves; and baseball. Recently $2,000 was spent by the park board in improving the scenery of the park by clearing shrubbery and improving and grading the ball diamonds and picnic grounds.

At Hubbard there is also a children's game center where there are slides, jungle jims, swings, teeter totters, and merry-go-rounds.

Whoopee, Mom, looky here I'm a swan. This swimming enthusiast and other water sport fans can enjoy a wet vacation at the Liberty Park swimming pool which is starting its second season this summer.

At Washington Park which is located in the central east part of Sedalia there are similar facilities as in the other local parks. Here there are modern picnicing grounds with new ovens, slides, swings, teeter totters, and a merry - go - round. A concession stand is also located on this site. This park is located in the site where the old Missouri - Kansas - Texas Railroad hsopital used to stand. The property is presently being leased by the city and is not a possession of the city. However, its facilities are varied and well kept and many people visit the park daily.

Formerly the "Coal Shute Bin" ball diamond, Housel Park is now the "Home of the Little League" of Sedalia. The park is used every night except Saturday and Sunday by the Little Leaguers who are providing some of the most exciting baseball in Sedalia for the season. The spectator's stand has been improved and a modern lighting system has been established at the park. Also here in the northeast portion of the city there is a playground for the children with swings, slides and other facilities.

Center Park which is located on 16th and Center streets is in the southeast portion of the city and serves as a game headquarters for 10 local softball teams. Here also modern lighting has been erected on the softball diamond and new improvements are being planned for the park. The park board is now negotiating for additional land to be added to the park on which they will erect a game and recreation center.

The area in the southwest section of Sedalia which is known as Pfeiffers Woods has been purchased by the city of Sedalia for another park. It is being cleared of some shrubbery and will soon be turned into a playground area for children in that portion of the city.

The park system in Sedalia is expanding rapidly and is becoming one of the most outstanding in the state.

The parks are under the jurisdiction of the park board whose members are: Jack Cunningham, president; Frank Mehl, secretary-treasurer; A. W. Haller, Harry Walch, William H. Bunn and Jack Alpert.

The annual budget of the park is around $20,000 and is used for upkeep of the parks and paying the maintenance personnel.

Lloyd Kirkpatrick is the superintendent of maintenance of all the Gregory of Washington Park; C. P. Kelly of Center Park and J. R. Lee of Hubbard Park. The managers of the Liberty Park swimming pool are P. A. Sillers and Forrest Drake.

All of these men have one purpose in mind and that is to provide recreational facilities for all of the people in Sedalia and to provide modern, well kept facilities for vacationing in the parks of Sedalia.

Sedalians Work At Yellowstone

Every summer there is a mass migration of college students, high school graduates and school teachers to Yellowstone National Park.

This summer seven people from Sedalia went to work at Yellowstone, where they will serve at various jobs and enjoy the facilities there for square dancing, swimming, fishing and sight-seeing.

The members of this group will be working at either the Old Faithful Lodge or the Lake Lodge in Yellowstone.

Most of the employees at the lodges are college students and they usually represent all 48 states and some foreign countries.

Reservations for the jobs must be made early in the spring and when it comes time to leave there are usually some student traveling plans which are made specially for those working at Yellowstone.

Miss Chadwick Plans Just Four More Big Swims

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—Four more swims and Florence Chadwick is going to call it quits, "win, lose or die."

The only woman to swim the English Channel both ways, the 32-year old former stenographer is going to take one final crack at the Channel in August in an attempt to break Tom Blower's record for the England to France crossing.

Before she heads for England this summer, the attractive, vivacious mermaid has mapped out an ambitious program in which she'll attempt to break three other records.

First on her agenda is June 28 Catalina Island to the mainland trip. She hopes to break George Young's record for that crossing.

Then she will head for Beirut, Lebanon for a crack at the Hellespoint (Dardanelles). Once that little chore of five miles if over, she'll move on to Tarifa, Sapin, and churn across the shark-infested Straits of Gibraltar.

Oil Field Flooded

CENTRALIA, Ill., (AP)—A new twist in oil production from a Southern Illinois field calls for building an artificial water system vast enough to supply a city of 200,000.

The Texas Co. hopes its 25-acre project, to be completed in 1953, will help force 500 million dollars worth of vital oil to the surface of the Lake Centralia field.

The water will be used to provide pressure in recovering oil which otherwise would be be left underground after previously used methods were stopped as no longer economical. The Texas Co., says the field's life will be extended 20 years.

Five oil-bearing strata underlying 20,000 acres will be flooded. A Texas Co. spokesman estimated it would take 8,650,000,000 gallons of water to fill the space voided by oil and gas since the field's discovery in 1937.

Reds Complain About Jazz

BELGRADE, (AP) — The newspaper Borba, voice of Marshal Tito's Communist Party, recently complained that there is too much "jazz". And had jazz at that.

Few who have listened to some attempts to strike the same notes as top American bands would disagree.

Borba agreed that jazz itself is okay. But with this condition! "Only when the composer and reproducing artist are talented and masters of their profesison."

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Walter Make Visit to Central America

In Yucatan Visited Mayan Indian Ruins; Travel Banana Boat

Dr. A. L. Walter, 1000 West Seventh, has made many interesting vacation trips out of the United States in the past several years, some to Mexico and others to Canada, but April 12 he and Mrs. Walter returned from one of their most interesting and extensive vacations.

This trip took them to Havana, Cuba, Guatemala, El Salvadore and the Yucatan Peninsula.

Served Bananas and Bananas

Dr. Walter said this portion of the voyage was very interesting and that it was quite evident that he was on a banana boat for when they boarded the ship there were bananas piled on trays for the passengers and during the voyage they were served bananas in almost every possible form.

The first stop the ship made was in Havana, Cuba, for three days after which it docked at Puerto Barrios, Guatemala. Here the Walters boarded an airliner and flew to Guatemala City, which is the capital of this little Central American country.

Dr. Walter described Guatemala City as rather modern, but obviously foreign. From Guatemala City the Walters took a five-day tour into the Guatemalan Highlands. Dr. Walter considered this one of the most interesting excursions of the trip and was very impressed with the people of the lake country. He said they were very primitive native Indians, whose chief mode of transportation was on foot. Everything was very primitive, he said, with the exception of several very well staffed tourist hotels.

See Inactive Volcanos

While in the highlands they visited Lakes Amatitalan and Atitlan which are surrounded by inactive volcanos. One of the interesting features described by Dr. Walter was the market place, where the villages go to trade their various goods.

The furthest place out in the highlands that the Walters visited was Chichicastenango, where they witnessed the worship rites of the Indians, who were burning incense to their pagan gods. (See picture of Indians at the shrine.)

Go to Edge of Crater

The Walters then returned to Guatemala City from where they flew to El Salvador. The greater portion of their visit there was spent in a trip to a volcano which is not now active, but which has been recently. They were able to reach the edge of the crater where they peered down inside and viewed the cone of the big mountain. All around the base of the volcano are coffee plantations, which have sometimes been destroyed by eruptions.

From El Salvador they flew to the Yucatan Peninsula where they visited the Mayan Indian ruins at Chichen-Itza.

The ruins which they visited were discovered some 75 years ago, but were only recently excavated and rebuilt. Here they saw the great pyramid, El Castillo, the Temple of the Warriors, the astronomical observatory, used by the Indians many centuries ago, and the ball courts. Dr. Walter told of the story behind the ball court which was merely a wall about 500 feet long. He said that the game played on the wall was a combination of soccer and basketball. The losing team's captain was beheaded by the winner and a cemetery is close by where the losers were buried with honors.

Visit Sacred Well

The main objective of the trip was, according to Dr. Walter, to visit the "Sacred Well" at Chichen-Itza. This well is the home of the Mayan rain god, Chac, who was supposed to live in the bottom. In the drought the most beautiful virgin of the settlement was selected and after rites on the pyramid she was decorated with jewelry and thrown to the god as his bride. If Chac approved of the girl the drought was ended and it rained.

After the visit to Chichen-Itza, the Walters flew back to New Orleans and then came by train back to Sedalia where they arrived on April 22.

Geigers Visit Old Indian Ruins During Trip to Peru

The latter part of January Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Geiger, 912 South Prospect returned from a vacation trip to South and Central America. They went to Lima, Peru, where they visited Capt. and Mrs. James Hamilton, with whom they were acquainted when Capt. Hamilton was stationed at the SAFB seven years ago.

Dr. Geiger said the Hamiltons had been urging them to visit in Peru for some time, so last January he and Mrs. Geiger decided to make the trip.

They left Sedalia on New Year's Day and went by train to New Orleans from where they flew to Guatemala City. En route from Guatemala City to Panama City they visited in several other Central American capitals.

From Panama City, where they spent one day, Dr. and Mrs. Geiger flew on an overnight flight to Lima, where they spent three weeks in the Hamilton home.

While in Peru they visited at Cuzco in the Andies mountains, where some of the old Inca Indian civilization ruins were found. Later they visited the actual Inca ruins at Macchu Picchu, which were not discovered unti 1912 by Hiram Bingham a U. S. Senator. To get to Macchu Picchu they took a trian down along the Urabamba River, which is a tributary of the Amazon River. Dr. Geiger said these ruins were made available to the tourists and modern transportation to them was provided.

In Peru, where it was summer, the Geigers saw many old historic sights such as the tomb of the Spanish conqueror, Pizzaro, and other relics of old Spanish civilizations.

When they left Peru they boarded the Santa Luisa, a Grace Line steamer, and spent three days in traveling to Panama City. From Panama City they flew to New Orleans and then returned to Sedalia by train.

Dr. Geiger said they would probably never have taken such a trip without their association with Capt. and Mrs. Hamilton, but that it was one of their most pleasant vacations.

Missouri Capitol Should Be Seen

If you are one of those who plan to "See Missouri First", certainly a first on your list should be the state capitol at Jefferson City. This building has been called the most beautiful Capitol of the 48 states.

The present capitol was completed more than 25 years ago to replace the capitol which had been destroyed by fire at St. Charles, Mo. The cost of construction was $4,000,000. Experts day that the building could not be duplicated today for even $25,000,000.

The building is constructed of native marble from Carthage. It is 437 feet long and 200 feet wide with 134 fluted columns which stand 48 feet high. In constructing the building some 765 carloads of stone were used.

Throughout the capitol there are paintings and sketchings made by the famous Missouri artist, Thomas Hart Benton. A museum comprises the whole center of the first floor (main floor) with office rooms in the basement on the second and third floors also.

On the third floor, the Senate and the House of Representatives meet in their rooms, the latter of which is usually open to the public.

Conducted tours of the building are made three times every morning and three times each afternoon, except Saturday, by trained guides.

Only recently the murals and paintings in the building have been cleaned and retouched and the outside of the building itself has been sand and steam blasted to bring out its original beauty. Certainly you should not miss the state capitol if you have an extra day on your vacation agenda this summer.

On Site of Ft. Woods

Gone With The Wind

ATLANTA (AP) — Only a few of the many thousands of pages that made up the manuscript for the record - breaking novel "Gone With the Wind" remain in xistence. Stephens Mitchell, brother of the author, Margaret Mitchell, disclosed recently that after Miss Mitchell's death her husband, John R. Marsh, burned most of the manuscript in accordance with her wishes.

The few remaining pages were stored in a vault to be used in the event of any legal questions arising as to the authenticity of authorship. The original manuscript had been sought by many libraries but Miss Mitchell didn't want to leave any personal belongings in existence after her death.

Mitchell said this feeling of his sister's about personal possessions even applied to the family home on Peachtree Street, now occupied by himself. She had requested that it never pass outside the family so after Mitchell moves in the near future it is to be torn down. Marsh's death this year left Stephens Mitchell as his sister's heir.

Australian's Lecture Tour

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A 39-year-old Australian newsman is back at his Wichita typewriter, after a four months' lecture tour in ten states — Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Utah, Missouri, Texas, Mississippi, California and Colorado, as well as Kansas.

Reid and his family flew to Wichita from Australia in September, 1948. They came here for special training for their oldest boy, John, now 10. Encephalitis, following measles, had left John physically active but retarded, unable to speak or understand.

John's still making good but slow progress at the Institute of Logopedics.

Improvements Are Made At Local Lake

Catholic Community Center Has Installed New Water System

Since its establishment as a recreation center for the people of Sedalia some five years ago, the Catholic Community Center, which is located about 4½ miles south of Sedalia, has become a mecca for Sedalians who have not been able to get away on an extended vacation.

A new water system, which includes a pressure pump and faucets on the picnic ground and at the dance floor, has been added. The land surrounding the center has been beautified and plans are now being made to construct a shelter house over the dance floor.

The purpose of the center, which was donated by Fred Sheets to the Catholics of the Sedalia community, is to provide a place of entertainment for the entire public on a non - profit basis. It is available for family picnics, parties and dancing.

A two acre lake was constructed on the 20 acre tract after it was donated. This affords an opportunity for swimming and boating for those who find it difficult to go farther away than the immediate vicinity of Sedalia. Now that the lake has been stocked with fish by the state, there is also a chance for good fishing close to home.

The center has bath houses, which were constructed after the lake was built, and docks for the boats. All of the facilities have been improved and are available to the public.

The Rev. A. J. Brunswick, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, urges all people who are interested in the types of sport and recreation offered by the center to take advantage of these facilities and use the Community Center.

Later this month a fish fry will be held at the center and a picnic has been planned for the middle of July. But, meantime, the center is open for the use of residents of the Sedalia community.

Monument to Bland

Richard Parks Bland, called Lebanon's most distinguished citizen, has been immortalized in a statue which is located on the courthouse square in Lebanon. Bland was elected to the national House of Representatives 12 times and his slogan of "free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to one" became even more famous than he. He lives in the pages of history as "Silver Dick" Bland.

A Local Retired Teacher Revisits Vacation Spots

During the past 32 years Miss Hallie Holmesley, retired teacher at Broadway School, has taken a vacation trip to the Pacific Coast every summer with the exception of last year when she went to St. Louis and in 1935 when she traveled to Europe.

Miss Holmesley, who taugh at Broadway for 32½ years, retired at the end of the recent school term, but she said that her retirement will not change her traveling habits at all.

For instance, she will go to the Pacific Coast again this summer to visit her sister in the state of Washington and to make a car trip down the coast of California. While in California she will visit Oceanside and Los Angeles, where she will stay with friends. After leaving California she will go to Portland, Ore., where she taught before coming to Sedalia, and then to Seattle, Wash.

During her trips to the West, Miss Holmesley has visited mainly in Washington, where she says it is so cool, on Puget Sound and various beach resorts along the Pacific Coast. Three of the summers she spent at a beach resort at Newport, Ore., from where she and her sister drove around in the mountains and along the coast.

Miss Holmesley said her plans now are not definite, but she may return to Washington to live.

In 1935 Miss Holmesley and Miss Blanche Wood, then an instructor at Whittier School, went on a trip to Europe. While there they visited in England, France, Switzerland, Belgium and Germany. The trip lasted two months. Now Miss Holmesley says she is looking forward to another trip to Europe a little later, when she will go with a niece and her husband, who is from Switzerland. She said her niece, Mrs Didia Frei, and Mr. Frei, of St. Louis, plan to return to Europe where they will visit Mr. Frei's relatives.

Plans for the present, however, include a trip West this summer and then later in the fall a visit to Florida. Miss Holmesley said the main object of her vacations is to rest and keep cool.

See 'Cardiff Hill' At Hannibal, Mo.

Rising nearly 200 feet above the Mississippi River at Hannibal, Mo., atop "Cardiff Hill", stands the Mark Twain Memorial Lighthouse. The lighthouse was dedicated in 1935 by President Franklin Roosevelt, when he opened the Mark Twain Centennial Celebration.

This hill is actually Holliday's Hill, named for a Mrs. Holliday who once lived at the top and burned a light in her window every night as a guide for the river pilots.

Red Terror Continues

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — The leading British rubber planting body in Malaya declares that despite countrywide resettlement of squatters in areas free of Communist terrorists, there is no improvement in the situation.

The United Planting Association of Malaya, in its report for 1951, said planters still lived in continual danger and could not relax security precautions.

Without the "steadfastness and courage" of the planters, said the report, "the situation in the rural areas would have rapidly deteriorated to a state of savagery and chaos."

State Parks Afford Many Opportunities For Rest

When travelers visiting in Missouri or the people who live in the state get away from the towns and cities, there is much in beauty and recreation to be found in Missouri's State Park system.

When "Seeing Missouri First" these parks should not be overlooked for they offer a wonderful assortment of vacation pleasures which are either free or available at low costs.

The parks are continually being improved and added to for the recreation of everyone and to visit them can be one of the finest ways to spend an entire vacation.

Approximately 60 miles southwest of St. Louis is Meramec State Park, which provides good boating, riding, fishing, swimming, camping and picnicing in the Meramec River Valley. Here a nature museum is maintained with the outstanding fisher cave which is open to the public. The park has overnight cabins and an excellent dining lodge.

Nearly the same distance from St. Louis near De Soto, Mo., is the Washington State Park. This is a hilly region with miles of nature trails for hiking and nature study. A major attraction of this park is the petroglyphs or stone carvings of some pre-historic age. Modern overnight cabins and a dining lodge are also found in this park.

Thirteen miles east of Piedmont, Mo., on highway 34 is the Sam A. Baker State Park on the St. Francois River and Big Creek, which furnish canoeing, fishing, swimming and wading. The entire area is rough and heavily timbered with a great distance of nature and bridle trails. Here also you will find modern cabins and a dining lodge.

South of Charleston 25 miles is the Big Oak Tree State Park which is essentially a timber preserve, a portion of which is virgin oak, hickory, and cypress. It is the home of the Big Oak Tree which is 145 feet tall and over 23 feet in circumference. Camping and picnicing grounds are available, also hiking trails.

Four miles south of Van Buren, Mo., is Big Spring State Park.. Imagine if you can a spring flowing 534,000,000 gallons daily from a ledge in a mountain side, then flowing to a junction nearby with the Current River. Equipment such as picnic and camping areas, nature and bridle trails, boating, fishing, a playfield, cabins and a dining lodge make this park an ideal vacation spot.

The next stop might be west of Eminence, Mo., at the Alley Spring State Park. Picnic and camping facilities are located here in the Jack's Fork River Valley which is surrounded by a picturesque wilderness. Among many attractions are the large spring, the old red mill, bass fishing, picnicing, camping, swimming nature trails and cabins.

Round Spring State Park, 12 miles north of Eminence on highway 19, derives its name from a most unusual spring which rises through a natural rock bowl 30 feet high and 80 feet in diameter, overflowing through a natural bridge into the spring branch, then into the Current River. There is also a good location for picnicing and fishing.

Two miles west of Laclede is Pershing State Park, a memorial to the late General John J. Pershing. Picnicing and camping grounds are available here.

Ten miles east of Warrensburg is Knob Noster State Park with modern group camps, each with concrete swimming pools supplied with chlorinated deep well water, electric lighted picnic areas and miles of foot and nature trails.

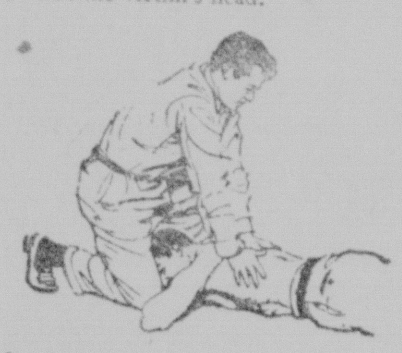

There are just a few of the state parks which are available for your pleasure. For further information about these parks and the others over the state write: State Park Board, 315½ East High Street, Jefferson City, Mo.

You Are the First-Aider

Place the victim prone (face down) with elbows bent, one hand on the other, head to one side, cheek resting on folded hands. Kneel on one knee — or both, if you achieve better balance — at the victim's head.

1. Place your hands on the flat of the victim's back, below the armpits, with your thumbs barely touching, fingers spread outward and downward.

2. Rock forward slowly, keeping your elbows straight, until your arms are nearly vertical, thus exerting a steady downward pressure.

Continue to rock backward.

4. As you rock backward, rock and pull the victim's arms toward you until you feel tension in his shoulders. Start over with Step 1. Repeat the full cycle about 12 times a minute.

Important: When the victim begins to breathe on his own, synchronize your efforts with his breathing until he breathes strongly. Then stop.

Approved Method of Artificial Respiration

In the swimming season just ahead, artificial respiration will often spell the difference between a life saved or lost. Lois Mattox Miller describes in the April Reader's Digest a method of artificial respiration (illustrated above) which has been approved by the Red Cross, the Civil Defense Administration, the U. S. Public Health Service, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and many other groups.

Little League Receives A Franchise In Sedalia And Local

Rotary Club Boy's Commmittee Under The Rev. Glen Lindley, Brings Little League Here

During the summer vacation most people have an opportunity of seeing some sort of baseball game. This summer the people of Sedalia are fortunate in being able to see one of the most spirited and entertaining forms of America's favorite sport.

During June, July and August there will be plenty of baseball on every level from semi - pro down to sand lotters, but one of the most interesting groups to watch will be the new Little Leaguers.

Sedalia is very proud of the start which has been made in establishing the Little League in Sedalia, but few know the story behind this organization and how it came to us.

Last August during his vacation, Rev. Mr. Glen Lindley, pastor of the First Congregational - Presbyterian Church, had the chance to be a spectator at a district baseball game in Princeton, Ill., between the Northern Illinois and Iowa Little Leaguers.

As Rev. Mr. Lindley came away from that game he was convinced that Sedalia should have the same type program under the National Little League. As a member of the Rotary Club's boys work committee, Rev. Lindley had a chance to carry his idea farther and soon he had the remainder of the committee, which included P. A. Sillers and Charles Hofheins, solidly behind him.

After much consideration, the committee presented the idea to the Rotary Club itself, which voted unanimously to sponsor such a program. Soon the Rotary Club was joined by the Jaycees, the Elks and the Kiwanis, all of which contributed $300 for uniforms.

Bringing the Little League to Sedalia was not quite that easy, though, for the national headquarters is strict as to the members which it accepts, and the matter was considered carefully.

Little League baseball is designed for the local community. It must not be commercialized for it is completely amateur and non-profit. Any violations of this rule are brought to the attention of the national headquarters, which may recall the franchise.

The first objective of the league is not to produce baseball stars, which it does automatically, but to develop good citizens and good Americans.

Little League baseball is big league baseball adapted to the mental and physical capacities of boys 12 years of age and under. It is regulation baseball with several exceptions such as size of field, distance of pitcher's mound to home plate, number of innings and distance between bases and equipment.

Little League baseball was organized in 1939 in Williamsport, Pa., by Carl E. Stotz, a native of Williamsport, who realized that boys 12 and under needed competition in their own age group with field and other equipment trimmed down to their size.

That was in 1939. The idea was an immediate success and the growth of this brand of baseball has been great since that time. In 1951 there were 776 leagues comprising 3,333 teams with approximately 60,000 boys under the roster of regular first teams. In addition to this more than 150,000 boys found places on farm teams.

Little League is found in 38 states and operates also in Alaska, Hawaii, Canada, Canal Zone, Puerto Rico and Cuba.

The process which is used to bring Little League baseball to a community is complicated and its success depends entirely upon the interest in that community.

The first requirement, before applying for a franchise, is to gain the public interest and support.

The next step includes a meeting with a temporary chairman to select the various committees which are to handle the league's affairs. These committee's include the committee for field procurement and development, the finance committee, committee to procure team sponsors, committee to procure team managers, committee to procure equipment, committee to procure umpires and committee on league constitution.

The committees are composed of three representatives from each of the local service clubs which are sponsoring the Little League in Sedalia.

The officers of the local Little League are: president, the Rev. Mr. Glen Lindley; vice - president, Kenneth Miller; secretary, Herb Brandes; and treasurer, Lloyd Phillips.

The team managers for the various sponsoring clubs are; for Rotary, Cecil Dump; for Kiwanis, George Ray; for the Jaycees, George Thompson; and for the Elks, Paul Mines.

Sedalia Little League is composed of four major teams of 15 players each and eight minor teams with approximately 20 players each. The major squads will have full game uniforms and the minors will have caps and "T" shirts.

The Sedalia park board has granted the Little League the use of Housel Park for practice sessions and games, and a Little League diamond has been erected there.

The size of the diamond is very important in the Little League and it permits the youngsters to play a faster and more exciting game. The size which has been adopted is 60 feet between bases, 44 feet between the pitcher's mound and home plate, with varying sizes for the bases and the pitcher's and batter's plate. The outfield fence should not be less than 180 feet from the point of homeplate at the foul lines and not less than 190 feet at the center field.

There is no admission charge to the Little League games as this is prohibited by the national organization. However, the spectators may contribute to the finance of the organization if they wish.

The Little League is non denominational and no race or creed restrictions are placed on the players. This is one of the most important regulations in Little League baseball.

The directors of the Little League hope through this regulation to promote tolerance and brotherhood between the different groups by putting them together in competitive sportsmanship. They believe also that this tolerance will spread to the parents of the Little League players and thus to the whole community.

The Rev. Mr. Lindley and "Dick" Sklar have spent many hours in repairing and altering the Housel Park diamond and bleachers for the use of the players and the spectators.

They are convinced that this Little League playing will be grand entertainment for local baseball fans. Wherever Little League baseball has been played it has been spirited and well received.

All the civic clubs which are sponsoring the Little League and their directors and officers hope that Sedalia will receive Little League baseball well and that it will become a great tradition here in Sedalia.

The end of the season will be highlighted by tournament play to which the youngsters are looking forward.

The directors of Little League think that with this goal in mind the present game will become more important to the youngsters and they will be playing their hearts out to win and to promote good sportsmanship which will make for better entertainment for Sedalia fans.

Schedules of game times, place and teams playing have been run in the Democrat - Capital several times recently and the directors of Little League urge that all people interested in organized baseball look up these facts, attend the games and cheer the young ball players on as the season continues.

The sponsors and directors of Little League are certain that not only will this program provide a healthful and profitable vacation for the youth of Sedalia, but for their parents and ball fans as well.

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — Only a tiny fraction of the thousands of Little Leaguers — there's now one circuit for every 90,000 population in the country—will have the dream come true of playing in the Williamport, Pa., World Series.

But merely having a goal is a help, even though the vast majority will find it unattainable.

This trip more than 7000 teams will wage battle throughout the continent for the eight spots in the nation at Williamsport, Aug. 26-30.

2: Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

5: North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. Kentucky and Tennessee are expected to be put in this group, too.

8: Arizona, California, Utah, Nevada, Wyoming, Montana, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii.

Arthur Daley, the author, recalls the time the Houston team had to travel to Tennessee for the regional championships against Milan, a breath - taking trip for all.

"To Mexico City," was one startling answer.

Latest survey finds Pennsylvania still leading the LLB movement in number of leagues with 300. New York is second, 175; New Jersey next, 141; Massachusetts, 130; and Texas fifth, 112.

Pennsylvania regionals are set for Williamsport, Aug. 12-16. The other seven regional champion-ships will be played one and two weeks before the Little League World Series.

Good Luck.

Monument Dedicated To President For Day

In the yard of the courthouse at Plattsburg, Mo., is a monument to the only man who served the United States as president for only one day — David Rice Atchison.

He served one day, as the presiding officer of the House of Resentatives, when the term of one president expired and the inaugural of the newly elected president, Zachary Taylor, was delayed a day because the time fell on Sunday.

Statue to J. B. Clark

Standing in front of the courthouse at Pike County, Mo., which is located at Bowling Green, is the statue of James Beauchamp Clark, who was a member of the house of representatives in the national Congress from 1893 until his death in 1921.

Clark was one of the most popular Missourians in Congress, where he served as speaker of the House for eight years and was a contender for the presidential nomination in 1912.

Chinese-American Importation Asked

SINGAPORE (AP) — Singapore Chinese leaders are annoyed at a suggestion by a British member of Parliament that Chinese-Americans should be imported into Malaya to help develop liaison between the Chinese masses and the administration.

Laborite John Rankin said in the House of Commons that much of the trouble in Malaya was the result of lack of contact between the Chinese and British officials.

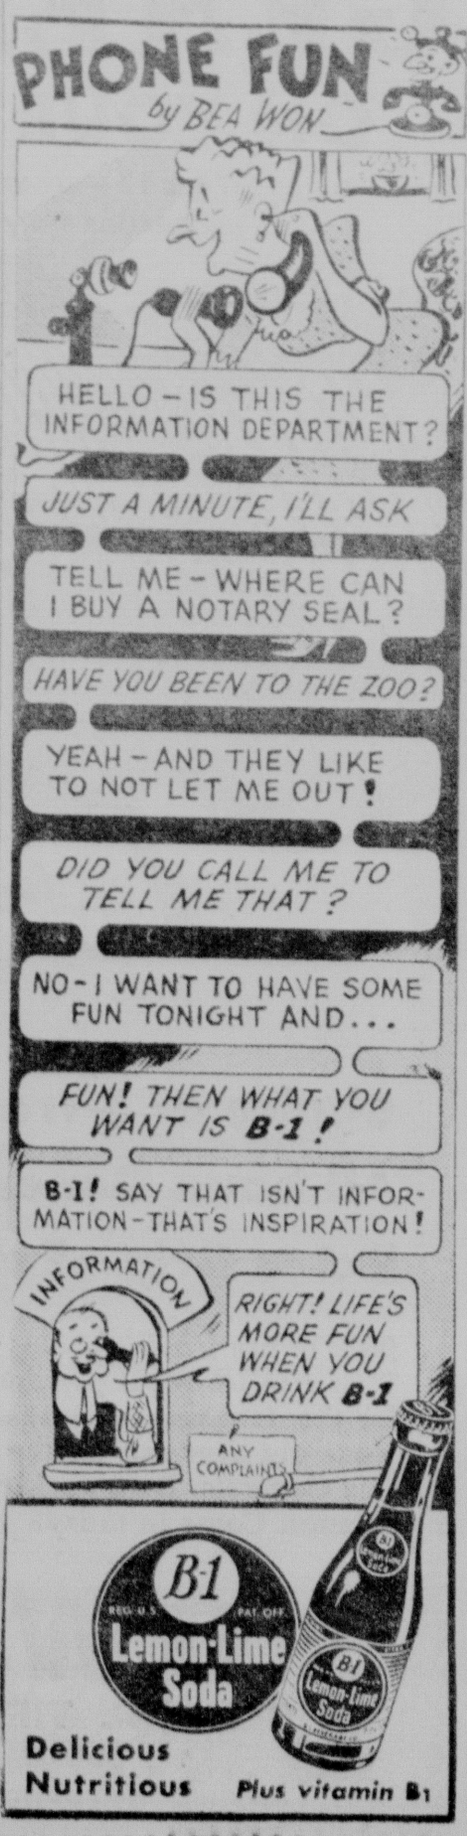

Wheat Test Developed

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — A test has been developed to see whether wheat is dry enough to combine or store, says John Curtis, marketing specialist for the North Carolina State College extension service.

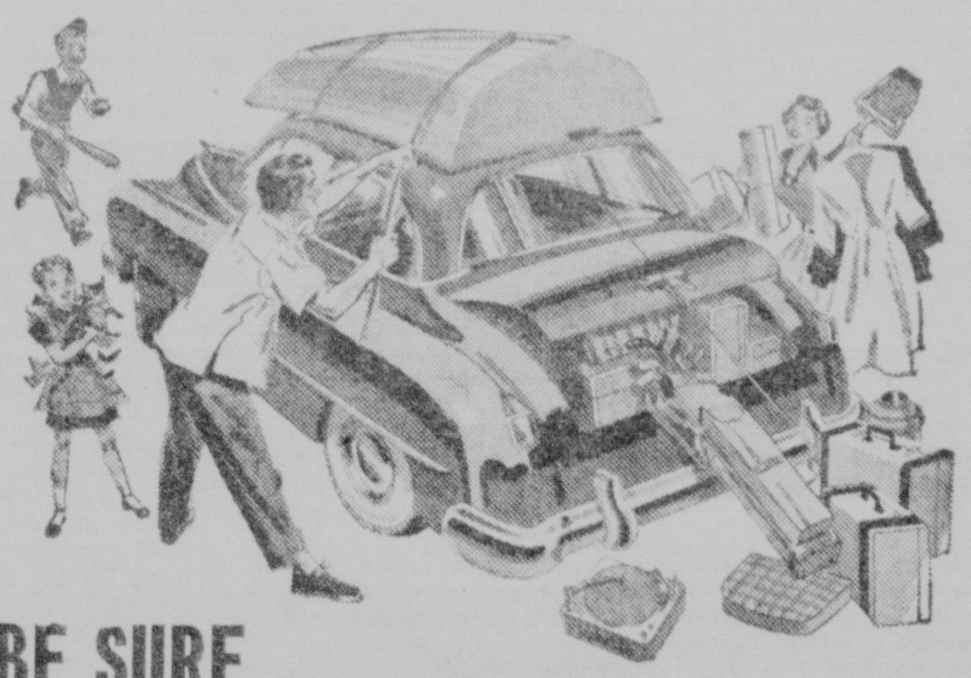

To make the test, place a smaple of the grain in a small glass bottle with some ammonium chloride, make the bottle airtight by closing securely, and shake the bottle 50 times. If the ammonium chloride becomes damp, the grain is too wet to store safely.

The cucumber is a favorite vegetable in desert countries because when eaten it quenches the thirst. Sweet vine products, such as the watermelon, have much less effect.

Birds Need Vitamins

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Birds have to have their vitamin A, too. This was made clear in a report on bobwhite quail by the wildlife manager of the big King Ranch in South Texas, V. W. Lehmann.

The quail died off mysteriously in wholesale lots on the ranch during the winter of 1950-51.

Lehmann said tests disclosed that lack of native food containing the indispensable vitamin A and severe cold weather that restricted the quail's feeding routine caused them to die.

More than one-half the hospital beds of the United States are occupied by mental patients.

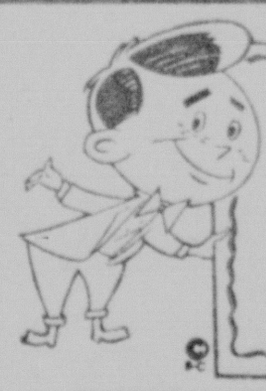

Germ War Protection

ALBANY (AP) — New York State is mobilizing animal, crop and insect experts under a civil defense program to protect food and livestock against possible germ warfare.

Measures have been taken to spot and stamp out animal and plant diseases that might result from enemy biological warfare attacks.

The program objectives include investigation and research, immediate surveying of newly reported outbreaks of plant or animal disease, and the development of special methods of detection.

Motels Are Ready to Lure 600 Million Motorists In '52

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — More U. S. motorists will spend more nights in more motel rooms this Summer than ever before.

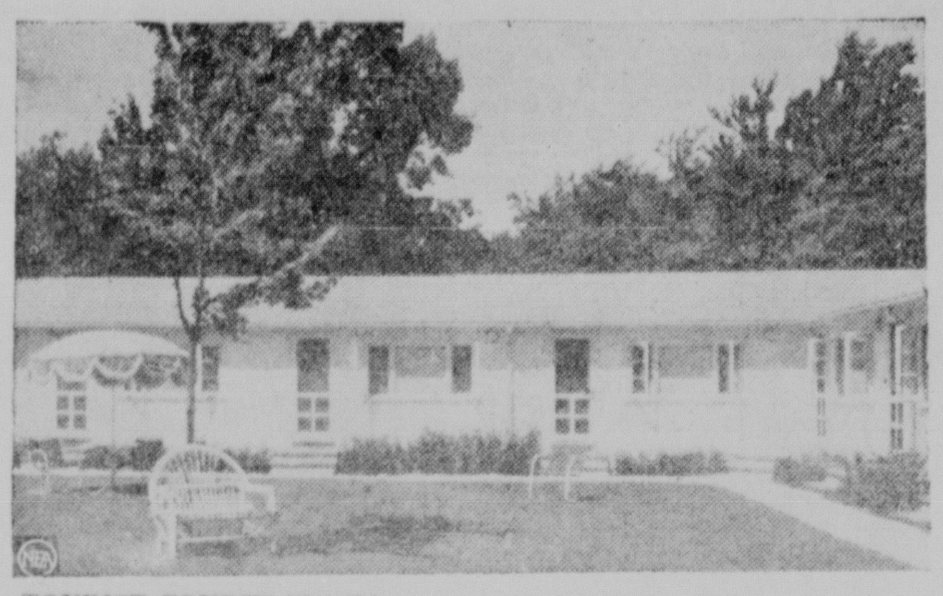

And they're going to enjoy their roadside rest and relaxation more than ever, too, according to the U. S. Rating Bureau.

In the past few years the country's highway haciendas have been getting plushier and plushier, putting the small town hotels in the flop - house category, by comparison.

This Summer American tourists will find more and more motels with swimming pools, restaurants and air conditioning as part of the overnight comforts. Practically all of them provide free ice for the thirsty guests. Many have adopted the practice of giving free coffee or tea in the morning, or even a continental breakfast which consists of a heated sweet roll, butter and coffee.

Approximately 45,000 tourist courts in the country will be open for business this Summer. California has the most with 7500.

The U. S. Rating Bureau which provides this good news for tourists has just been founded by Howard Bonham, a former hotel man and also a former national American Red Cross official. He got the idea for the organization traveling to and from so many disasters for the Red Cross. His bureau is a non-governmental enterprise.

TOURIST COURTS like this expect to lure 60 million motorists this Summer. This one is typical of the better-class motel. Many even have swimming pools and free breakfast coffee.

It's Bonham's plan to inspect motels around the country, rate them, and if they have a score of 80 or better, give them a giant blue and white flag. His other services include a poll of customers. Rating cards are left in each room.

He is going to limit his "Merit Award" to 50 motels this Summer, and 200 next Summer.

In the rating of motels first consideration is given to cleanliness. Next most important factor is safety. That includes such things as good locks, fireproof construction, safe heating facilities and those intangible factors which might make a motel perfectly safe for a single woman to stay in overnight, for instance.

In spite of the increased comforts and conveniences being built into motels, Bonham doesn't think that rates will be up much this Summer. Among the courts with his Bureau's blessing the average price per night is $4 to $5 single, and $5 to $7 double.

The most expensive motel room, he says, is the $28-per-night penthouse at the Western Hills in Fort Worth, Texas. Several people can stay in it and it has a kitchen and bar. That motel also has a swimming pool, golf course and fancy restaurant.

American Motel, the trade magazine, says tourist court owners all over the country have been preparing for the Summer boom all Winter. A recent survey revealed that 38 per cent of the motels had added 7.8 lodging units per motel. It also revealed that last year there were 565,000,000 motor court registrations and that the figure this year is expected to reach 600,000,00.

The estimate that a record number of tourists will be on the road this Summer is based on advance reservations at motels and resorts, an anticipated record number of visitors to the national parks, a general increase of the number of cars on the road and a continued high level of prosperity and employment in the country.

Butterfly Flights Traced

NEW YORK (AP) — Butterflies as well as birds are flying north this spring as usual, and scientists are going to do something about it.

The big orange and black butterflies known as Monarchs make regular north and south migrations. Natural History Magazine reports that many attempts have been made to trace their movements. Now experts at the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto have figured out how to mark them by punching a hole in one of their wings and affixing a tiny white label carrying an identification number and reading: "Return to the Museum of Toronto, Canada."

By noting the times and places where the labels are affixed, and the times and places from which returns are made, the scientists hope to learn much about the flights. The aid of amateur entomologists is being sought.

Students Find Jobs

CARBONDALE, ILL. (AP) — Four hundred of Southern Illinois University's 3,000 students found campus jobs this year. The average worked 71 hours a month for $40.

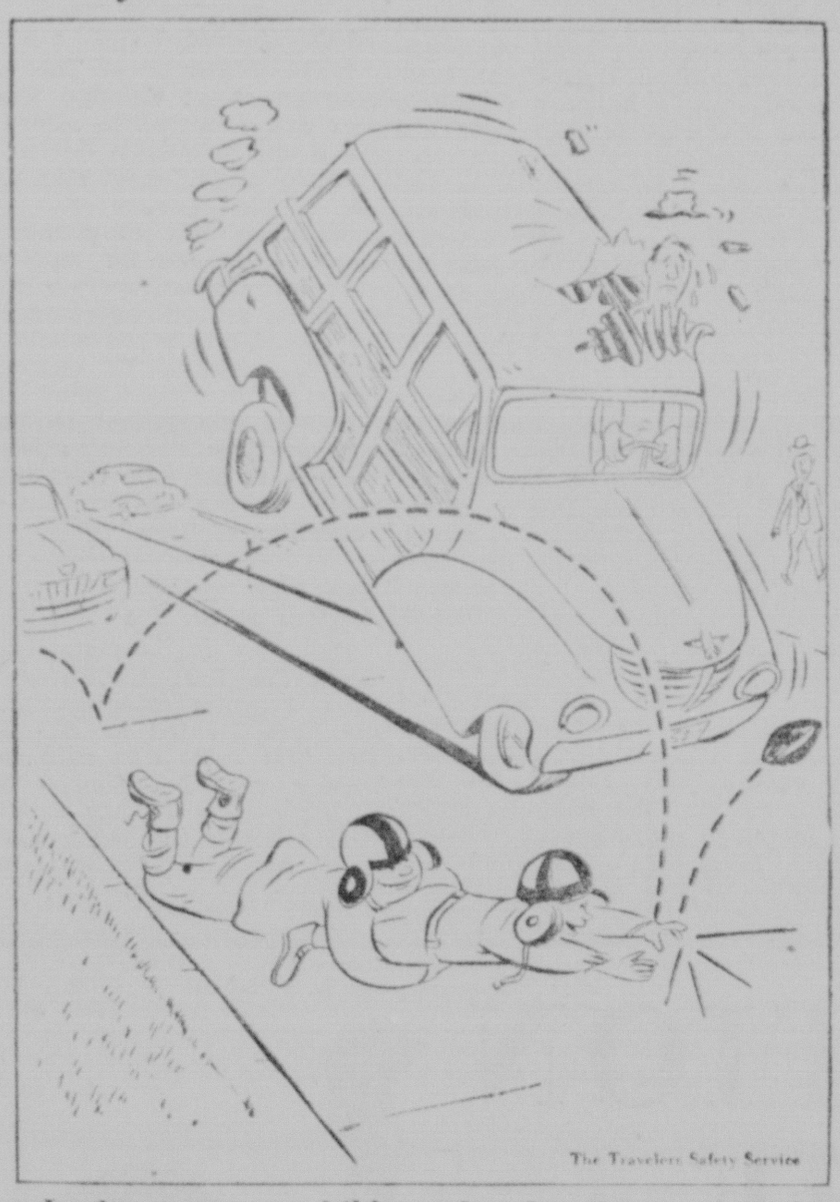

The 400 formed their own student wage study committee recently. The school granted a 5-cent hourly increase "to help offset the high cost of living."

Low Fares Bring Airborne Invasion Of Tourist Europe

By WALTER PARKES

NEW YORK—A made-in-America business principle seems to have hit the jackpot again. It's the old Henry Ford idea of uncovering a new mass market by taking less profit and selling more. This time it's the international airlines, with their new low-cost tourist fares to Europe.

Tourist service started May 1 and a quick look at initial current and future bookings indicates a pay-off on what a lot of people in the business thought was pretty much of a blue-sky gamble.

Inasmuch as Pan American World Airways pioneered the tourist idea against considerable opposition, it might be well to see whether they're entitled to say "We told you so" or will have to eat the few million words they spouted for three years to get their pet project across.

From the start of their "Rainbow" (tourist) service on May 1 through May 24, Pan Am operated 25 flights from New York to points n Europe, carrying 1952 passengers. All together the international airlines made 119 eastbound tourist flights in this period hauling 7181 passengersr.

Before the tourist service went into effect, five would get you 10 couldn't dig up 7181 people in 24 couldnt dig up 7181 people in 24 days with the time, money and inclination to fly the Atlantic without stealing them from the airilnes' first-class passenger lists. But there they are — and more coming all the time.

For June, Pan Am had 31 tourist flights scheduled, with 3840 of the 4080 available seats booked in advance. By June 1, 3596 of the 3840 seats on 448 July flights had been booked; so had 38 per cent of the 4240 seats for August.

It was simply a matter of tapping a mass market that had been there right along, waiting for someone to give it the nod.

Apparently, the airlines have found a new type of passenger. What's he like? Well, typically, he has a $5000-to-$6000-a-year income, has a two-week vacation, plans to visit at least three countries and spend less than $1000 on his entire trip.

Passenger lists show that if the passenger is a man he's most likely to be a skilled mechanic, such as a die-maker, a foreman or other straw-boss or a salesman or a small businessman.

Possibly an extreme case, but one that gives you an idea of the kind of people for whom low trans-Atlantic fares are opening new horizons is Carl Ziegler, 49, of Chicago, a passenger on the initial Rainbow flight. A window-washer, he was born in Berlin and made the trip to see his ailing mother and his brothers, whom he hadn't seen in 14 years.

If your tourist-rate passenger is a woman, she's apt to be a war bride, returning to her native country to show the old folks their new grandson or granddaughter — or both. With the closing of schools this month, flocks of school teachers have taken wing to Europe.

Typical among the GI brides who made the initial flight, for instance, was Mrs. John Wright, of Alton, Ill., wife of a printer on the Alton Telegraph, who took her son Terrence, two, with her. She hadn't seen her parents in England in five years.

In sharp contrast was the group of a dozen people from St. Louis, who were traveling together. All of German birth or background, they were middle-aged or older. They hadn't seen the old country for many years and, most of them said, would not have gone on this trip except for the chance of going economically by "tourist."

Shepherds of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henne. Mrs. Henne came to the U. S. in 1927 and hadn't seen her 77-year-old mother in Tuebingen, Germany, since then.

There were others, but these examples which could be duplicated on almost every planeload, are enough to indicate definitely that a new type of passenger will support the tourist rate plan.

Main objection of all U. S. and nearly all foreign international airlines to the plan was that it would kill the first-class trade. Just the opposite seems to be happening. on May 1, aPn Am's first-class bookings are up five per cent over last year.

Main attraction of the new service is, of course, the money it saves. For the first time, a person with an average income can afford to spend his two or three-week vacation in Europe. A round-costs $486 against $711 for first class. This is during "the season"—April through October. Out-of-season trips cost less.

The airlines do it by cutting out the expensive first-class frills and They cut out the cocktail lounge, the crew's "day room" up forward, reduced the baggage space—and put in more seats.

The specially - designed DC Super-6 Clippers on the Rainbow run can carry a maximum of 85 passengers against the 56 on first-class flights and the 44 carried on the de luxe sleeperette planes. Frills like free de luxe meals with champagne are out. You pay a nominal charge for the one or two meals you eat on the trip.

NEW TYPE OF PASSENGER flocking to Europe under new low-rate airline tourist fares are typified by Miss Katherine Knebel, 72, of Lemay, Mo., and Peter Dittrich, 3, of Affton, Mo., both bound for Germany to visit relatives.

EUROPE BOUND Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of New York climb aboard inaugural flight of Pan American's low-fare tourist service to Europe. They were among 87 passengers on flight.

LIKE TOURISTS for which new low-fare service was designed, Mr. and Mrs. Young look at Paris with the Eiffel Tower as background. Airlines carried 7181 tourists in first 24 days.

Walkie-Lookie TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The political conventions at Chicago this summer are expected to afford a job for a new television device. It's a "walkie-lookie," next step up from the walkie-talkie. 0

Weighing only 46 pounds it is compact enough for one man to carry around and operate, much as he would an ordinary camera. The pictures being taken would be fed into the regular TV channels for relay.

See Pony Express Stables at St. Joe

The pony express stables, from which the first California bound Pony Express mission started in 1860, are located in St. Joseph. The first mail was said to have been carried by Johnson William Richardson, a former sailor. The second trip to California was started on April 10, 1860 by Jonny Fry from the same stables.

Improvements Made At Elm Hills Course

Local Golf Club Is Open For Memberships

Among the many vacation facilities which Sedalia offers to the public is golf in almost any form. The Sedalia golf course, which is head-quarters of the Elm Hills Golf Club, is located about three miles south of the city limits on highway 65.

Here, under the management of Rex Preston, the club has established a 9-hole sand greens course with a driving range.

The driving range is open both day and night with a new set of lighting which has been recently installed.

The club has a yearly membership which is open to anyone in Sedalia. Plans have been made by Mr. Preston to start a Sedalia championship tournament which will be run off beginning the first day of July. Anyone who cares to participate in the contest may qualify any time until July 1.

The course is nine holes with a par of 36. Recently holes number four and eight have been changed and number four is now shorter than before while eight is longer. The total yardage of the fairway is now 6,470 for 18 holes and 3,235 for nine holes.

Located on the course is a club house where dinners and parties are held. Here, also, the golfers can purchase meals and soft drinks while playing. A 25 by 30 feet dance floor has also been added to the club house, where everyone is welcome.

The management of the course has expressed the desire for Sedalians to take advantage of the golf course and spend many hours of their vacation at Elm Hills.

A membership in the club is now open and anyone interested in joining may receive complete details by visiting the course or calling Rex Preston. The membership of the club is now 40.

Stopped Drinking—Now 116

ELBERTON, Ga. (AP) — Lucius Darby, born a slave, says he quit drinking corn liquor when he was only 70, "afore I got old."

That, he adds, is one reason he is still alive and healthy at 110—or 116. Other reasons are his liberal use of chewing tobacco and eating what he pleases.

Lucius was the slave of a doctor in Augusta, Ga., until the Civil War freed him. Until three years ago, Lucius planted and tended a watermelon patch each summer. Since then, he contents himself with chopping wood and tending the fires in the home of the people he lives with.

He thinks he is 116 but county welfare officials say he is only 110 or 111.

Robins Fight Reflections

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't be surprised if you see a robin fighting its own image in a window or hub cap, says the National Audubon Society.

They and other birds do it all the time during the nesting season under the impression they are driving away another of their own species.

Jr. Optimists Have Vacation Spot Nearby

The Junior Optimists are really fortunate in having their vacation grounds close to Sedalia. They received these grounds which are located five miles southwest of Smithton, about five years ago when Ed Schlobaum deeded several acres of land through which Flat Creek flows to the Sedalia Optimist Club for 30 years for one dollar.

With the creek sight the boys have facilities for swimming, fishing, frog giging and boating. Recently the Optimist started their regular summer program which includes about one trip a week to the cabin with an average of 30 boys on each trip.

When the land was turned over to the Optimists there was a two room house on it. Now with the help of the Junior Optimist of which there are about 70 a modern sleeping porch and kitchen has been added to accomodate about 30 boys.

On the sleeping porch there are 30 bunk style beds and just behind it is a roomy dining hall.

The kitchen has been furnished with a new electric range and a refrigerator where Jim Reed the cook for the group dished up hugh servings of pan cakes, and other meals which are his specialty.

The camp is used from the time school is out until early in September when it resumes again. The trips which the boys take are usually on weekends or overnight. The camp has water which is state approved and just about all the facilities which the boys could want.

The Optimists emphasize that the camp is not idle and the boys really enjoy the trips to the camp. They also made plain the fact the real vacation program has been lined up this summer to which the boys are looking forward.

Highway Dept. Repairs Park Equipment

Sayers Keeps Crew At State Fairgrounds For Roadside Parks

People on vacation from all over the United States are stopping at Missouri's beautiful and well equipped roadside parks to rest, prepare picnic lunches and to get a scenic view of Missouri.

These parks have from two to 12 tables and from two to five stone fire places with adequate waste disposers and well kept surroundings.

Few people realize the work and the care which is given to these parks by a crew of workers which operates from the Missouri State Fair grounds under the supervision of F. A. Sayers, senior maintenance engineer.

Mr. Sayers has been with the State Highway Department since 1919 and has lived part time in Sedalia, where he has been in charge of the Highway Gardens at the State Fair since 1928.

Besides keeping the highway exhibit in top form for fair week, Mr. Sayers keeps a staff which repairs the tables and equipment at roadside parks besides continually opening new ones.

While doing the other work, which takes a great deal of time, Mr. Sayers said that his staff was able to complete at least one new table per day. This, he said, with the difficulties involved in constructing the tables, is doing very well.

The tables in roadside parks are not constructed like ordinary tables. They are built of thick oak timber which has been well seasoned. The legs are built of 5 X 5 inch oak, the table top is constructed of 2 X 10 and 2 X 12 inch timber which has all been specially treated with a solution of penol pentachloride and a carbolic acid base. This solution turns the tables white after a time, but it preserves them from all kinds of weather. The tables are then branded to keep them from being stolen.

At the fair grounds, Mr. Sayers has a modern workshop set up to work on the lumber and build the tables. He said that for an idea of how much work it takes to put one table together, it requires 40 heavy duty bolts to construct one table.

New roadside parks are being constructed every day and so the local maintenance men are responsible for supplying tables for these parks.

One park in particular, which has just been completed, is the Mo-Ark Broadview Roadside Park located in Taney County, from where one can see over into Arkansas.

To keep the 60 roadside parks of the state supplied with tables and benches, Mr. Sayers has employed several college students to work during the vacation.

Mr. Sayers said that when choosing a site for a roadside park the following facilities must be considered: a place to build a driveway to get the cars off the highway, shade, view and the supply of firewood available.

Things that people should consider when visiting a roadside park, so that their stay will be more pleasant and so that they will leave the park ready for other visitors, are, according to Mr. Sayers: bring your own fire-wood when possible, put out the fire when you are through, place the debris in the disposal units, carry a hand-ax or hatchet and keep the park clean.

The state trys to discourage any defacing of the tables and facilities at the parks and asks that people do not remain in the parks overnight.

The parks in Missouri provide a very beautiful and handy location for vacations and the state requests that the people be proud of the parks and help take care of them.

U.S.-Syrian Trade Rises

DAMASCUS, (AP)—Syrian trade with the United States in 1951 in both export and import branches was triple the value in 1950, it was officially revealed.

Exports from Syria to the United States amounted to $26,278,985, with total imports of $23,730,510 in the year 1951. This compared with $8,738,550 exports and $6,972,850 imports in 1950.

BLUE STAR MEMORIAL ROADSIDE PARK, just west of Sedalia on Highway 50, is one of many such parks provided over the state for tourists. All of the materials, including the benches, are made at the State Highway Department's workshop on the Missouri State Fairgrounds.

Girl Scouts Plan Various Outings At Sakajawea

The girl scouts of the local district have planned a very complete and full schedule of camping and handicraft work for the summer. Their first camp begins June 16 at Camp Sakajawea, which is located just off the Green Ridge Road.

This camp, which will last until June 20, will be in charge of Mrs. Harry Lambirth. It will be a day camp and the girls will return to town at night.

At the camp the girls will live in tents. They will study nature, take hikes into the woods and follow a program of making leaf prints, learning first aid, signaling, cooking, tree identification, reptile identification and camp craft. This craft will include table lashing and fire building.

A second camp which will include the same program will start June 23 and will end June 27. Both will be for intermediate and senior girls.

The individual troops will have a summer program which will include: sketching, swimming, exploring, cooking and hiking.

The Brownies, which is a junior group of girls from seven to 10 years of age, will hold their summer camp at Liberty Park from June 16 until June 19 with Mrs. Sam Knapp, camp dirctor, in charge. These younger girls will study rocks, nature and will make leaf prints. They will also have an outdoor recreation period.

All summer long there will be individual camping trips by various troops at Camp Sakajawea for several day intervals.

The president of the local council is Mrs. Roger Fuller. She and Mrs. Mary Houston, the office secretary at the courthouse, can give any of the scouts or leaders full information on the camping schedules for the summer.

A part of the summer will be used by some of the troops in preparing their projects for the State Fair. These projects will include: arts and crafts, cooking, sewing, sketching and painting, camp gadgets and other craft work. The premium list will be published in the present scout bulletin.

Sedalians Vacation In Canada

John T. Martin Has Spent Several Trips At Lake of the Woods

Every summer several of the Sedalia businessmen leave for Canada and the lake region for several weeks of fishing and boating. The Canadian lakes, of which there are thousands, are teeming with all varieties of fish just waiting for fishermen and anglers.

One of the local businessmen who has vacationed in the lake regions of Canada since 1935, with the exception of the war years, is John T. Martin, of the Broadway Arms, a Sedalia attorney.

On his first trip in 1935, Mr. Martin, who usually travels with several brothers, visited the Lake of the Woods region which is located on the international boundary between Minnesota and Canada. Mr. Martin said that this was one of the foremost fishing grounds in North America.

The first time he visited at these lakes he went in by boat and fished out of Calvert's Camps. The principal fish that the group was after were bass of the wall eyed and muskie variety and lake trout. He added that the Great Northern Pike literally filled these waters.

In later years, while visiting the same lakes, a road was constructed from Nestor Falls to Konora along the northeastern side of the Lake of the Woods, where many camps were set up for vacationers. After the roads were built, the camps multiplied rapidly and soon the waters became crowded. So after seven years at this portion of the Lake of the Woods, Mr Martin decided to change his fishing grounds to Rainey Lake.

To get to this lake it was necessary for the fishing party to obtain an Indian guide and camping equipment for, as Mr. Martin said, this site was "off the beaten path."

The vacation trips usually last from two to three weeks during which time the men invariably get their limit.

During these trips several other Sedalians, including Dr. Thomas Bast and Ed Hausam, have accompanied Mr. Martin, who goes by car to St. Francis, Canada, where he boards a boat for the remainder of the journey.

This year will be no exception for Mr. Martin, who will leave June 28 for Lake Rainey and one of the most exciting types of vacations - a fishing trip to the Canadian lakes.

Monument Was Erected At Carrollton, Mo.

The only monument erected by the United States government in a private cemetery in the world is in Missouri. It marks the grave of Gen. James Shields in St. Mary's Catholic Cemetery at Carrollton, 60 miles north of Sedalia.

Shields, a United States Senator from four states, was a general in the Mexican War. He once offered to fight a duel with Abraham Lincoln.

High Cost of Convention Expense Tabs Sure to Build An Anti-Inflation Plank In Both Major Party Platforms

CHICAGO —(NEA)— Anti-inflation platform planks are bond to become major issues at both national political conventions as soon as the delegates find out what it's going to cost them to take part in this uniquely democratic function.

Prices for room, board, transportation, entertainment, liquor, cigars, aspirin and all the other bare convention necessities in the Windy City are at an all-time high.

The lone delegate who can spend the minimum six days in Chicago and not drop $200 can go home with a real sense of having been extraordinarily thrifty. There's no ceiling on the tab for the big spender. That's the private opinion of most convention officials who have been on the scene since January.

The lowest - priced single room on the official convention list is $4.50 a night. And that's not much in the way of accommodations. The average, not very elaborate single room at the Conrad Hilton, convention headquarters, is $8 a day. Average doubles are $12 to $18. And that's not plush, either.

You get a little more comfort in the $100-per-day Hilton suites. The Palmer House in the Loop is also letting its suites go at that price. For the convention bloke who wants something a little more fancy between sessions, there's the $17-a-day single room at the Drake Hotel.

Of course, if you really want to do it right, there are some fancy apartments along Sheridan Road which can be had for $1000 a week.

Chicagoans are noted for lusty appetites. And apparently they are willing to pay lusty prices to satisfy them. Because, whether you eat low or high on the hog here, you dig deep in your pocket. You've got to look hard for a decent $3 dinner in the most modest restaurant.

Five bucks for an evening meal at a fairly respectable restaurant is pretty close to average. Without skimping you might be able to get breakfast for $1.25 and lunch for $2.50. That's for the delegate with the mashed - potato-and - gravy taste.

So you want to give your palate a Chicago treat? Well, one of the closest good restaurants to the convention hall is a place called the Sirloin Room and owned by the stockyards. The cooks select the best cattle as they arrive, cut them into steaks and then age them while the managers spend a fortune advertising them.

A good sirloin at the Sirloin Room costs $6, not counting a cocktail, dessert and trimmings. To leave the Sirloin Room completely happy and satisfied will cost the delegate $10.00.

Or you might want to risk being scorched at Chicago's famed Pump Room, which features flaming foods at red hot prices. The manager used to say about the flaming dishes that they dazzled the customers and didn't really hurt the food very much.

The cheapest item on the Pump Room's menu is bread and butter for 25 cents. Flaming imported Fresh Beluga Caviar with Blini goes for $4.50 a plate. And that's without soup before, coffee later, or the fabulous tip the waiters expect. The split minute steak is $6, the filet $8.

Transportation is going to be another tough one for the delegates. Cab fare from downtown to the convention hall at 42nd and Halsted varies from $1.15 to $1.50, depending upon the navigational mood of the driver.

Convention officials are hoping to make some deal with a bus company to get the fare one way around half a dollar. But the bus streetcar or "L" trip will probab-take upwards of a half - hour. The taxi ride is between 15 and 20 minutes.

Cost of night life in Chicago is varied, at least. A shot of booze runs anywhere from 2-bits in the cheapest dives to a buck in the fancier saloons. Places with floor shows have either cover or minimum charges, or both, between $1.50 and $2.50. The rest of the check depends on your desire and capacity.

For the delegate who enjoys being bilked by various and novel methods, Chicago will prove a paradise. There are clip - joints, B-girl spots where the customer is conned into buying the hired gals tea and water at 90 cents an ounce and all kinds of sucker traps.

Absolutely every restaurant owner, night club manager, hotel proprietor and taxi driver you talk to throws up his hands in righteous indignation at the mere suggestion that present prices will be raised for the conventions.

BRING ON THE DELEGATES!—Highlights of some of the high cost of conventioning are depicted beow as Chicago gets ready for the 1952 political conclaves. Backgrounded by the massive Conrad Hilton Hotel, convention headquarters, are some of the Windy City's night-spots (inset, right) and a steak dispay from the Sirloin Room in the stockyards. Accompanying dispatch is the last of two on convention preparations.

Mothers Landscape School Ground

LEXINGTON, Ky., (AP)—Washing muddy school clothes got tiresome so the mothers of the Waterford Homemakers Club in Spencer decided to cure the source of the trouble.

They started a campaign to landscape the school grounds. The soil was tested and seed sown. The school board furnished fertilizer and built a turn-around for the bus to save the grass. They are going to finish the job by planting shrubs.

Kroencke's Concert Band Gives Concerts At Park

For the past eight years vacationers at Liberty Park have been entertained with band concerts on Thursday nights by H. H. Kroencke and his concert band.

This season the band will give 12 concerts of popular music and overtures, which are financed by the Music Performance Trust Fund and the Sedalia Park Board.

The band is usually comprised of 30 pieces. However, due to several of the members having left for armed service, this year there will be 26 pieces in the organization.

The members of the band, under the sections in which they play, are: clarinets, William J. Jockie, C. Meridith, J. R. Deming, R. E. Fullerton, Jack Isgur and N. L. Griswald; trumpets, H. H. Kroencke, also conductor, C. O. Eding, Kenneth Davis, Jack Faber, Kenneth Buhlig, John Booth and Carlyle Hume; altos, Charles Plumlee, W. B. Mountjoy and H. H. Boatman; trombone, Charles Walch, Kenneth Watts, Leo. E. Eichkoff Sr., Tom Adams and Fred W. Brink; baritone, L. H. Knox; basses, L. V. Kroencke, M. H. Siragusa, and drums, C. V. Cole and H. E. Schwenk.

The band has been practicing regularly to bring to the public these programs which are free of charge.

U.N. Palace In New York Becomes Tourist Attraction

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The shiny glass and marble U. N. palace at the east end of New York's 42nd Street has become a No. 1 tourist attraction.

The trouble is the U. N. is not yet ready to handle the crowds who want to take a fast gander at its new home.

There also are limitations because of space and operating requirements. You can't bring a lunch and eat it on the U. N. premises, nor can you eat in the secretariat cafeteria, which seats about 400 people and has to handle about 2,500 per day.

You can't come unless you are 14 years of age or over. No more than 10 high school students can come at one time. The top limit for visitors in the U. N. building at one time is 500 people.

The U. N. officials explain that they want the people to see their new home when it is completed and ready. Facilities for visitors are being installed in the General Assembly Building, where there will be public lounges, rest rooms, coat rooms and a central place for sightseers to meet. When that is ready the U. N. plans regular tours of the headquarters for a fee. This job will supervised by the American Association for the U.N.

Once the home is ready, the U. N. will have seats for 900 visitors in the General Assembly hall, 400 each in the three council rooms. When a hot case is running in the U. N., the ticket office under the direction of Daniel Walsh often is swamped. The best thing to do is call the ticket office the day before you want to come.

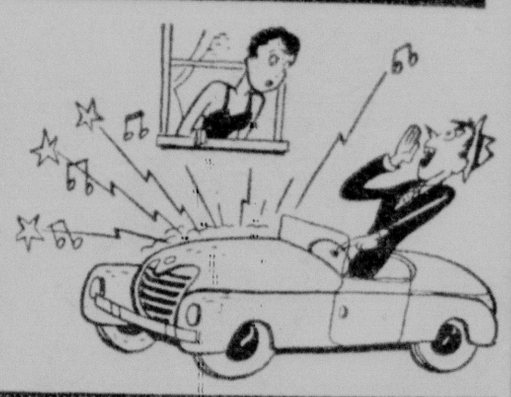

Miss Betty Hitchcock, a veteran at handling crowds, is unhappy that more people can't come into the building at present. She said she hopes eventually she can have a large committee room to use as a public briefing room.

A veteran crew handles inquiries at the information desk in the public lobby on the first floor of the 38-story Secretariat Building. Part of the equipment is a big wheel carrying 4,000 cards with the name, position, telephone number and room number of secretariat workers, delegates, officials and others.

One of the favorite questions asked is: can we go to the top floor and see the view? The answer always is visitors are not allowed above the fifth floor. It may be just as well. All you can see from the top floor is the highly industrialized section of Queens County on Long Island, across the East River. The Manhattan side from which you could see the companion skyscrapers, is taken up with private offices.

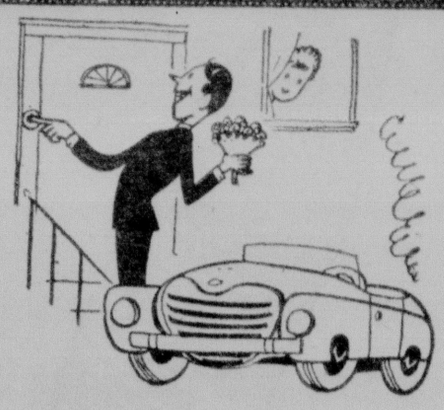

So, when you want to come to the U. N., call Walsh's office for

Many Golfers Compliment Local Course

Horton Smith Starts His Golfing Career At The Country Club

A wise man once observed that most people return from a vacation weary, sunburned and in far worse physical shape than when they departed. It is better he continued to stay at home and rest.

Now in our midst there is a happy group of people for whom nearly every day is a vacation, and the week-end is something really special. This strange clan, you see, can become sunburned and weary near home — they are golfers.

It is a mountainous task to explain why people play golf, but, if a person enjoys chasing a little white ball, the Sedalia Country Club is an excellent place to do it.

This last statement is supported by Leland "Duke" Gibson of Kansas City, one of the nation's top professionals. At the close of the 1949 Sedalia Invitational Tournament the "Duke" stated that the local course was, in his opinion, one of the best nine-hole layouts in the state, and had the best greens upon which he had played that season — from a man who hits most of the big tournaments this is a noteworthy compliment.

But pats-on-the-back are nothing new to the Sedalia course, for it has enjoyed a quiet sort of distinction since early in the century.

The club originally opened in 1905, and by 1911, when the present clubhouse was built, was a going proposition.

President William Howard Taft toured the local links in 1913 in the company of ov. Herbert Hadley and State Senator Charles E. Yeater of Sedalia. The President, incidently, was no dub, scoring in the low 40's for the nine holes.

In 1927 a new star rose on the golfing horizon, and the star first shone on Sedalia's course. This golf luminary, who is today recognized as one of the game's all-time greats, was Horton Smith.

The lanky putting master was the professional here when he entered his first tournament, the National Open held in Pittsburgh, Pa., and went to the tourney on money put-up by members of the Sedalia club.

Few men know any layout as well as Scotten knows his course. He holds the nine-hole record of 29, a mere seven-under par, and has rung up an amazing nine holes-in-one during his tenture here.

But the feat of which is he most proud he shares with two members.

In August of 1937, Scotten, C. Damon Hieronymus and Charles Patterson played 101 holes in one day—and Scotten was 28 under par when darkness fell.

The pro doesn't have a monopoly on holes-in-one. Each year the honor roll grows larger, but two members displayed an uncanny knack for hitting the cup on tee-shots. The late John McGrath holds a slim lead with five, followed by the late Ennis H. Courtney, who turned the trick four times. Incidently, the 118-yard number seven hole, known as "Little Dinky" is the favorite target.

While Scotten best knows the course from a playing standpoint, another man Herb Bopp, the Country Club greenskeeper, is best acquainted in a more intimate manner.

He started work on the course in 1919 and has been at it, winter and summer, ever since. He has battled drought, cloudbursts and insects to a standstill and today has the course in its best shape.

When Bopp took his job, (his father held it before him) cutting the fairways was a major problem. It took four days to make the rounds under ideal conditions, for a horse provided the power for the mowers. Today, of course, the tractor whittles the time, and Herb sees the job done more to his liking.

But the greens are his pets. Until 1949, when a renovation plan took shape, drainage of the greens was a nightmare. A hard clay base trapped the water and rotted the roots of the grass. This was solved with the purchase of a spiking machine which enabled Bopp to form a gravel and peat-moss green-base.

Herb also points with pride to the grass teeing-grounds which have been brought to their peak since 1949.

The man with the most impressive record in club tourney play is Emil Neef. He has won top honors no less than 11 times, and has been runner-up on eight occasions.

The current king is N. Gentry Patterson, who last year beat-out Bill Gibson. Others who have had their names engraved on the plaque since the war are Alan Tawse (a three-time winner), Herb Studer and Elmer Herrmann, who twice came out on top.

Yes, the Sedalia Country Club has an interesting history; it has grown with the game and has seen many changes, but one alteration stands-out in the minds of the older members above all — in the old days a caddie considered himself lucky when he was paid 25-cents for lugging the clubs 18 holes; today the player who doesn't pay 75-cents for nine holes is in danger of being called a cheapskate.

They are left to right: Miss Helen McFatrich, Mrs. Stella Welborn, Mrs. W. H. Bartlett, Mrs. Ed Bruns, Mrs. W. H. Bond, Miss Delores Setzkorn, Miss Maurine Parsons, Mrs. Charles Dilthy, Miss Polly Milburn and Miss Lois Gordon. On the trip, also, but not pictured, were Mrs. Bill Padgett and Miss Grace Farley.

One of the few remaining covered bridges in the state, many people traveling through Sedalia on vacations stop to view the structure. (Bottom) An inside view of the same bridge as it appears as you pass through it. The old bridge, which is all wood, was threatened by a flash flood last spring but it still stands and is in constant use. At various times the bridge has been used by daring divers who were cooling off in the creek below. Just south of the bridge is a picnic ground which is available to the public. Certainly the bridge and the creek offer a picturesque view for the picnicers.
